Essays by Ralph Waldo Emerson Ralph Waldo Emerson, 2015-06-09 Essays by Ralph Waldo Emerson Merrill's English Texts Selected and Edited with Introduction and notes by Edna H L Turpin author Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston May 25 1803 He was descended from a long line of New England ministers men of refinement and education As a school boy he was quiet and retiring reading a great deal but not paying much attention to his lessons He entered Harvard at the early age of fourteen but never attained a high rank there although he took a prize for an essay on Socrates and was made class poet after several others had declined Next to his reserve and the faultless propriety of his conduct his contemporaries at college seemed most impressed by the great maturity of his mind Emerson appears never to have been really a boy He was always serene and thoughtful impressing all who knew him with that spirituality which was his most distinguishing characteristic After graduating from college he taught school for a time and then entered the Harvard Divinity School under Dr Channing the great Unitarian preacher Although he was not strong enough to attend all the lectures of the divinity course the college authorities deemed the name Emerson sufficient passport to the ministry He was accordingly approbated to preach by the Middlesex Association of Ministers on October 10 1826 As a preacher Emerson was interesting though not particularly original His talent seems to have been in giving new meaning to the old truths of religion One of his hearers has said In looking back on his preaching I find he has impressed truths to which I always assented in such a manner as to make them appear new like a clearer revelation Although his sermons were always couched in scriptural language they were touched with the light of that genius which avoids the conventional and commonplace In his other pastoral duties Emerson was not quite so successful It is characteristic of his deep humanity and his dislike for all fuss and commonplace that he appeared to least advantage at a funeral A connoisseur in such matters an old sexton once remarked that on such occasions he did not appear at ease at all To tell the truth in my opinion that young man was not born to be a minister
