Environments of the Poor in Southeast Asia, East Asia and the Pacific Aris Ananta, 2014-11-11 This book provides examples of possible triple win solutions for simultaneously reducing poverty raising the quality of the environment and adapting to climate change The book provides empirical evidence and observations from sixteen case studies in Southeast and East Asia and from the Pacific It argues that a spatial approach focussing on the environments in which the poor and vulnerable live would trigger changes for development policies and implementation that better balance environmental and social concerns In line with the post 2015 Millennium Development Goals MDG and Sustainable Development Goals SDG agenda emphasizing integrated development approaches for the slum poor the upland poor the dryland poor the coastal poor and the flood affected wetland poor would also bring the environment and poverty agenda closer The book emerged from a cooperation of the Asian Development Bank ADB with the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies ISEAS in partnership with experts from research institutes and think tanks in the Asian region

The Coupling of Climate and Economic Dynamics Alain Haurie, Laurent Viguier, 2005-07-05 This book reviews the different approaches used to model the dynamic interactions between climate and economies and proposes new avenues of research Its fourteen chapters deal with various aspects of the building of integrated assessment models either by coupling economic growth and climate change modules or using mathematical models of viability or dynamic game theory to represent the interactions between the world regions concerned

Global Environment Review, 2001      Climate Change 2014: Mitigation of Climate Change Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, 2015-01-26 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students researchers and policy makers in environmental science meteorology climatology biology ecology atmospheric chemistry and environmental policy

Climate Change 2014: Mitigation of Climate Change Ottmar Edenhofer, 2015-01-26 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the IPCC will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences      Climate Change Mitigation Jimmy Alexander Faria Albanese, M. Pilar Ruiz, 2015-07-28 This title includes a number of Open Access chapters Climate change is a significant threat to humanity's future Culturally politically economically and personally however we are all deeply embedded in a system that continues to send us on a collision course that leads directly toward this threat At this point climate change is inevitable

Combating Climate Change National Assessment of UK Forestry and Climate Change Steering Group, 2009 This assessment presents a science based analysis of the current and potential capabilities of the UK's forests and forest products to contribute to the mitigation of climate change It shows unequivocally that 1 a significant contribution to mitigation could be made by maintaining and increasing the rates at which CO<sub>2</sub> is removed from the atmosphere by the UK's forests the abatement of emissions 2 there are other major contributions that forests and trees can make for example in urban environments and 3 that there are areas where substantial research is required to assess and reduce impacts and to develop the contribution of UK forestry to the mitigation of and adaptation to climate change The report follows the IPCC convention of identifying key findings at the start of each chapter Authors have also identified research priorities at the end of their respective chapters and these proposals require serious and urgent consideration Gaps in understanding are identified and in some instances there is a clear requirement for more scientific evidence in order that uncertainties in the projected impacts of climate change can be reduced The driver in the new research programmes will be the need to enhance the contribution that UK trees and woodlands can make to a low carbon economy It is the expressed intention of the report to provide the detailed evidence required to achieve sustainable forest management under what will be complex and changing climatic circumstances
