Thomas L. Martin, 2025-08-18 Literature's probative force travels across the realm of sense in this world to what lies beyond it When we speak of what is beyond our grasp in this world we think most immediately of the world of the spirit Shakespeare famously celebrates literature's power to explore the forms of things unknown How many great works of literature guide us through a familiar world to the edge of the spiritual unknown Not only Shakespeare but Dante Milton Dostoevsky Hopkins Eliot O'Connor and many others in these pages carry us there This book follows their quest Literary apologetics is the study of the characteristic moves by the authors who take readers on their journey of faith with them Most notably that tradition begins with Latin authors spreads across Europe in a continuous literary culture and extends over world literature to the present day While early apologetics is proclamation rhetoric philosophy and poetry above all it is witness to the faith manifesting itself in time The early faith community produces a distinct literary culture as Christian witness takes all these forms and more From then until now this kind of literature probes ultimate questions adumbrates numinous experience and extrapolates ethical outcomes of Christian teachings across a wide variety of literary forms The Handbook of Literary Apologetics provides an authoritative introduction to the scope of this tradition and its major figures The Art of New Creation Jeremy Begbie, Daniel Train, W. David O. Taylor, 2022-03-29 Creation and the new creation are inextricably bound for the God who created the world is the same God who promises a new heaven and a new earth Bringing together theologians biblical scholars and artists this volume based on the DITA10 conference at Duke Divinity School explores how the relation between creation and the new creation is informed by and reflected in the arts The Victorians and English Dialect Matthew Townend, 2024-06-24 The Victorians and English Dialect tells the story of the Victorians' discovery of English dialect and of the revaluation of local language that was brought about by the new historical philology of the nineteenth century Regional dialects came to be seen not as corrupt or pernicious but rather as venerable and precious The book examines the work of the ground-breaking collectors of the 1840s and 1850s who first alerted their contemporaries to the importance of local dialect and also to the perils that threatened it with extinction It traces the connection between dialect and literature in the flourishing of dialect poetry and the foregrounding of regional voices in Victorian fiction It explains how the antiquity of regional dialects cast light on the national past the Celts Anglo Saxons and Vikings and how dialect study was also at the heart of the discovery of local folklore and oral culture old words old customs old beliefs And it tells the story of the three great monuments of Victorian dialect study that marked the apogee of regional philology the 80 publications of the English Dialect Society 1873-96 an organization run by a committee of journalists and local historians in Manchester the nationwide survey of The Existing Phonology of English Dialects 1889 which listened in on local speech in market squares and third class railway carriages and the multi-volume English Dialect Dictionary 1898-1905 which collected

all the previous labours together and made an enduring record of Victorian dialect Cartographies of Culture Damian Walford Davies, 2012-06-15 Cartographies of Culture New Geographies of Welsh Writing in English offers a pioneering new examination of the links between maps and imaginative writing Concerned to draw literary studies and geography into a fruitful dialogue the book offers a genuinely interdisciplinary study of literary texts in relation to the spatialities of culture Taking the anglophone literature of Wales as its main data field the book offers a boldly imaginative and stringently theorised analysis of five literary maps What emerges is nothing less than a new way of reading literature through and as maps
