YouTube War: Fighting in a World of Cameras in Every Cell Phone and Photoshop on Every Computer Cori E. Dauber, 2020-12-08 In YouTube War: Fighting in a World of Cameras in Every Cell Phone and Photoshop on Every Computer Cori E. Dauber explores the intricate dynamics of contemporary warfare in the digital age. The book delves into how modern conflicts are shaped by the omnipresence of technology, emphasizing the role of social media, especially YouTube, in the dissemination of information and misinformation. Dauber employs a critical lens to analyze the visual culture of warfare, merging compelling narratives with academic rigor while situating her work within the broader discourse on media and conflict. Her incisive examination raises pertinent questions about representation, power, and the impact of images on public perception of war. Cori E. Dauber, a prominent scholar with expertise in communication and security studies, draws upon her extensive background in strategic communication to unpack the implications of digital technologies on military operations and public understanding. Her research acknowledges the rapidly evolving landscape of journalism and propaganda, informed by her own experiences in analyzing media roles in conflict scenarios. Through her academic insights, Dauber elucidates the intersection of media technology and warfare, revealing the complexities of modern combat. This book is essential reading for scholars, military professionals, and anyone seeking to understand the profound transformations in how wars are fought and perceived today. Dauber's compelling arguments not only illuminate the connections between technology and warfare but also challenge readers to think critically about the implications of living in a world where cameras and editing software can shape the reality of conflict, making it indispensable for future discussions on media ethics in times of war. Soldiers, 2000

Bloomberg Markets, 2004-07 Flypast, 2006 YouTube War Cori Elizabeth Dauber, 2009 Terrorist attacks today are often media events in a second sense: information and communication technologies have developed to such a point that these groups can film, edit, and upload their own attacks within minutes of staging them, whether the Western media are present or not. In this radically new information environment, the enemy no longer depends on traditional media. This is the YouTube War. This monograph methodically lays out the nature of this new environment in terms of its implications for a war against media-savvy insurgents and then considers possible courses of action for the Army and the U.S. military as they seek to respond to an enemy that has proven enormously adaptive to this new environment and the new type of warfare it enables.
