Working Mother, 2002-10 The magazine that helps career moms balance their personal and professional lives

We Live for the We Dani McClain, 2019-04-02 A warm wise and urgent guide to parenting in uncertain times from a longtime reporter on race reproductive health and politics In We Live for the We first time mother Dani McClain sets out to understand how to raise her daughter in what she as a black woman knows to be an unjust even hostile society Black women are more likely to die during pregnancy or birth than any other race black mothers must stand before television cameras telling the world that their slain children were human beings What then is the best way to keep fear at bay and raise a child so she lives with dignity and joy McClain spoke with mothers on the frontlines of movements for social political and cultural change who are grappling with the same questions Following a child's development from infancy to the teenage years We Live for the We touches on everything from the importance of creativity to building a mutually supportive community to navigating one's relationship with power and authority It is an essential handbook to help us imagine the society we build for the next generation

Mothering While Black Dawn Marie Dow, 2019-03-05 Mothering While Black examines the complex lives of the African American middle class in particular black mothers and the strategies they use to raise their children to maintain class status while simultaneously defining and protecting their children's authentically black identities Sociologist Dawn Marie Dow shows how the frameworks typically used to research middle class families focus on white mothers experiences inadequately capturing the experiences of African American middle and upper middle class mothers These limitations become apparent when Dow considers how these mothers apply different parenting strategies for black boys and for black girls and how they navigate different expectations about breadwinning and childrearing from the African American community At the intersection of race ethnicity gender work family and culture Mothering While Black sheds light on the exclusion of African American middle class mothers from the dominant cultural experience of middle class motherhood In doing so it reveals the painful truth of the decisions that black mothers must make to ensure the safety well being and future prospects of their children

Different and Wonderful Darlene Powell Hopson, Derek S. Hopson, 1991 Explores the sometimes tough sometimes unspoken questions that face the black middle class family today and provides the tools to raise your children healthfully and well without sacrificing family values or ethnic pride

At Mama's Knee April Ryan, 2017 At Mama's Knee looks at race and race relations through the lessons that mothers transmit to their children Through the stories of mothers from Hillary Clinton to Sybrina Fulton we are reminded that attitudes change from one generation to the next and one child at a time

Raising Biracial Children Kerry Rockquemore, Tracey A. Laszloffy, 2005 As the multiracial population in the United States continues to rise new models for our understanding of mixed race children and how their conception of racial identity must be developed A wide divide between academics who research biracial identity and the everyday world of parents and practitioners who raise and deal with mixed race children exists This book aims to fill this gap

by providing an extensive synthesis of the existing research in the field as well as a model for better understanding the unique process of racial identity development for mixed race children Raising Biracial Children provides parents educators social workers and anyone interested in multiracial issues with an accessible framework for understanding healthy mixed race identity development and to translate those findings into practical care giving strategies

Bringing Up Race Uju Asika, 2020-09-24 You can't avoid it because it's everywhere In the looks my kids get in certain spaces the manner in which some people speak to them the stuff that goes over their heads Stuff that makes them cry even when they don't know why How do you bring up your kids to be kind and happy when there is so much out there trying to break them down Bringing Up Race is an important book for all families whatever their race or ethnicity Racism cuts across all sectors of society even the Queen will have to grapple with these issues as great grandmother to a child of mixed ethnicity It's for everyone who wants to instil a sense of open minded inclusivity in their kids and those who want to discuss difference instead of shying away from tough questions Uju draws on often shocking personal stories of prejudice along with opinions of experts influencers and fellow parents to give prescriptive advice making this an invaluable guide Bringing Up Race explores When children start noticing ethnic differences hint much earlier than you think What to do if your child says something racist try not to freak out How to have open honest age appropriate conversations about race How children and parents can handle racial bullying How to recognise and challenge everyday racism aka microaggressions A call to arms for ALL parents Bringing Up Race starts the conversation which will mean the next generation have zero tolerance to racial prejudice and grow up understanding what kindness and happiness truly mean Uju Asika has written a necessary book for our times She throws up huge questions and responds to them intelligently and with heart This isn't just a book for talking to children whatever race or colour they are about racism and all the other intersecting isms that divide us it is a book for everyone dedicated to creating a better kinder world This crucial book should be required reading Chika Unigwe author of On Black Sisters Street winner of the Nigeria Prize for Literature in 2012 the Bonderman professor for Creative Writing at Brown University and judge of the Man Booker International Prize in 2017 This book could not be more timely With so many scrabbling around for resources to help navigate our racialized times Asika draws upon her own experience as a Black Nigerian mother of two boys to offer parents teachers carers educators these stories for survival As Asika notes race can no longer be ignored her own journey is instructive for all from running the popular Babes About Town blogging on the immersive cultural education available for her kids in London and beyond to now deliberately and necessarily making the explicit connections to raising happy Black boys in a prejudiced world Written with engaging wit candour and verve and containing heart breaking and heart warming anecdotes Bringing Up Race is a needed call to action for all concerned with a future free from racial prejudice Sai Murray writer poet graphic artist creative director at Liquorice Fish and trustee of The Racial Justice Network
