Physical and Medical Conditions Associated with Autism

Martina Micai, Mila Vulchanova, Valentina Riva, David Saldaña, 2024-07-02 Some specific physical and medical conditions are well recognized to be more common in autistic individuals compared to the general population e.g. sleep wake disorders epilepsy sensory impairments However the prevalence and the impact on autistic individuals and their families of other physical and medical conditions such as cardiovascular conditions cancer musculoskeletal conditions food intolerance allergies autoimmune problems diabetes and neurocutaneous disorders have yet to be established The presence of such co-occurring conditions affects the success of treatment and worsens the quality of life of autistic individuals and their carers Importantly the awareness of the presence of specific physical and medical conditions associated with autism allows for targeted interventions and better outcomes

Rethinking Disability Patrick Devlieger, Beatriz Miranda-Galarza, Steven E. Brown, Megan Strickfaden, 2016-06-15 The act of life is a lived experience common and unique that ties each of us to every other lived experience The fact of disability does not alter this fundamental truth In this edition of Rethinking Disability World Perspectives in Culture and Society we are presented with a system of thinking that considers the values of disability as a resource as a creative source of culture that moves disability out of the realm of victimized people and insurmountable barriers and provides opportunities to use the experience of disability to enter into networks that recognize strengths of differing abilities The authors within will intrigue you will move you will charm you but always will challenge your notion of sameness and difference as they confront the construct and de construct of disability and ableism They present compelling arguments for viewing disABILITY through the multiple lenses of disability culture They explore themes and issues that transcend past and origins time and place nuances of genetics to experiences of present and becoming and towards the future and beyond mere human yet always intrinsically connected to being human This book is intended for all audiences who dare to confront difference and sameness within themselves and in connection with others to inspire researchers who wish to explore and examine disability across social cultural and economic barriers It is an invitation to push away the barriers bring ableism inside to a place where the prosthesis is no longer the elephant in the room Rethinking

Normalcy Rod Michalko, Tanya Titchkosky, 2009 Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Arthur Shapiro,

Carew, Nora Ellen Groce, 2024-11-15 Inaccessible Access ethnographically addresses barriers to inclusion within knowledge making It focuses on the social environmental communicative and epistemological barriers that people with disabilities confront and embody throughout the course of their learning and living and in the specific context of their higher education institutions and in research It is presented by a neurodiverse disabled and non cis cohort of authors all of whom acknowledge a continuum of in access that is available to each contributor contingent on their inherent intersectionalities and alterities The authors and editors of this book foreground the work that has yet to be done on recognizing the value of nonnormative ways of approaching being in and knowing research and higher education particularly in cases where disability centered epistemologies are sidelined in confrontation with institutional norms even within existing discourses concerning equality and alterity
