

The book cover features a dramatic, painterly illustration of a desert planet. In the upper half, a large, bright yellow sun or moon hangs in a hazy, orange sky. A dark, winged creature or flying machine is silhouetted against the sky in the upper left. Below the sun, a dark, jagged cliff face rises from the desert floor. The lower half of the cover shows a vast, arid landscape with a winding path. In the bottom left, a large, complex structure resembling a space station or a massive industrial facility is built into the desert floor, with smoke or dust rising from it. In the bottom right, a mechanical device with large wheels and a long arm, possibly a rover or a piece of machinery, is visible. The overall tone is one of mystery and adventure in a sci-fi setting.
