Reading the Architecture of the Underprivileged Classes Nnamdi Elleh, 2016-04-01 The expansion of cities in the late C19th and middle part of the C20th in the developing and the emerging economies of the world has one major urban corollary it caused the proliferation of unplanned parts of the cities that are identified by a plethora of terminologies such as bidonville favela ghetto informal settlements and shantytown Often the dwellings in such settlements are described as shacks architecture of necessity and architecture of everyday experience in the modern and the contemporary metropolis This volume argues that the types of structures and settlements built by people who do not have access to architectural services in many cities in the developing parts of the world evolved simultaneously with the types of buildings that are celebrated in architecture textbooks as modernism It not only shows how architects can learn from traditional or vernacular dwellings in order to create habitations for the people of low income groups in public housing scenarios but also demonstrates how the architecture of the economically underprivileged classes goes beyond culturally inspired tectonic interpretations of vernacular traditions by architects for high profile clients Moreover the essays explore how the resourceful dwellings of the underprivileged inhabitants of the great cities in developing parts of the world pioneered certain concepts of modernism and contemporary design practices such as sustainable and de constructivist design Using projects from Africa Asia South and Central America as well as Austria and the USA this volume interrogates and brings to the attention of academics students and practitioners of architecture the deliberate disqualification of the modern architecture produced by the urban poor in different parts of the world

Design Ecologies Lisa Tilder, Beth Blotstein, 2012-03-20 Contemporary architects are under increasing pressure to offer a sustainable future But with all the focus on green building there has been little investigation into the meaningful connections between architectural design ecological systems and environmentalism A new generation of architects landscape architects designers and engineers aims to recalibrate what humans do in the world according to how the world works as a biophysical system Design in this sense is a larger concept having to do as much with politics and ethics as with aesthetics and technology This recasting of the green movement for the twenty first century transforms design into a positive agent balancing societal values with environmental needs Design Ecologies is a ground breaking collection of never before published essays and case studies by today s most innovative designers and critics Their design strategies social material and biological run the gamut from the intuitive to the highly technological One essay likens window unit air conditioners in New York City to weeds in order to spearhead the development of potential design solutions Latz Partner s Landscape Park integrates vegetation and industry in an urban park built amongst the monumental ruins of a former steelworks in Duisburg Nord Germany The engineering firm Arup presents its thirty three square mile masterplan for Dongtan Eco City an energy independent city that China hopes will house half a million people by 2050 An essay by designer Bruce Mau leads off a stellar list of emerging designers including Jane Amidon Blaine Brownell David Gissen Gross Max Robert Sumrell and Kazys Varnelis Stephen Kieran and James Timberlake R Sie n Studio 804 and WORKac

Ideas + Buildings Carl Knutson, Ron Stelmarkski, 2008 Perkins Will a global architecture and design practice releases the first volume in a series of publications showcasing the talent of its teams and scope of their projects Ideas Buildings defines the essential characteristics of innovation and excellence that make Perkins Will unique among architecture firms worldwide The Ideas Buildings series will includes essays on design theory white papers on programmatic and technological innovation client business issues and the environment and ideas that relate directly to the practice and its work as well as broader social and cultural issues Ideas Buildings Collective Process Global Social and Sustainable Design includes 12 unique projects along with anecdotal information about the firm and its history providing insight into the firm who they are and what they do The book demonstrates the progress and energy of Perkins Will as the firm advances towards its 75th anniversary Low Carbon Cities Steffen Lehmann, 2014-09-15 Low Carbon Cities is a book for practitioners students and scholars in architecture urban planning and design It features essays on ecologically sustainable cities by leading exponents of urban sustainability case studies of the new directions low carbon cities might take and investigations of how we can mitigate urban heat stress in our cities microclimates The book explores the underlying dimensions of how existing cities can be transformed into low carbon urban systems and describes the design of low carbon cities in theory and practice It considers the connections between low carbon cities and sustainable design social and individual values public space housing affordability public transport and urban microclimates Given the rapid urbanisation underway globally and the need for all our cities to operate more sustainably we need to think about how spatial planning and design can help transform urban systems to create low carbon cities and this book provides key insights The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces Organized into three parts this book begins with foundational concerns such as place identity materiality and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia virtuality and social justice Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading Drawing on a wide range of scholarship The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition Accessible to students useful to professionals and provocative for scholars The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life Design and the Social Imagination Matthew DelSesto, 2022-09-22 How can social theory help us all design solutions to address the social political and ecological challenges that confront us and build more sustainable communities Design professions have typically been associated with intervention and action while social science has long been associated with thought and reflection Design and social thought are too frequently considered distinct in terms of how theories can be applied in practice Design and the Social Imagination brings together the creative action oriented sensibility of design with the reflective analytical capacities of the social sciences to offer models ideas and strategies for shaping the future of the world we live in In a world of global economic inequality racism and environmental degradation designing with an understanding of our social reality is increasingly crucial to our survival Matthew DelSesto explores current practices and discourses in areas of urban design design for social innovation environmental design co design service design and more illustrating how thoughtful design can contribute in a more productive way Drawing on a range of theory and practice from radical social thinkers C Wright Mills Patrick Geddes Jane Addams and W E B Du Bois his book shows us how design and the social sciences can interact in order to intervene in the crises we face today The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement Farhan Karim, 2018-05-11 Socially engaged architecture is a broad and emerging architectural genre that promises to redefine architecture from a market driven profession to a mix of social business altruism and activism that intends to eradicate poverty resolve social exclusion and construct an egalitarian global society The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement offers a critical enquiry of socially engaged architecture's current context characterized by socio economic inequity climate change war increasing global poverty microfinance the evolving notion of professionalism the changing conception of public and finally the growing academic interest in re-visioning the social role of architecture Organized around case studies from the United States Brazil Venezuela the United Kingdom South Africa Rwanda Burkina Faso Nigeria Nepal Pakistan Iran Thailand Germany Australia Taiwan and Japan the book documents the most important recent developments in the field By examining diverse working methods and philosophies of socially engaged architecture the handbook shows how socially engaged architecture is entangled in the global politics of poverty reconstruction of the public sphere changing role of the state charity and neoliberal urbanism The book presents debates around the issue of whether architecture actually empowers the participants and alleviates socio economic exclusion or if it instead indirectly sustains an exploitive capitalism Bringing together a range of theories and case studies this companion offers a platform to facilitate future lines of inquiry in education research and practice Adaptive Architecture Wolfgang F. E. Preiser, Andrea E. Hardy, Jacob J. Wilhelm, 2017-09-01 The constant in architecture's evolution is change Adaptive Architecture explores structures or environments that accommodate multiple functions at the same time sequentially or at periodically recurring events It demonstrates how changing technological economic ecological and social conditions have altered the playing field for architecture from the design of single purpose structures to the design of interacting systems of synergistically interdependent distributed buildings Including contributors from the US UK Japan Australia Germany and South Africa the essays are woven into a five part framework which provides a broad and unique treatment of this important and timely issue Engineering and Sustainable Community Development Juan Lucena, Jen Schneider, Jon A. Leydens, 2022-06-01 This book Engineering and Sustainable Community Development presents an overview of engineering as it relates to humanitarian engineering service learning engineering or engineering for community development often called sustainable community development SCD The topics covered include a history of engineers and development the problems of using industry based practices when designing for communities how engineers can prepare to work with communities and listening in community development It also includes two case studies one of engineers developing a windmill for a community in India and a second of an engineer mapping communities in Honduras to empower people to use water effectively and student perspectives and experiences on one curricular model dealing with community development Table of Contents Introduction Engineers and Development From Empires to Sustainable Development Why Design for Industry Will Not Work as Design for Community Engineering with Community Listening to Community ESCD Case Study 1 Sika Dhari s Windmill ESCD Case Study 2 Building Organizations and Mapping Communities in Honduras Students Perspectives on ESCD A Course Model Beyond Engineers and Community A Path Forward      Transformative Pedagogy in Architecture and Urbanism Ashraf M.
