China's Economy Arthur R. Kroeber, 2016-03-01 China's Economy What Everyone Needs to Know is a concise introduction to the most astonishing economic growth story of the last three decades In the 1980s China was an impoverished backwater struggling to escape the political turmoil and economic mismanagement of the Mao era Today it is the world's second biggest economy the largest manufacturing and trading nation the consumer of half the world's steel and coal the biggest source of international tourists and one of the most influential investors in developing countries from southeast Asia to Africa to Latin America China's growth has lifted 700 million people out of poverty It has also created a monumental environmental mess with smog blanketed cities and carbon emissions that are a leading cause of climate change Multinational companies make billions of dollars in profits in China each year but traders around the world shudder at every gyrations of the country's unruly stock markets Most surprising of all its capitalist economy is governed by an authoritarian Communist Party that shows no sign of loosening its grip How did China grow so fast for so long Can it keep growing and still solve its problems of environmental damage fast rising debt and rampant corruption How long can its vibrant economy co exist with the repressive one party state What do China's changes mean for the rest of the world China's Economy What Everyone Needs to Know answers these questions in straightforward language that you don't need to be an economist to understand but with a wealth of detail drawn from academic research interviews with dozens of company executives and policy makers and a quarter century of personal experience Whether you're doing business in China negotiating with its government officials or a student trying to navigate the complexities of this fascinating and diverse country this is the one book that will tell you everything you need to know about how China works where it came from and where it's going

The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia Richard F. Doner, Gregory W. Noble, John Ravenhill, 2021-04-21

East Asia is a powerhouse of automobile production Yet across the region national automobile industries have had strikingly different patterns of development Despite starting from equally low levels of performance and initially similar strategies countries have experienced vastly different results From Thailand's success as an assembly hub for foreign automakers and China's unexpected achievements in building its own car industry to South Korea's impressive development of an integrated industry to the Philippines persistent weakness these divergent paths offer a fascinating window into the determinants of economic growth The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia provides a political explanation for why development strategies and performance have been so uneven within one of the world's most important regions Utilizing interviews and original language research from multiple nations this book explains that factors such as market size and neoclassical economic policies alone cannot explain these patterns of development Richard F Doner Gregory W Noble and John Ravenhill instead highlight the significance of two sets of factors countries very different capabilities for implementing policies and the political forces that help to explain the emergence of effective institutions Through cross national analyses of China Taiwan South Korea Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines and Thailand the book sets up a clear structure for understanding industrial development and how it enables or constrains the capabilities of domestic firms Brief comparisons with Brazil Mexico and other developing countries confirm the utility of the analytic framework and demonstrate how it is superior both to accounts in mainstream economics and much of political science which fail to give sufficient emphasis to the role of public and public private institutions or provide an explanation of the political bases of those institutions In a world where auto assemblers and suppliers are facing new challenges in an ever evolving industry such as the transition to electric and autonomous vehicles this book offers a crucial perspective on the centrality of institutional capacities and political economy By tracing the divergent trajectories of seven nations The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia offers lessons beyond the automobile industry that illustrate the broader importance of institutions to economic growth
