Education/Technology/Power Hank Bromley, Michael W. Apple, 1998-01-01 With a focus on educational computing this book examines how technological practices align with or subvert existing forms of dominance Examines the important question Is the enormous financial investment school districts are making in computing technology a good idea Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Carl Whithaus, 2005-04-27 Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High Stakes Testing offers a theoretical framework case studies and methods for evaluating student writing By examining issues in writing assessment the book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the US Education/Technology/Power

Michael W. Apple, Hank Bromley, 1998-07-10 With a focus on educational computing this book examines how technological practices align with or subvert existing forms of dominance Examines the important question Is the enormous financial investment school districts are making in computing technology a good idea Making and Moving Knowledge John Sutton Lutz, Barbara Neis, 2008-07-09 It has been clear for some time that research does not automatically translate into knowledge nor does knowledge necessarily translate into wisdom Whether the immediate challenge is global warming epidemic disease poverty environmental degradation or social fragmentation research efforts are wasted if we cannot devise efficient and understandable processes to create and transfer knowledge to policy makers interested groups and communities How to maximize the impact of scholarly research and combine it with practical knowledge already available in lay communities are key issues in a world threatened with social ecological disasters Making and Moving Knowledge focuses directly on how knowledge is created and transferred or is blocked and atrophies It places knowledge generated by universities and governments beside practical knowledge from coastal aboriginal and non aboriginal communities and looks at how different kinds of knowledge flow in different directions Concentrating on intellectually fertile spaces at the edges of disciplines and the rich socio ecological interfaces where land meets sea authors demonstrate their commitment to knowledge transfer in their work showing how knowledge transfer can be considered theoretically methodologically and practically Educational Knowledge Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2000-01-06 An examination of educational reform and change throughout the world focusing on how issues of power and governance within states affect school practice and policy making

Increasing Access to College William G. Tierney, Linda Serra Hagedorn, 2012-02-01 At a time when college enrollment rates for low income and under represented students are far below those of non minority students policies and practices designed to increase access should be a priority for colleges universities high schools and community agencies Increasing Access to College examines pre college enrichment programs that offer a specific and immediate remedy The Quest for Equity in Higher Education Beverly Lindsay, Manuel J. M. Shaw, James R. Valadez, Robert A. Rhoads, 1999-09-02 Questions whether and how community colleges confront the challenges of diversity and provide real opportunities for upward mobility Faculty Work in Schools of Education William G. Tierney, 2001-01-01 A full bodied robust discussion of issues of concern to faculty in schools of education The Racial Crisis in American Higher Education William A. Smith, Philip G. Altbach, Kofi Lomotey, 2012-02-01 Why is it that as we enter the twenty first century the nation s predominantly white colleges and universities continue to be settings where people of color feel unwelcome and marginalized The contributors to this volume dissect a variety of structural and attitudinal factors that are prevalent in the higher education community organizational constructs and value orientations which seem to hark more to the past than to the future They comment on the political social and economic factors that have shaped academic culture and buttressed its quietly efficient maintenance of racially discriminatory practices The American system of higher education is often regarded as the best in the world Smith Altbach and Lomotey have edited a volume that implicitly asks how much better still it could be if it embraced people of color and provided them with a supportive and nurturing environment one which encouraged them to reach their fullest creative and intellectual potential Indeed this will probably be the most significant challenge that the academy faces in the twenty first century William B Harvey Vice President and Director Office of Minorities in Higher Education American Council on Education Washington D C Grass Roots and Glass Ceilings William Bernard Harvey, 1999-01-01 African American university and college presidents vice presidents and deans offer firsthand reflections on their encounters with racism in higher education and the strategies they use to overcome obstacles they face Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1998-04 Engendering Technology Hank Bromley, 1995 Computers in Education Robert Muffoletto, Nancy Nelson Knupfer, 1993 This text discusses the social political and economic implications of computers and related technologies on schools teacher education and educational reform It considers the philosophical and historical concerns and situates the discussion in practice Computer-Based Education in the Social Studies Lee Ehman, Allen D. Glenn, 1987 Computers have not revolutionized social studies curricula because so few teachers use them But research does indicate that computers are flexible instructional tools that can assist in the development of attitudes intellectual motivation and inquiry skills Social studies educators need to consider expanded computer use in their classrooms because computers assist in the preparation of students for effective participation in society Teachers must understand how technology affects instruction learning and classroom environments along with the types of effective instructional strategies that can be used to achieve specific goals Educators should acquire the knowledge and experience needed to use computers by reviewing research relating to computer use in teaching and to instructional strategies Information on research concerning the impact of computers on students how computers change the way teachers work computers effect on the training process and computers influence on the social studies curriculum is included Necessary teacher competencies and appropriate instructional uses are explored through an analysis of teacher utility
