Privatization and Privilege in Education (RLE Edu L) Geoffrey Walford,2012-05-16 Can privilege be bought Arguments have raged over whether private education in the UK is the cement in the wall dividing British society or whether parental choice is as has also been argued a key component of a free society The author here describes the traditional private sector schools paying attention to the ways in which parents can purchase privilege for their children through attendance at such schools He argues that the privatized system is kept under tight control if a growth in social and educational inequality and a deepening of social class and ethnic group division is to be avoided The book is unique in combining an account of private schools in Britain with an examination of the process of privatization

High-Stakes Schooling Christopher Bjork,2016 Drawing on Japan s experiences with testing overtesting and recent reforms to relax educational pressures Christopher Bjork sheds light on the best path forward for US schools He asks a variety of questions related to testing and reform and each draws direct parallels to issues that the schools currently face

Education, Inequality And Social Identity Lawrence B. Angus,2005-07-28 The ethnographic studies in this volume explore issues and approaches in the study of education and inequality The authors identify that access to status knowledge and power in society and in particular in schools varies by virtue of individuals social and cultural identities The process of changing this system and resistance to change are examined in this collection in an attempt to find a course of action for those who are victims of inequality or who seek to combat inequality

Development in South Africa Ali A. Abdi, 2001-10-30 With the fall of apartheid in South Africa expectations were high for the enfranchisement of the acutely underdeveloped majority in South Africa But problems abound and this educational study looks critically at the educational situation and puts forth a number of proposals that could produce better results in contemporary South Africa Abdi urges that beyond the celebratory platforms of the political triumph over apartheid there must be effective and culturally inclusive programs of education for the development of the highly disenfranchised majority in South Africa Deliberate programs of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa resulted in inferior education cultural marginalization political oppression economic exploitation and resulting underdevelopment in the lives of the disenfranchised majority In addition to historical and contemporary analysis this study looks at the possibilities of formulating and implementing new programs of education and development that could effectively deal with such current problems as chronic unemployment skyrocketing crime rates stagnating learning systems and the continuing formations of a huge underclass that may be losing its stake in the promised post apartheid project Teachers, Teaching and Control in Physical Education John Evans, 2013-10-28 First published in 1988 It is now well over fifty years since the publication in Britain of the Board of Education's 1933 Syllabus of Physical Training for Schools It is still a remarkable document not only for the amount of detail it provides on the teaching of PE but also for the status and position it accorded Physical Education then called Training in the elementary school curriculum The contributors to this reader together begin to provide descriptive and illustrative insights into the lives of teachers on the contemporary educational scene into the problems and the possibilities which many face when trying to realize their hopes and ambitions for themselves and their children Education and Training 14-19 Rob Halsall, Michael Cockett, 2014-04-08 This is a review of the chaotic provision that exists in the UK regarding education and training for courses for the 14-19 age group The authors set current provision in an historical context and then examine inconsistencies and paradoxes in recent policy directions Tackling Disaffection and Social

Practitioner Research In The Primary School Rosemary Webb, 2013-10-28
First Published in 1990
Central to the vision of teachers researching their own practice was the belief that the improvement of teaching and learning in schools could best be achieved through the development of the critical and creative powers of individual teachers
The research studies in this book which reflect and extend that vision serve as accounts of the learning experiences of a group of practitioner researchers
The book has two closely interrelated purposes
The first is to provide information and ideas on the areas of the formal and hidden curriculum into which the practitioners enquired
The second purpose is to provide methodological ideas and assistance for those already engaged in practitioner research and to motivate others to seek an opportunity to undertake some form of research based enquiry
The two purposes are closely interrelated because of the value the contributors ascribe to taking a research stance to teaching
