Edward Gibbon Bicentenary Essays Studies On Voltaire The Eighteenth Century:

History and Nature in the Enlightenment Nathaniel Wolloch, 2016-04-22 The mastery of nature was viewed by eighteenth century historians as an important measure of the progress of civilization Modern scholarship has hitherto taken insufficient notice of this important idea This book discusses the topic in connection with the mainstream religious political and philosophical elements of Enlightenment culture It considers works by Edward Gibbon Voltaire Herder Vico Raynal Hume Adam Smith William Robertson and a wide range of lesser and better known figures It also discusses many classical medieval and early modern sources which influenced Enlightenment historiography as well as eighteenth century attitudes toward nature in general The Case for The Enlightenment John Robertson, 2005-10-27 An interesting and ambitious comparative study of the emergence of Enlightenment in Scotland and Naples Challenging the tendency to fragment the Enlightenment in eighteenth century Europe into multiple Enlightenments John Robertson demonstrates the extent to which thinkers in two societies at the opposite ends of Europe shared common intellectual preoccupations

Gibbon's Christianity Hugh Liebert, 2022-03-08 There has never been much doubt about the faith of the infidel historian Edward Gibbon But for all of Gibbon's skepticism regarding Christianity's central doctrines the author of The History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire did not merely seek to oppose Christianity he confronted it as a philosophical and historical puzzle Gibbon's Christianity tallies the results and conditions of that confrontation Using rich correspondence private journals early works and memoirs that were never completed Hugh Liebert provides intimate access to Gibbon's life in order to better understand his complex relationship with religion Approaching the Decline and Fall from the context surrounding its conception Liebert shows how Gibbon adapted explanations of the Roman republic's rise to account for a new spiritual republic and subsequently the rise of modern Europe Taken together Liebert's analysis of this context including the nuance of Gibbon's relationship to Christianity and his readings of Gibbon's better and lesser known texts suggest a historian more eager to comprehend Christianity's worldly power than to sneer at or dismiss it Eminently readable and wholly accessible to anyone interested in or familiar with the Decline and Fall this groundbreaking reassessment of Gibbon's most famous work will appeal especially to scholars of eighteenth century studies

Orientalism in Louis XIV's France Nicholas Dew, 2009-07-02 Before the Enlightenment and before the imperialism of the later eighteenth century how did European readers find out about the varied cultures of Asia Orientalism in Louis XIV's France presents a history of Oriental studies in seventeenth century France mapping the place within the intellectual culture of the period that was given to studies of Arabic Persian Turkish and Chinese texts as well as writings on Mughal India The Orientalist writers studied here produced books that would become sources used throughout the eighteenth century Nicholas Dew places these scholars in their own context as members of the republic of letters in the age of the scientific revolution and the early Enlightenment

Enlightenment Geography R. Mayhew, 2000-08-30 Enlightenment Geography is the first detailed study of the politics of

British geography books and of related forms of geographical knowledge in the period from 1650 to 1850 The definition and role of geography in a humanist structure of knowledge are examined and shown to tie it to political discourse Geographical works are shown to have developed Whig and Tory defences of the English church and state consonant with the conservatism of the English Enlightenment These politicizations were questioned by those indebted to the Scottish Enlightenment Enlightenment Geography questions broad assumptions about British intellectual history through a revisionist history of geography Storia della storiografia ,2001 Love, Self-Deceit and Money Koen Stapelbroek,2008-04-05 Love drives and gives life to the commerce of mankind Thus the sixteen year old Ferdinando Galiani 1728 1787 presented his project to understand the sociable nature of man This observation a reflection of his own position on the relation between trade and virtue hinted at what the mature works of Galiani one of the most noteworthy economists and wits in eighteenth century Italy would eventually yield In Love Self Deceit and Money Koen Stapelbroek reconstructs the Early Neapolitan Enlightenment debate on the morality of market societies a debate that hinged on the preservation of Naples independent statehood in a global arena of commercial and military competition Galiani rejected the moralizing and mercantile ideas of his contemporaries regarding the dangers threatening Naples and in his Della moneta 1751 he justified the systems set in place by the Neapolitan government With reference to early previously unstudied lectures on self deceptive Platonic love Koen Stapelbroek examines Galiani s role in the wider debate arguing that his early moral philosophical and historical work suggests a great deal about his political economic stance including his assertion that money is the ultimate ordering principle in the universe As a study of one of the most idiosyncratic minds of the Enlightenment period Love Self Deceit and Money shows how diverse ideas of the development of individual passions into social dispositions commerce and reform politics dovetailed seamlessly in the intellectual climate of eighteenth century Europe Macaulay and the Enlightenment Nathaniel Wolloch,2022 A new intellectual biography of Thomas Babington Macaulay showing how nineteenth century British liberal culture retained and transformed the ideas of the Enlightenment in a rapidly changing world Macaulay and the Enlightenment sheds new light on both familiar and unfamiliar aspects of the life and ideas of this most famous of nineteenth century British historians Thomas Babington Macaulay 1800 1859 was a prominent representative of mainstream British liberalism in the first half of the nineteenth century He was also a Member of Parliament and government minister and famously spent several years as a member of the governing council in India where he promoted legal and educational reforms One of the book s key contributions is the investigation of Enlightenment influences on the more well known aspects of Macaulay s thought history politics social and economic issues religion revolution and colonialism The book also offers new revelations about Macaulay s attitude towards women and provides insight into his views on art nature and animals In this study Macaulay emerges as a more subversive at times even radical figure than previously assumed The book thus emphasizes the transformation of Enlightenment ideas into early nineteenth century liberalism Publisher description

Writing Ancient History Luke Pitcher, 2010-01-30 History is the version of past events that people have decided to agree upon said Napoleon Yet the actual writing of history especially ancient history is a practice that often prompts more discord than assent In his new textbook Luke Pitcher aims to overcome the hostility which exists between two rival camps in their study of classical historiography The first camp looks at the classical historians with an eye to what data they can provide about the ancient world The second camp examines the ancient writers as literary texts in their own right employing the tools of literary criticism and engaging with such matters as narrative artistry Attempting to fuse these two mutually suspicious approaches Luke Pitcher's attractive introduction offers undergraduate students of classics the first comprehensive introduction to historiography in antiquity on the market It unites the nitty gritty of the historian's trade the finding and managing of data to an awareness of the importance of style form allusion and composition The book also seeks to do justice to individual classical historians and discusses such important figures as Livy Tacitus Herodotus Cicero Plutarch and Lucian A comprehensive bibliography and glossary are included Writing Ancient History at last does full justice to the mechanics of history writing in the ancient world

Reconstructing Contexts Robert D. Hume, 1999 This book attempts to justify and theorize old historicism defining archaeo historicism as a method by which scholars can reconstruct past context in order to apply it to the interpretation of works and events of that time If such reconstruction is to be more than wildly impressionistic it must be grounded in hard evidence handled according to clear rules In this intriguing and rigorous analysis Robert Hume identifies legitimate objects for reconstruction and proposes procedures and principles by which such interpretation may be pursued He then examines the failures of the same method which works only when adequate evidence can be found In particular Hume flatly denies the intellectual legitimacy of literary history as it is commonly practised and attempts to disentangle such history from the practice of historicism The final chapter is devoted to a cogent discussion of how archaeo historicism relates to various forms of contemporary theory Hume offers a profusion of examples of good and bad historicist reconstruction and interpretation drawing largely on English literature but also on American and other world literatures theatre history and music theory Although addressed primarily to literary critics this wide ranging and bold work will be of interest to historians and cultural critics as well

Gibbon and the 'Watchmen of the Holy City' David Womersley, 2002 The subject of this book is the story of the conflict between Gibbon and those he mockingly dubbed the Watchmen of the Holy City and it explores the ramifications of an elusive aspect of authorship By considering the sequence of interactions between the historian and his readership Womersley makes possible a more intimate understanding of what might be called Gibbon's experience of himself At the same time he deepens our knowledge of the conditions of English authorship during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries

Charting the Past Jeremy Black, 2018-10-12 Eighteenth century England was a place of enlightenment and revolution new ideas abounded in science politics transportation commerce religion and the arts But even as England propelled itself into the future it was preoccupied with notions of its past Jeremy Black considers the interaction of history with knowledge and culture in eighteenth century England and shows how this engagement with the past influenced English historical writing The past was used as a tool to illustrate the contemporary religious social and political debates that shaped the revolutionary advances of the era Black reveals this present centered historical writing to be so valued and influential in the eighteenth century that its importance is greatly underappreciated in current considerations of the period In his customarily vivid and sweeping approach Black takes readers from print shop to church pew courtroom to painter s studio to show how historical writing influenced the era which in turn gave birth to the modern world The Quotable Voltaire Voltaire,François-Marie Arouet (Voltaire)

(1694-1778),2021-06-18 This unique illustrated volume collects over 800 examples of Voltaire s wit and wisdom on topics from adultery to Zoroaster in both English and French Along with a scholarly essay on Voltaire s life and legacy it also features more than 400 quotes about Voltaire by everyone from Catherine the Great to Mike Tyson Geography, Science and National Identity Charles W. J. Withers,2001-10-04 Charles Withers book brings together work on the history of geography and the history of science with extensive archival analysis to explore how geographical knowledge has been used to shape an understanding of the nation Using Scotland as an exemplar the author places geographical knowledge in its wider intellectual context to afford insights into perspectives of empire national identity and the geographies of science In so doing he advances a new area of geographical enquiry the historical geography of geographical knowledge and demonstrates how and why different forms of geographical knowledge have been used in the past to constitute national identity and where those forms were constructed and received The book will make an important contribution to the study of nationhood and empire and will therefore interest historians as well as students of historical geography and historians of science It is theoretically engaging empirically rich and beautifully illustrated Barbarism and Religion John Greville Agard

Pocock,2015 Sixth and final volume in an acclaimed series situating Edward Gibbon in a series of contexts in eighteenth century European history Barbarism and Religion: Volume 6, Barbarism: Triumph in the West J. G. A. Pocock,2015-05-12 This sixth and final volume in John Pocock s acclaimed sequence of works on Barbarism and Religion examines Volumes II and III of Edward Gibbon s Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire carrying Gibbon s narrative to the end of empire in the west It makes two general assertions first that this is in reality a mosaic of narratives written on diverse premises and never fully synthesized with one another and second that these chapters assert a progress of both barbarism and religion from east to west leaving much history behind as they do so The magnitude of Barbarism and Religion is already apparent Barbarism Triumph in the West represents the culmination of a remarkable attempt to discover and present what Gibbon was saying what he meant by it and why he said it in the ways that he did as well as an unparalleled contribution to the historiography of Enlightened Europe Geography and Enlightenment David N. Livingstone,Charles W. J. Withers,1999-12-15 Geography and Enlightenment explores both the Enlightenment as a geographical phenomenon and the place of geography in the

Enlightenment From wide ranging disciplinary and topical perspectives contributors consider the many ways in which the world of the long eighteenth century was brought to view and shaped through map and text exploration and argument within and across spatial and intellectual borders The first set of chapters charts the intellectual and geographical contexts in which Enlightenment ideas began to form including both the sites in which knowledge was created and discussed and the different means used to investigate the globe Detailed explorations of maps created during this period show how these new ways of representing the world and its peoples influenced conceptions of the nature and progress of human societies while studies of the travels of people and ideas reveal the influence of far flung places on Enlightenment science and scientific credibility The final set of chapters emphasizes the role of particular local contexts in Enlightenment thought Contributors are Michael T Bravo Paul Carter Denis Cosgrove Stephen Daniels Matthew Edney Anne Marie Claire Godlewska Peter Gould Michael Heffernan David N Livingstone Dorinda Outram Chris Philo Roy Porter Nicolaas Rupke Susanne Seymour Charles Watkins and Charles W J Withers

Edward Gibbon and the Shape of History Charlotte Roberts, 2014-07-17 Edward Gibbon s presentation of character in both the History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire and in his posthumously published Memoirs demonstrates a prevailing interest in the values of transcendent heroism and individual liberty but also an insistent awareness of the dangers these values pose to coherence and narrative order In this study Charlotte Roberts demonstrates how these dynamics also inform the character of the Decline and Fall in which ironic difference confronts enervating uniformity oddity counters specious lucidity and revision combats repetition Edward Gibbon and the Shape of History explores the Decline and Fall as a work of scholarship and of literature tracing both its expansive outline and its expressive details A close examination of each of the three instalments of Gibbon s history reveals an intimate relationship between the style of Gibbon s narrative and the overall shape of his historiographical composition The constant interplay between style and substance or between the particular details of composition and the larger patterns of argument and narrative informs every aspect of Gibbon s work from his reception of established and innovative historiographical conventions to the expression of his narrative voice Through a combination of close reading and larger literary and scholarly analysis Charlotte Roberts conveys a sense of the Decline and Fall as a work more complex and conflicted in its tone and structure than has been appreciated by previous scholars without losing sight of the grand contours of Gibbon s superlative achievement

History and the Enlightenment Hugh Trevor-Roper, John Robertson, 2010-06-29 The historical philosophy of the Enlightenment The Scottish Enlightenment Pietro Giannone and Great Britain Dimitrie Cantemir s Ottoman history and its reception in England From deism to history Conyers Middleton David Hume historian The idea of the decline and fall of the Roman Empire Gibbon and the publication of the Decline and fall of the Roman Empire 1776 1796 Gibbon s last project The romantic movement and the study of history Lord Macaulay the history of England Thomas Carlyle s historical philosophy Jacob Burckhardt
