Egerton Ryerson (Classic Reprint) Nathanael Burwash, 2015-07-08

Excerpt from Egerton Ryerson This book does not profess to be either a minute biography or a detailed history It is the presentation to our countrymen of the various aspects of the work of a great man who has left his impress upon several of the important institutions of our province and in each case for good In these sketches we have made no attempt except in the first brief chapter to trace the record either of his personal or public life or the development of his character or the lessons which might be gathered from the example of his life We have rather considered his work as one of the makers of Canada and necessarily with that something of the great movements of the days in which he lived The subject is a noble one and we must acknowledge that we have done it but scant justice The volume is the product of joint labour with my life long friend and colleague Dr A H Reynar About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Evangelical Mind Marguerite Van Die, 1989-08-01 By discussing the nature and practices of late nineteenth century Methodism Van Die focuses attention on the theological assumptions which allowed serious young Methodists to accept the critical thought of the period while retaining the basic tenets of their evangelical religion She emphasizes that the position taken by Burwash and his students allowed religion to remain a vital component of early twentieth century Canadian society during a time historians have generally viewed as an era of religious decline

The Missionary Lives Terrence L. Craig, 1997 The Missionary Lives is the first comprehensive literary examination of the biographies and autobiographies of Canadian missionaries at home and abroad
