Community Based Collaboration Bridging Socio Ecological Research And Practice:

Community-based Collaboration E. Franklin Dukes, Karen Firehock, Juliana Birkhoff, 2011 The debate over the value of community based environmental collaboration is one that dominates current discussions of the management of public lands and other resources In Community Based Collaboration Bridging Socio Ecological Research and Practice the volume's contributors offer an in depth interdisciplinary exploration of what attracts people to this collaborative mode The authors address the new institutional roles adopted by community based collaborators and their interaction with existing governance institutions in order to achieve more holistic solutions to complex environmental challenges Contributors Heidi L Ballard University of California Davis Juliana E Birkhoff RESOLVE Charles Curtin Antioch University Cecilia Danks University of Vermont E Franklin Dukes University of Virginia and George Mason University Mar a Fernandez Gimenez Colorado State University Karen E Firehock University of Virginia Melanie Hughes McDermott Rutgers University William D Leach California State University Sacramento Margaret Ann Moote private consultant Susan L Senecah State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry Gregg B Walker Oregon State University Community-Based Service Delivery Jung Min Choi, John W. Murphy, 2021-05-16 This book takes up the challenge of the failure of most initiatives in community based service delivery to address the significant philosophical shift that is necessary to create implement and evaluate appropriately these sorts of projects Challenging the tendency to focus entirely on practicalities the authors emphasize the centrality of philosophy to any successful community based undertaking While fully acknowledging the importance of local knowledge and the guidance of projects by local people this volume shows that these principles are often at odds with the Cartesian mindset that underpins much project planning with its emphasis on objectivity in science and knowledge Since all knowledge is mediated by human activity and embedded in language and other modes of expression this dualist approach must be reconsidered A thorough rethinking of traditional service delivery which takes into account issues of data methodology and bias together with questions of generalizability community power and communication this book will appeal to scholars of sociology social policy and social work with interests in community based service delivery

Collaborative Governance Primer James Agbodzakey, 2024-04-24 This Brief provides a primer on collaborative governance and its essential principles Drawing on examples from the U S at the local government level chapters accentuate the growing utilization of bottom up approaches in addressing complex societal concerns with a particular emphasis on public health issues such as HIV AIDS and the COVID 19 pandemic The Brief approaches the topic with the following questions in mind 1 Does collaborative governance provide a viable alternative to complex public problem solving compared to the traditional top down bureaucratic approach 2 Is cross sector stakeholders involvement in collaborative governance a viable pathway forward in the administration of peoples affairs 3 Can societal well being be better promoted with non mandated collaborative governance 4 Would the representation and participation of target populations in policy decision

Interorganizational Collaboration Renee Guarriello Heath, Matthew G. Isbell, 2017-03-08 Interorganizational Collaboration Complexity Ethics and Communication centers around three key assertions 1 interorganizational collaboration is complex and warrants study as a specific type of leadership and communication 2 successful collaborative relationships are grounded in a principled ethic of democratic and egalitarian participation and 3 interorganizational collaboration requires a specific communication language of practice Interorganizational collaboration is influenced by increased interconnectedness shifting organizational needs and a changing workforce Collaboration invokes ethical questions and ethical responsibilities that must be considered in communication practices and structures Although there are many popular books and practitioner materials on collaboration most are not focused on introducing foundational concepts to a novice audience In addition the subject of communication in collaboration has been somewhat underdeveloped The authors focus on communication from a social constructionist stance One of their primary goals is to develop a collaboration pedagogy based on existing communication scholarship The authors present communicative practices vital to interorganizational participation and they view collaboration as something beyond an exchange of resources and knowledge Unlike group and organizational texts that approach collaboration from a functional or strategic perspective this text anchors collaboration in the assumption that democratic and principled communication will foster creative and accountable outcomes for participants in collaborative problem solving The authors articulate a collaborative ethic useful in all communicative contexts Micropractices of communication are fundamental not only to collaborating across organizations but also to fostering just and trusting relationships The book discusses the cornerstone assumptions and principled practices necessary for stakeholders to address problems for example recognizing and validating the needs of fellow stakeholders separating people's positions from underlying interests listening for things that are never quite said identifying overlapping commonalities building trust while respecting difference and constructively navigating conflict The book also focuses on building collaborative praxis based on the assumption of contingency Praxis cultivates knowledge and ethical understanding of a situation so participants in collaborations can make the best decision based on specific circumstances Environmental Leadership Deborah Rigling Gallagher, 2012-09-19 This reference handbook tackles issues relevant to leadership in the realm of the environment and sustainability Resilience in Social-Ecological Systems Marianne E. Krasny, Cecilia Lundholm, Ryan Plummer, 2013-10-18 Resilience thinking challenges us to reconsider the meaning of sustainability in a world that must constantly adapt in the face of gradual and at times catastrophic change This volume further asks environmental education and resource management scholars to consider the relationship of environmental learning and behaviours to attributes of resilient social ecological systems attributes such as ecosystem services innovative governance structures biological and cultural diversity and social capital Similar to current approaches to environmental education and education for sustainable development resilience scholarship integrates social and ecological perspectives The authors of Resilience in social ecological systems the role of learning and education present a wealth of perspectives integrating theory with reviews of empirical studies in natural resource management and in youth adult and higher education The authors explore the role of education and learning in helping social ecological systems as they respond to change through adaptation and transformation This book also serves to integrate a growing literature on resilience and social learning in natural resources management with research in environmental education and education for sustainable development This book was originally published as a special issue of Environmental Education Research

Nutrition Education Isobel R. Contento, 2010-03-29 Nutrition Education Second Edition provides a simple straightforward model for designing effective nutrition education that addresses the personal and environmental influences that affect food choice and assists individuals in adopting healthy behaviors Using a six step process this text integrates theory research and practice and provides advice on designing implementing and evaluating theory based nutrition education
