Handbook of Wildlife Management Ross O. Stevens, 1937

A Delicious Country Scott Huler, 2019-02-05 In 1700 a young man named John Lawson left London and landed in Charleston South Carolina hoping to make a name for himself For reasons unknown he soon undertook a two month journey through the still mysterious Carolina backcountry His travels yielded A New Voyage to Carolina in 1709 one of the most significant early American travel narratives rich with observations about the region's environment and Indigenous people Lawson later helped found North Carolina's first two cities Bath and New Bern became the colonial surveyor general contributed specimens to what is now the British Museum and was killed as the first casualty of the Tuscarora War Yet despite his great contributions and remarkable history Lawson is little remembered even in the Carolinas he documented In 2014 Scott Huler made a surprising decision to leave home and family for his own journey by foot and canoe faithfully retracing Lawson's route through the Carolinas This is the chronicle of that unlikely voyage revealing what it's like to rediscover your own home Combining a traveler's curiosity a naturalist's keen observation and a writer's wit Huler draws our attention to people and places we might pass regularly but never really see What he finds are surprising parallels between Lawson's time and our own with the locals and their world poised along a knife edge of change between a past they can't forget and a future they can't quite envision Carolina's Golden Fields

Hayden R. Smith, 2019-10-31 The basis for this book began twenty years ago when I enrolled in the College of Charleston's summer archaeological field school After spending the first half of the semester honing our technique by digging five foot by five foot units identifying soil stratigraphy and collecting artifacts at the Charleston Museum's Stono Plantation the archaeologists reoriented us students to a new site For the remainder of the field school we investigated Willtown Bluff on the Edisto River an early eighteenth century township surrounded by plantations My interest in inland rice cultivation grew from our work at the James Stobo site a 1710 plantation located on the edge of the Willtown township and one mile from the tidal river For three archaeological seasons between 1997 and 1999 I participated in excavations of the Stobo Plantation house foundation located on a hardwood knoll surrounded by a sea of low lying Cypress wetlands During this time I had a unique opportunity to walk off the dry terra firma and explore miles of inland rice embankments sprawling to the east and to the south of the house site Major embankments traverse the wetlands on a magnetic north south and east west axis intersected by smaller check banks and drainage canals as far as the eye can see under the dense cypress and hardwood canopy Field & Stream, 1979-12 FIELD STREAM America's largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations Elemental South Dorinda G.
