Comparative Education Research Approaches And Methods Cerc Studies In Comparative Education:

Comparative Education Research Mark Bray, Bob Adamson, Mark Mason, 2007-08-21 Approaches and methods in comparative education research are of obvious importance but do not always receive adequate attention This book contributes new insights within the longstanding traditions of the field A particular feature is the focus on different units of analysis Individual chapters compare places systems times cultures values policies curricula and other units These chapters are contextualised within broader analytical frameworks which identify the purposes and strengths of the field The book includes a focus on intra national as well as cross national comparisons and highlights the value of approaching themes from different angles The book will be of great value not only to producers of comparative education research but also to consumers who wish to understand more thoroughly the parameters and value of the field Comparative Education Research

Mark Bray, Bob Adamson, Mark Mason, 2007-07-20 Approaches and methods in comparative education research are of obvious importance but do not always receive adequate attention This book contributes new insights within the longstanding traditions of the field A particular feature is the focus on different units of analysis Individual chapters compare places systems times cultures values policies curricula and other units Comparative Education: Views from Latin

America Marco Aurelio Navarro Leal, 2013-05-09 Although in Latin America there are no educational programs specialized in comparative education as there are in some European Oriental and North American universities there are scholars who cultivate this field With the production of this book the authors most of them affiliated to member organizations of the World Council of Comparative Education Societies are walking towards a Latin American network of researchers with an interest in establishing a dialogue with non Spanish speaking colleagues from the rest of the world This is the reason of our effort in writing most of the chapters in English Comparative education as all disciplinary fields has evolved with different ways of thinking approaching and constructing its objects of research and analysis which are nurtured by different epistemological traditions living together in our times enriching and bringing complexities From Argentina Chile Uruguay Brazil Peru Venezuela Costa Rica and Mexico the authors of the book pose questions historical descriptions reflections discussions and cases to set forth their views Researching Private Supplementary Tutoring

Mark Bray, Ora Kwo, Boris Jokić, 2016-03-01 Private supplementary tutoring widely known as shadow education because of the way that it mimics mainstream schooling has greatly expanded worldwide It consumes considerable family resources provides employment for tutors occupies the time of students and has a backwash on regular schools Although such tutoring has become a major industry and a daily activity for students tutors and families the research literature has been slow to catch up with the phenomenon The topic is in some respects difficult to research precisely because it is shadowy Contours are indistinct and the actors may hesitate to share their experiences and perspectives Presenting methodological lessons from diverse cultures the book contains chapters from both high income and low income settings in Asia Caribbean Europe and the Middle East Separately and together the chapters present valuable insights into the design and conduct of research The book will assist both consumers and producers of research Consumers will become better judges of the strengths weaknesses and orientations of literature on the theme and producers will gain insights for design of instruments collection of data and interpretation of findings The editors Mark Bray is UNESCO Chair Professor in Comparative Education at the University of Hong Kong Ora Kwo is an Associate Professor in the Comparative Education Research Centre at the University of Hong Kong Boris Joki is a Scientific Associate in the Centre for Educational Research and Development at the Institute for Social Research in Zagreb Croatia

The SAGE Handbook of Comparative Studies in Education Larry E. Suter, Emma Smith, Brian D. Denman, 2019-05-27 Educational practices have rapidly changed in the last few decades especially in how exchanges of information and learning are delivered and processed Yet while the field of international comparative studies has grown there has not been an extensive study on the relationship between educational practices students and how practitioners are prepared and trained This handbook explores international educational practices and behaviours through new research and a review of existing research with chapters spread across six parts Part I Introduction to Research Practices in Comparative Studies of Education Part II Research Methods Part III Policy Transfer Research through International Comparisons Part IV Use of Student time in Formal and Informal Settings Part V School Practices from Early Childhood through Secondary School Part VI Conclusion Lessons from Large Scale Studies

Trust, Accountability and Capacity in Education System Reform Melanie Ehren, Jacqueline Baxter, 2020-12-29 This global collection brings a new perspective to the field of comparative education by presenting trust capacity and accountability as the three building blocks of education systems and education system reform In exploring how these three factors relate to student learning outcomes across different international contexts this book provides a powerful framework for a more equal system Drawing upon research and case studies from scholars policymakers and experts from international agencies across five continents this book shows how trust capacity and accountability interact in ways and with consequences that vary among countries pointing readers towards understanding potential leverage points for system change Trust Accountability and Capacity in Education System Reform illuminates how these three concepts are embedded in an institutional context temporally socially and institutionally and offers an analysis that will be of use to researchers policymakers and agencies working in comparative education and towards education system reform Chapter 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 Generic license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429344855> societies and scholars from all fields who are concerned with institutional structures and their evolution      Introduction to Comparative and International Education Jennifer Marshall, 2024-04-03 This book introduces major themes surrounding comparative and international education giving you a nuanced understanding of key debates and thinkers and the tools necessary to conduct comparisons using secondary sources Social economic historical and cultural factors are examined in order to investigate the varied contexts in which education takes place around the globe This new edition includes New case studies touching on contemporary issues from decolonising the curriculum to the impact of the Covid 19 pandemic on education A new introduction outlining the features of the book and how to use them Updated educational data from around the world and new links to external resources Dr Jennifer Marshall is Senior Lecturer in Education at the University of Derby

Comparative Analysis on Universal Primary Education Policy and Practice in Sub-Saharan Africa ,2015-01-01 Achieving Universal Primary Education UPE has received considerable attention since the early 1950s The concept of universal education is however not well defined and is used to mean many different things to different people This book contains a five year research work conducted by a group of African and Japanese researchers who have developed an equal partnership and network to review the expansion of primary education some policies prompting the free primary education intervention and the challenges of implementation based on the case study of two districts in four countries namely Ghana Kenya Malawi and Uganda The first part discusses issues related to administrative financial and perceptive issues related to UPE policies in each country case followed by the second part that focuses on quality of education and UPE policies The book contains various lessons learnt and implications for future education policies in developing countries      Changing Education Peter D. Hershock, Mark Mason, John N. Hawkins, 2007-12-20 This book responds to the growing unease of educators and n educators alike about the inadequacy of most current educational systems and programs to sufficiently meet the demands of fast changing societies These systems and programs evolved and were developed in and for societies that have long been transformed and yet no parallel transformation has taken place in the education systems they spawned In the last twenty years or so other sectors of society transportation communication banking health services have radically changed they way they operate but education has continued essentially the same There is no doubt education must change To those ready to accept this challenge this book represents a welcome guide To be sure it is not a how to instruction manual since the shape of change must be particular to the needs and situations of each setting and societies are as varied as they are fast changing Rather than provide specific directions it provides a useful road map for the navigators of change within which each can plot out their specific itineraries towards their goal It illuminates the basic goal of education the total and balanced development of individuals and through them societies and depicts the main features the imperatives the demands and the pitfalls of an ever more interdependent globalized world in which this goal must be pursued My work has exposed me to dozens of international conferences on various education themes and several colleges of education worldwide      Education, Skills and International Cooperation Kenneth King, 2019-10-15 This book highlights some of Kenneth King's diverse contributions to international and comparative education, African studies and development studies over more than four decades. From his pioneering work on the first educational commissions to Africa through his research on skills training in the informal sector and on to his critical analysis of education analysis in development agencies, this book makes influential materials available in one place. Appropriately, it illustrates his career-long connections with Kenya but also his more recent engagement with Japan, China and India. It is the first CERC volume to pay significant attention to the policies and politics of skills development. Kenneth King is an Emeritus Professor of the University of Edinburgh. He was based in and directed its Centre of African Studies for many years and lectured on international perspectives in education and training in its School of Education. His research interests have addressed the politics and planning of skills development, including in the informal sector of the economy, aid policies towards education of both Western and Asian donors and higher education cooperation. He founded NORRAG, the network for international policies and cooperation in education and training, in 1986 and edited NORRAG News until 2016. He was President of the British Association for International and Comparative Education (BAICE) from 2014-2016 and was one of the founding members of the UK Forum on International Education and Training (UKFIET).
