Pestalozzi and the Educationalization of the World D. Tröhler, 2013-09-09 Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi transformed education theory and practice worldwide Daniel Tröhler connects Pestalozzi's work to its context in Europe's late 18th and early 19th century republican movement offering readers a way to understand the sociopolitical significance of education and its central role in the development of modern societies

The Right to Wear Religious Symbols D. Hill, D.

Whistler, 2016-01-07 Clearly presenting the case law concerning Article 9 of the European Convention of Human Rights this is a lively and accessible analysis of a key issue in contemporary society whether there is a human right to wear a religious symbol and how far any such right extends

What Has the Black Church to do with Public Life? A. Pinn, 2013-08-21 The role in public life of religious organizations such as black churches has been a contested and heated topic with their advocates calling for them to have a major place in public discourse and their critiques demanding their silence in public if not their total destruction This book offers a creative and compelling way to think about this dilemma Unlike some it does not deny the effort on the part of such organizations to be involved in public discourse and public policy instead it argues this interest is insufficient Drawing attention to the basic elements of organizations such as black churches theology organizational hierarchy and so on Pinn argues these churches and other religious organizations by extension are not structured in such a way as to allow participation in the public arena in ways that appreciate and nurture the diversity of that arena Instead Pinn calls for recognition of their value in the private life of some but their failure to have usefulness within the public arena

Consumption, Informal Markets, and the Underground Economy M. Pisani, 2013-10-25 Using original qualitative ethnographic field interviews and quantitative field survey results Consumption Informal Markets and the Underground Economy explores the rationale for and model of off the books consumption in a borderlands environment

The Art of Economic Catch-Up Keun Lee, 2019-05-16 In his previous Schumpeter Prize winning work Lee analysed the middle income trap in which a developing country grows strongly only to plateau at a certain point Yet certain developing countries most significantly China have managed to escape this trap Building on the conception of the ladder from developing to developed countries being kicked way this book suggests alternative ways such as leapfrogging in which latecomers can catch up with their forerunners Providing policy solutions for development challenges in non technical terms Lee frames his theories with insightful and inventive allegories In doing so Lee also accounts for the catch up paradox in which one cannot conclusively catch up if they are continually trying to follow the path of those ahead He argues that eventual catch up and overtaking require pursuing a path that differs from that taken by forerunners This highly original and accessible book will appeal to students scholars practitioners and anyone interested in economic development and innovation

Portable Play in Everyday Life: The Nintendo DS Samuel Tobin,2013-10-16 People play mobile games everywhere and at any time Tobin examines this media practice through the players directly using the lens of the players and practice of the Nintendo DS system He argues for the primacy of context for understanding how digital play functions in today s society emphasizing location killing time and mobile communities
