Consumed: How Markets Corrupt Children, Infantilize Adults, and Swallow Citizens Whole Benjamin R.

Barber,2008-03-17 Powerful and disturbing No one who cares about the future of our public life can afford to ignore this book Jackson Lears A powerful sequel to Benjamin R Barber s best selling Jihad vs McWorld Consumed offers a vivid portrait of a global economy that overproduces goods and targets children as consumers in a market where there are never enough shoppers and where the primary goal is no longer to manufacture goods but needs Disturbing provocative and compelling this book examines phenomena as seemingly disparate as adolescent fashion trends for adults megachurches declining voter participation the privatization of the public sphere branding and the rise of online shopping to show how the freedoms of the free market have undermined the freedoms of the deliberative adult citizen Barber brings together extensive empirical research with an original theoretical framework for understanding our contemporary predicament Con$umed Benjamin R. Barber,2007 An examination of the effects of capitalism on American culture and society reveals how consumer capitalism overproduces goods targets children as consumers and replaces public goods with private commodities Confucian

Democracy in East Asia Sungmoon Kim,2014-02-24 This book explores a mode of democracy that is culturally relevant and socially practicable in the contemporary pluralistic context of historically Confucian East Asian societies by critically engaging with the two most dominant theories of Confucian democracy Confucian communitarianism and meritocratic elitism The book constructs a mode of public reason and reasoning that is morally palatable to East Asians who are still saturated in Confucian customs by reappropriating Confucian familialism and using this perspective to theorize on Confucian democratic welfarism and political meritocracy It then applies the theory of Confucian democracy to South Korea arguably the most Confucianized society in East Asia and examines the theory s practicality in Korea s increasingly individualized pluralized and multicultural society by looking at cases of freedom of expression freedom of association insult law and immigration policy

Rethinking Children as Consumers Cyndy Hawkins,2016-09-13 Children are significant consumers of services such as health welfare educational institutions and the environment Alongside this the marketization of childhood means that children are exposed to advertising and marketing through a wide range of media on a daily basis Examining key debates on children s power status and citizenship issues it considers the wider implications of how consumerism impacts on children s health well being and life chances This timely book explores childhood and consumerism through four key strands children as consumers of services children as consumers of space the link between citizenship and consumption the influences of the marketization of childhood Rethinking Children as Consumers will be essential reading for students researchers practitioners and policy makers who are interested in the topic of consumerism across early childhood childhood youth and society

Ensuring Every Child Matters Gianna Knowles,2009-04-22 In today s climate of multi professional working this book examines how children from the ages of 3 to 11 are educated in the educational and social context of the Every Child Matters

ECM agenda There are chapters dedicated to the five outcomes of Every Child Matters which are being healthy staying safe enjoying and achieving making a positive contribution achieving economic wellbeing as well as comprehensive guidance on how to ensure the ECM standards are met However this book also looks at the broader scope of how children learn in early years settings and primary schools and is written at a level that enables the reader to develop their own knowledge and understanding Issues discussed include social justice diversity and inclusion the child in society working with families Case studies are provided in each chapter along with activities suggestions for further reading and useful websites Suitable for Childhood Studies and Education Studies courses and for teaching assistants studying for a Foundation Degree or Higher Level Teaching Assistant HLTA status the content is equally relevant for teacher training courses and practising teachers

Gianna Knowles is a Senior Lecturer at the University of Chichester      Ecological Systems Integrity Laura Westra, Janice Gray, Vasiliki Karageorgou, 2015-05-22 Environmental law and governance are the cornerstones of global efforts to conserve the environment protect resources and ensure fair and equitable outcomes for all of the planet's inhabitants This book presents a series of thought provoking chapters which consider the place of governance and law in the defence against imminent and ongoing threats to ecological social and cultural integrity Written by an international team of both established and early career scholars from various disciplines and backgrounds the chapters cover the most pressing and contemporary issues in environmental law and governance These include access and benefit sharing the right to food and water climate change coping and adaptation human rights the rights of indigenous communities public and environmental health and many more The book has a general focus on environmental governance and law in the European Union and offers points of comparison with Canada and North and South America      Reflections on Ethical and Aesthetic Phenomena Albert Valente, 2023-07-15 A series of reflective commentaries and a dialogue dealing with ethical and aesthetic theories regarding entertainment and the arts together with their development and progress through the ages as well as observations on the manners in which cities conduct them      Infantilised: How Our Culture Killed Adulthood Keith J. Hayward, 2024-06-27 Infantilised How Our Culture Killed Adulthood is the definitive grown up's guide to a cultural landscape predicated on the primacy and constancy of youth      The Legacy of Mega Events Luiz Cesar de Queiroz Ribeiro, Filippo Bignami, 2020-11-26 This edited volume offers a critical reflection on the failed experiment to redevelop the city of Rio de Janeiro according to the neoliberal strategy of entrepreneurial urban governance and mercantile regulatory transformations which were leveraged by mega sporting events The case of Rio de Janeiro is presented as an example of a failing global strategy for urban redevelopment entrepreneurial urban governance and the realization of mega events This book aims to present the real and critical state of the legacies of such mega events It shows how instead of the promised economic redemption Rio is experiencing a severe economic political and social crisis handling three observation perspectives the first is the description of urban transformations and mega events assessing the contradictions in the model for the intended urban development and taking into account historical factors both at local and national level the second restricts on neighborhoods as case studies representing an ensign of a neoliberal urban transformation results the third links city and citizenship focusing tensions and inconsistencies and opening up a perspective on the importance of fostering the concept of citizenship including actions movements and initiatives that express the resistance and struggles around a possible new destination for Rio de Janeiro Prof Luiz Cesar de Quieroz Ribeiro and Dr Filippo Bignami as General Editors thank Ana Paula Soares Carvalho Humberto Meza Niccol Cuppini and Orlando dos Santos Junior for their contributions as co editors of this book

How Consumer Culture Controls Our Kids Jennifer Hill, 2015-11-02 This gripping book considers the history techniques and goals of child targeted consumer campaigns and examines children's changing perceptions of what commodities they need to be valued and value themselves In this critique of America's consumption based society author Jennifer Hill chronicles the impact of consumer culture on children from the evolution of childhood play to a child's self perception as a consumer to the consequences of this generation's repeated media exposure to violence Hill proposes that corporations eager to tap into a multibillion dollar market use the power of advertising and the media to mold children's thoughts and behaviors The book features vignettes with teenagers explaining in their own words how advertising determines their needs wants and self esteem An in depth analysis of this research reveals the influence of media on a young person's desire to conform shows how broadcasted depictions of beauty distort the identities of children and teens and uncovers corporate agendas for manipulating behavior in the younger generation The work concludes with the position that corporations are shaping children to be efficient consumers but in return are harming their developing young minds and physical well being

Polish Students and Alcohol Jacek Pyżalski, Natalia Walter, Agnieszka Cybal-Michalska, Mateusz Marciniak, Sylwia Jaskulska, 2024-05-06 The authors present the issue of problematic alcohol drinking in the population of university students in the Polish context based on large scale N 4503 survey research The study starts with the description of methodology utilized in the study that was the basis of the publication sampling research questions and tools methodology of data gathering as well as the description of early adulthood developmental period and then moves to the background description of the social situation of Polish students The results of the study are presented and interpreted with subsequent order scale of alcohol consumption and alcohol related problems health behaviours and health status stress and depressive disorders self esteem online activity social engagement and identity problem solving

Youth Studies and Generations Vitor Sérgio Ferreira, 2020-03-25 There is currently much discourse about generations in the public sphere A sequence of letters conflates generations and age cohorts born in the last few decades generation X Y or Z as well as multiple categories are used to describe today's young people as a generation that is distinct from its predecessors Despite the popularity of generational labels in media politics or even academia the use of generation as a conceptual tool in youth studies has been controversial This Special Issue allows readers to better understand the key issues regarding the use of generation as a theoretical concept and or as a social category in the field of youth studies shedding light on the controversies trends and cautions that go through it      Utopianism for a Dying Planet Gregory Claeys, 2024-12-10 How the utopian tradition offers answers to today's environmental crises In the face of Earth's environmental breakdown it is clear that technological innovation alone won't save our planet A more radical approach is required one that involves profound changes in individual and collective behavior Utopianism for a Dying Planet examines the ways the expansive history of utopian thought from its origins in ancient Sparta and ideas of the Golden Age through to today's thinkers can offer moral and imaginative guidance in the face of catastrophe The utopian tradition which has been critical of conspicuous consumption and luxurious indulgence might light a path to a society that emphasizes equality sociability and sustainability Gregory Claeys unfolds his argument through a wide ranging consideration of utopian literature social theory and intentional communities He defends a realist definition of utopia focusing on ideas of sociability and belonging as central to utopian narratives He surveys the development of these themes during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries before examining twentieth and twenty first century debates about alternatives to consumerism Claeys contends that the current global warming limit of 1.5C 2.7F will result in cataclysm if there is no further reduction in the cap In response he offers a radical Green New Deal program which combines ideas from the theory of sociability with proposals to withdraw from fossil fuels and cease reliance on unsustainable commodities An urgent and comprehensive search for antidotes to our planet's destruction Utopianism for a Dying Planet asks for a revival of utopian ideas not as an escape from reality but as a powerful means of changing it      Higher Education and the Market Roger Brown, 2010-09-13 The introduction of market forces into higher education is the most crucial issue facing universities and colleges today As the role of universities in the knowledge society becomes ever more apparent and as public funding reaches its limit marketisation has become an issue of critical importance Discussions about the ever increasing cost of tuition affordability access university rankings information and the commercialization of academic research take place not just in North America Western Europe and Australasia but also in Eastern Europe Asia and Latin America Higher Education and the Market provides a comprehensive account of this phenomenon and looks at its likely impact on key dimensions of university activity system structure funding and resources the curriculum participation and achievement research and scholarship interactions with third parties Contributors propose how market forces government intervention and academic self regulation can be combined to harness the benefits of increased competition and efficiency without losing the public good It is of particular interest to government and institutional leaders policy makers researchers and students studying higher education      Media and Political Engagement Peter Dahlgren, 2009-02-23 This book examines the media's role in shaping civic engagement and enhancing political engagement      An Age of Progress? Walter G. Moss, 2008-05-03 An Age of Progress is an advanced examination of major twentieth century global developments regarding subjects as diverse as violence capitalism socialism and communism imperialism racism nationalism westernization globalization international finance freedom and human rights physical and mental environmental changes culture science education religion and social criticism This momentous study also explores the ways in which the twentieth century made significant progress and the ways in which it did not The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown,Rodney Harrison,Angela Piccini,2013-10 This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of a rapidly expanding sub field in archaeology the study of the present and recent past It seeks to explore the boundaries of this emerging area to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new sub field and to suggest important future trajectories for research The ethics of consumption Helena Röcklinsberg,Per Sandin,2013-11-05 We are all consumers What we consume how and how much has consequences of great moral importance for humans animals and the environment Great challenges lie ahead as we are facing population growth and climate change and reduced availability of fossil fuels It is often argued that key to meeting those challenges is changing consumption patterns among individual as well as institutions for instance through reducing meat consumption switching to organic or fair trade products boycotting or buycotting certain products or consuming less overall There is considerable disagreement regarding how to bring this about whose responsibility it is and even whether it is desirable Is it a question of political initiatives producer responsibility the virtues and vices of individual consumers in the developed world or something else Many of these issues pose profound intellectual challenges at the intersection of ethics political philosophy economics and several other fields This publication brings together contributions from scholars in numerous disciplines including philosophy law economics sociology and animal welfare who explore the theme of the ethics of consumption from different angles The Handbook of Communication Ethics George Cheney,Steve May,Debashish Munshi,2011-01-18 The Handbook of Communication Ethics serves as a comprehensive guide to the study of communication and ethics It brings together analyses and applications based on recognized ethical theories as well as those outside the traditional domain of ethics but which engage important questions of power equality and justice The work herein encourages readers to make important connections between matters of social justice and ethical theory This volume makes an unparalleled contribution to the literature of communication studies through consolidating knowledge about the multiple relationships between communication and ethics by systematically treating areas of application and by introducing explicit and implicit examinations of communication ethics to one another The Handbook takes an international approach analyzing diverse cultural contexts and comparative assessments The chapters in this volume cover a wide range of theoretical perspectives on communication and ethics including feminist postmodern and postcolonial engage with communication contexts such as interpersonal and small group communication journalism new media visual communication public relations and marketing and explore contemporary issues such as democracy religion secularism the environment trade law and economics The chapters also consider the dialectical tensions between theory and practice academic and popular discourses universalism and particularism the global and the local and rationality and emotion An invaluable resource for scholars in communication and related disciplines the Handbook also serves as a main point of reference in graduate and upper division undergraduate courses in communication and ethics It stands as an exceptionally comprehensive resource for the study of communication and ethics

Greater Good John A. Quelch, Katherine E. Jocz, 2007-12-28 Marketing has a greater purpose and marketers a higher calling than simply selling more widgets according to John Quelch and Katherine Jocz In Greater Good the authors contend that marketing performs an essential societal function and does so democratically They maintain that people would benefit if the realms of politics and marketing were informed by one another's best principles and practices Quelch and Jocz lay out the six fundamental characteristics that marketing and democracy share 1 exchange of value such as goods services and promises 2 consumption of goods and services 3 choice in all decisions 4 free flow of information 5 active engagement of a majority of individuals and 6 inclusion of as many people as possible Without these six traits both marketing and democracy would fail and with them society Drawing on current and historical examples from economies around the world this landmark work illuminates marketing's critical role in the development growth and governance of societies It reveals how good marketing practices improve the political process and in turn the practice of democracy itself
