Consuming Interests The Social Provision Of Foods Consumption And Space:

Consuming Interests Andrew Flynn, Michelle Harrison, Terry Marsden, 2005-09-30 Combining theory research and policy Consuming Interests provides a topical interdisciplinary exploration into the nature of food provision policy and regulation The book provides a detailed examination of corporate retailers state agencies and consumer organisations involved in the food sector The analysis explores questions including what can the public expect from the state what limits are there on state action what are the most appropriate balances between public and private interests in the provision of quality foods

Economic Geographies Ray Hudson, 2005-01-11 The social and political power of the verity that there are no such things as economies only economic geographies demands an analysis of the complex flows and relations implied by it At last here is a book the book which addresses the questions central to the critical understanding of economies and their formative geographies This is a highly creative and transformative contribution Roger Lee Professor of Geography Queen Mary University of London How do we conceptualise the production and re production of social life What are the most appropriate ways to conceptualise capitalist economies and their geographies Economic Geographies integrates ideas of structure agency and practice to provide a detailed overview of recent key debates in economic geography from political economy and Marxism to post structuralism an explanation of the of relations between production retail and consumption governance and regulation a discussion of the economy in terms of circuits flows and spaces that systematically relates the material to the cultural Economic Geographies is a systematic audit of related developments in economic geography and the social sciences these include consumption economy and nature and culture The text will be required reading for upper level undergraduates on courses in economic geography

Biological Economies Richard Le Heron, Hugh Campbell, Nick Lewis, Michael Carolan, 2016-01-22 Recent agri food studies including commodity systems the political economy of agriculture regional development and wider examinations of the rural dimension in economic geography and rural sociology have been confronted by three challenges These can be summarized as more than human approaches to economic life a post structural political economy of food and agriculture and calls for more enactive performative research approaches This volume describes the genealogy of such approaches drawing on the reflective insights of more than five years of international engagement and research It demonstrates the kinds of new work being generated under these approaches and provides a means for exploring how they should be all understood as part of the same broader need to review theory and methods in the study of food agriculture rural development and economic geography This radical collective approach is elaborated as the Biological Economies approach The authors break out from traditional categories of analysis reconceptualising materialities and reframing economic assemblages as biological economies based on the notion of all research being enactive or performative

Changing Families, Changing Food P. Jackson, 2009-08-12 Approaching family through the lens of food this book provides a new perspective on the diversity of contemporary family life challenging received ideas about the decline of the family meal the individualization of food choice and the relationship between professional advice on healthy eating and the everyday practices of doing family

Geographies of Commodity Chains Alex Hughes, Suzanne Reimer, 2004-07-31
 Broad geographical coverage including case studies from North American European and developing studies contexts Timely in view of increased popular and policy interest in the international origins of the commodities we buy and the often hidden environmental and social impacts of their production All chapters make an explicit and clear contribution to theorisations of the commodity chain Covers a wide range of products including food flowers home furnishings and clothing Co-produced Economies Ray Hudson, 2019-02-13 In common with most other advanced capitalist economies of the Global North the UK has experienced a decline in the manufacturing industry and an increase in the service sector in recent decades At the same time there has been a substantial manufacturing growth in a number of countries in the Global South especially China and India Why have these changes occurred What have been their economic and ecological consequences How can we best understand the way the contemporary economy functions This book explores the answers to these questions proposing that the contemporary capitalist economy is best understood as a complex socio spatial system of co production involving relations between people things and non human entities It is argued that these people typically have conflicting and competitive interests yet can come together to resolve their differences or find ways of regulating their conflicting interests National states continue to have a critical role in establishing these systems of regulation At the same time many companies draw on the knowledge of their customers while others enrol animals insects and plants as co producers As a result the improbable processes of commodity production and capital accumulation continue more or less routinely with problems and occasional crises overcome in a variety of ways Co produced Economies will be of interest to students of economic geography political economy and economic development and more generally to social scientists interested in issues of the causes and consequences of economic change It will also be of relevance to policy makers seeking to develop economic policies in the increasingly volatile global economy and in the context of growing environmental concerns Cross-Continental Agro-Food Chains Niels Fold, Bill Pritchard, 2005-04-25 Filling a gap in contemporary food and globalization scholarship this timely book for both academics and professionals presents recent case study research on the globalization of food systems and the impacts for communities around the world Old Links in a New Chain : B the Unlikely Resilience of Corner Stores in Botogá, Columbia Alejandro Guarín, 2009 Anxious Appetites Peter Jackson, 2015-09-24 Despite government claims that food is safer and more readily available today than ever before recent survey evidence demonstrates high levels of food related anxiety among Western consumers While chronic hunger and malnutrition are relatively rare in the West food scares relating to individual products concerns about global food security and other expressions of consumer anxiety about food remain widespread Anxious Appetites explores the causes of these present day anxieties Looking at fears over provenance and regulation in a world of lengthening supply chains and greater concentration of corporate power Peter Jackson investigates how anxieties about food circulate and how they act as a channel for broader social issues Drawing on case studies such as the 2013 horsemeat scandal and fears about the contamination of infant formula in China in 2008 he examines how and why these concerns emerge Comparing survey results with ethnographic observation of consumer practice he explores the gap between official advice about food safety and people's everyday experience of food including a critique of ideological notions of consumer choice A captivating timely book which presents a new theory of social anxiety

The Reform of the CAP and Rural Development in Southern Europe George Stathakis, 2017-10-24 Today the use of the term countryside reflects a dual historical shift due to the decreasing importance of agriculture both in terms of employment and production in European economies and the shift toward the environment An increasing part of rural populations is being drawn into non agricultural sectors such as tourism construction manufacturing and the conventional and innovative services thereby granting a more diversified and contemporary role to the countryside The environmental shift has questioned many of the very fundamental premises governing the relationship between social practices and nature Agenda 2000 and the ongoing debate concerning the CAP reforms are connected to a large extent with these new realities This engaging book focuses on the prospects for the development of the Southern European countryside during a transitional period of a major policy paradigm shift Bringing together case studies from Portugal Spain France Italy and Greece the book discusses the key issues mentioned above as well as the restricting factors and prospects of the adjustments required

French Beans and Food Scares Susanne Freidberg, 2004-10-21 From mad cows to McDonaldization to genetically modified maize European food scares and controversies at the turn of the millennium provoked anxieties about the perils hidden in an increasingly industrialized internationalized food supply These food fears have cast a shadow as long as Africa where farmers struggle to meet European demand for the certifiably clean green bean But the trade in fresh foods between Africa and Europe is hardly uniform Britain and France still do business mostly with their former colonies in ways that differ as dramatically as their national cuisines The British buy their baby veg from industrial scale farms pre packaged and pre trimmed the French meanwhile prefer their green beans naked and produced by peasants Managers and technologists coordinate the baby veg trade between Anglophone Africa and Britain whereas an assortment of commercants and self styled agro entrepreneurs run the French bean trade Globalization then has not erased cultural difference in the world of food and trade but instead has stretched it to a transnational scale French Beans and Food Scares explores the cultural economies of two non traditional commodity trades between Africa and Europe one anglophone the other francophone in order to show not only why they differ but also how both have felt the fall out of the wealthy world's food scares In a voyage that begins in the mid 19th century and ends in the early 21st passing by way of Paris London Burkina Faso and Zambia French Beans and Food Scares illuminates the daily work of exporters importers and other invisible intermediaries in the global fresh food economy These intermediaries accounts provide a unique perspective on the practical and ethical challenges of globalized food trading in an anxious age They also show how postcolonial ties shape not only different societies geographies of food supply but also their very ideas about what makes food good Worlds of Food Kevin Morgan,Terry Marsden,Jonathan Murdoch,2006-01-12 From farm to fork the conventional food chain is under enormous pressure to respond to a whole series of new challenges food scares in rich countries food security concerns in poor countries and a burgeoning problem of obesity in all countries As more and more people demand to know where their food comes from and how it is produced issues of place power and provenance assume increasing significance for producers consumers and regulators challenging the corporate forces that shape the placeless foodscape Far from being confined to niche products questions about the origins of food are also surfacing in the conventional sector where labelling has become a major political issue Drawing on theories of multi level governance three leading scholars in the field explore the geo politics of the food chain in different spatial arenas the World Trade Organization where free trade principles clash with fair trade concerns in the debate about agricultural reform the European Union where producers are under pressure from environmentalists for a more traceable and sustainable food system and the US where there is a striking contradiction between the rhetoric of free markets and the reality of a heavily subsidised farming sector To understand the local impact of these global trends the authors explore three different regional worlds of food the traditional world of localised quality in Tuscany the peripheral world of commodity production in Wales and the frontier world of agri business in California Research Handbook on Ethical Consumption Marylyn Carrigan,Victoria K. Wells,Karolos A. Papadas,2023-05-09 Presenting a contemporary reflection on ethical and sustainable consumption this insightful Research Handbook offers discussions on the challenges and complexity of living an ethical and sustainable life and for the researchers who study them Featuring cutting edge multidisciplinary research from authors with unique perspectives and expert insights this Research Handbook takes a deeper look at the past present and future of ethical and sustainable consumption The Oxford Handbook of Food History Jeffrey M. Pilcher,2012-10-16 Food matters not only as a subject of study in its own right but also as a medium for conveying critical messages about capitalism the environment and social inequality to diverse audiences Recent scholarship on the subject draws from both a pathbreaking body of secondary literature and an inexhaustible wealth of primary sources from ancient Chinese philosophical tracts to McDonald s menus contributing new perspectives to the historical study of food culture and society and challenging the limits of history itself The Oxford Handbook of Food History places existing works in historiographical context crossing disciplinary chronological and geographic boundaries while also suggesting new routes for future research The twenty seven essays in this book are organized into five sections historiography disciplinary approaches production circulation and consumption of food The first two sections examine the foundations of food history not only in relation to key developments in the discipline of history itself such as the French Annales school and the cultural turn but also in anthropology sociology geography pedagogy and the emerging Critical Nutrition Studies The following three sections sketch various trajectories of food as it travels from farm to table factory to eatery nature to society Each section balances material cultural and intellectual concerns whether juxtaposing questions of agriculture and the environment with the notion of cookbooks as historical documents early human migrations with modern culinary tourism or religious customs with social activism In its vast interdisciplinary scope this handbook brings students and scholars an authoritative guide to a field with fresh insights into one of the most fundamental human concerns

Food in Society Peter Atkins,Ian Bowler,2016-04-29 Who can deny the significance of food It has a central role in our health and pleasure as well as in our economy politics and culture Food in Society provides a social science perspective on food systems and demonstrates the rich variety of disciplinary and theoretical contexts of food studies While hunger and malnutrition remain a reality in many countries for some food has become an experience rather than a sustenance This book addresses the different worldwide understandings of food through thematic chapters and a wide range of material including description of the political economy of the food chain from production to the point of sale analysis of global issues of supply and demand critical debate of environmental and health aspects of food including GM food the role of habits taboos age and gender in food consumption Each chapter contains a guide to further reading and to websites of relevance to food Extensively illustrated this book is essential reading for students of food studies in the social sciences and humanities

Environment and Planning ,2009 Trading Down Peter Gibbon,Stefano Ponte,2005 Examining the changing role of Africa in the global economy The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott,Warren Belasco,Peter Jackson,2013-10-10 This handbook is essential reference for scholars needing a comprehensive overview into research on the social political economic psychological geographical and historical aspects of food

Industrial Ecology and Spaces of Innovation K. Green,2006-01-01 This is an especially timely book Carefully organized and well motivated its power lies in the explicit effort to ask how industrial ecology and innovation studies do can and should intersect Reid Lifset Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies and editor Journal of Industrial Ecology This book explores the disciplinary interfaces and practical implications of working across the two disciplines of industrial ecology IE and innovation studies IS Both disciplines have something to say about instigating environmental improvement and more sustainable futures IE is predicated on the idea that social and economic systems mirror or should be made to mirror natural ecological systems Proponents of IE devise models and techniques to trace material and energy resource flows as they move through social and economic systems They propose policy and management improvements to increase the resource efficiency of such systems By contrast IS researchers work with the idea that innovation is a dynamic activity vital to social and economic change and is shaped by a range of actors in industry in government and in households The authors illustrate the conceptual and practical problems and opportunities of working across this bi disciplinary interface with case studies presented from each and from hybrid perspectives that draw on both These include applied examples from IE such as an evaluation of industrial symbiosis in the UK and from working projects in industrialising countries Cases that originate with IS cover the areas of food construction and waste incineration New directions for conceptual development and further research are also offered Conceptual blindspots and research gaps are identified at the interface of the two disciplines Industrial Ecology and Spaces of Innovation will appeal to a wide and interdisciplinary audience including academics and researchers of environmental innovation management and economics industrial ecology and schools of environmental engineering Business environmental practitioners consultants and managers working with techniques such as life cycle analysis environmental impact assessment and collaborative industrial symbiosis initiatives will also find much to engage them within this book     The New Regulation and Governance of Food Terry Marsden,Robert Lee,Andrew Flynn,Samarthia Thankappan,2009-09-10 This book examines the development of food policy and regulation following the BSE mad cow disease crisis and traces the changing relationships between three key sets of actors private interests such as the corporate retailers public regulators such as the EU directorates and UK agencies and consumer groups

The Top Books of the Year Consuming Interests The Social Provision Of Foods Consumption And Space The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Consuming Interests The Social Provision Of Foods Consumption And Space : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Consuming Interests The Social Provision Of Foods Consumption And Space : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Pappen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
