Contested Countryside Cultures Rurality And Socio Cultural Marginalisation:

Contested Countryside Cultures Paul J. Cloke, Jo Little, 1997 This book charts the experiences of marginalised groups living in and visiting the countryside revealing how notions of the rural have been created to reflect and reinforce divisions among those living there

Contested Countryside Cultures Paul Cloke, Jo Little, 2005-08-12 This book examines the other side of the countryside a place also inhabited and visited by women children teenagers the elderly gay men and lesbians black and ethnic minorities the unemployed and the poor These groups have remained largely excluded by both rural policies and the representations of rural culture The book charts the experiences of these marginalised groups and sets this exploration within the context of postmodern poststructuralist postcolonial and late feminist analysis This theoretical framework reveals how notions of the rural have been created to reflect and reinforce divisions amongst those living in the countryside

Teaching Geography 11-18: a Conceptual Approach David Lambert, John Morgan, 2010-01-16 This is a must read for all 11 18 geography educators It argues for a new geography curriculum founded on a set of major concepts that are profoundly relevant to 21st century life For years books on 11 18 geography education have focussed on classroom techniques new pedagogic technologies and alternative modes of student assessment Not this one Teaching Geography 11 18 digs deep It asks not only what geography is for but bases its answer on a set of key concepts able to sustain an exciting and relevant curriculum It also grounds its many arguments in the latest geographical research thus re establishing the broken connection between geography teaching in schools and that in higher education Professor Noel Castree University of Manchester UK This engaging and stimulating book aims to radically re shape and sharpen debates in geography education by taking an entirely fresh approach to both the subject and its place in secondary education Key questions addressed in this book include What is the place of geography within the secondary school curriculum To what extent does school geography reflect and engage with contemporary issues and theories from the wider subject What are the issues challenges and opportunities of a concept led approach to teaching geography What are the implications of ICT media and technology for the future of geography teaching in schools Influenced by the revised national curriculum for geography which has reduced the prescribed content to be covered this book offers an objective view of the concept led approach The new focus on concepts represents a significant shift in how geography is to be taught in schools yet there has been little extended discussion of what a concept led approach to teaching and learning would entail This book fills that void by examining geography's key concepts and providing teachers with a theoretically robust and practical approach to curriculum planning using a concept led approach This is essential reading for all secondary geography teachers trainee teachers and anyone involved with education and curriculum planning

The rural housing question Satsangi, Madhu, Gallent, Nick, 2010-09-01 For the past century governments have been compelled time and again to return to the search for solutions to the housing and economic challenges posed by a restructuring countryside The rural housing question is an analysis of the complexity of housing and development tensions in the rural areas of England Wales and Scotland It analyses a range of topics from attitudes to rural development economic change land use planning and counter urbanisation through retirement and ageing leisure consumption lifestyle shifts and homelessness to public and private house building private and public renting and community initiatives Across this spectrum of concerns it attempts to isolate the fundamental tensions that give the rural housing question an intractable quality The book is aimed at policy makers researchers students and anyone with an interest in the future of the British countryside Reimagining Rural Gregory M. Fulkerson,Alexander R. Thomas,2016-06-20

Reimagining Rural Urbanormative Portrayals of Rural Life examines the ways in which rural people and places are being portrayed by popular television reality television film literature and news media in the United States It is also an examination of the social processes that reinforce urbanormative standards that normalize urban life and render rural life as something unusual exotic or deviant This includes exploring the role of the media as agenda setting agent informing people what and how to think about rural life Further it includes scrutinizing the institution of formal education that promotes a homogenous urban oriented curriculum while in the process marginalizing the unique characteristics of local rural communities These contributions are some of the only studies of their kind investigating popular cultural representations of rural life while providing powerful evidence and unique challenges for an urban society to rethink and reimagine rural life while confronting the many stereotypes and myths that exist Rural Racism Neil Chakraborti,Jon Garland,2013-05-13 Rural issues are currently attracting unprecedented levels of interest with the debates surrounding the future of traditional rural customs and practice becoming a significant political concern However the problem of racism in rural areas has been largely overlooked by academics practitioners and researchers who have sought almost exclusively to develop an understanding of racism in urban contexts This book aims to address this oversight by examining notions of ethnic identity otherness and racist victimisation that have tended to be marginalised from traditional rural discourse New Rural Cinema Tim

Lindemann,2024-02-19 In the past decade spanning from the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis to the beginning of the Covid 19 pandemic rural poverty in the United States has risen dramatically The impact of the pandemic is set to intensify these inequalities as the decades of neoliberal dismantling of public healthcare and other social institutions leave inhabitants of impoverished rural areas particularly vulnerable Even before this current exacerbation representations of rural landscape in American cinema have sought to spatially visualize the country s social inequalities and focus on the victims of poverty and marginalization The films discussed in this monograph Ballast 2008 Winter s Bone 2010 Beasts of the Southern Wild 2012 and Leave No Trace 2018 address deep rural poverty in a complex manner and facilitate an interactive social understanding of landscape New Rural Cinema suggest a novel way of looking at landscape in cinema that responds to and guides its readers through this recent development in American Independent film It views the chosen films as expressions of a growing awareness of the dire inequality caused by neoliberal capitalism in the United States and the role landscape plays both in its mechanisms of social exclusion as well as in its collective contestation Beyond the workfare state Carpenter, Mick, Freda, Belinda, 2007-12-12 Beyond the Workfare State explores equality discrimination and human rights in relation to employability and welfare to work policies It draws extensively on new research from the SEQUAL Project undertaken for the European Social Fund which investigated seven dimensions of discrimination in a labour market that is theoretically open to all The book provides an overall analysis of policy shifts and presents a wide and distinctive range of illustrative studies that give voice to a variety of potentially marginalised groups Chapters deal with obstacles to labour market access around each of the following themes gender and class disability race and ethnicity geographical exclusion sexual orientation the problems of old and young people and refugees The authors draw attention to localised examples of promising practice but also connect these to a broader human rights agenda linking them to changing legislative and governance frameworks Its scope covers the whole of Great Britain and it shows how devolution in Scotland and Wales and at the regional level in England is creating new possibilities for mainstreaming good practice in this key area The book will be of great interest to academics and students in social policy and related fields It will also be valuable for professionals policy makers and practitioners in the regeneration community development and anti discrimination fields particularly in the UK but also in Europe and beyond

Land, God, and Guns Levi Gahman, 2020-05-15 This book is an antidote to the forms of American nationalism masculinity exceptionalism and self anointed prowess that are currently being flexed on the global stage Through a fascinating combination of ethnographic research across seven US states and the application of postcolonial anti racist feminist and poststructuralist theories Land God and Guns reveals how time honoured rites of passage associated with taken for granted notions of manhood in the American Heartland are constitutive of a constellation of colonial worldviews capitalist logics gender essentialisms ethnocentric religious beliefs jingoistic populism racial animus and embodied violence A constellation that within the US upholds a heteropatriarchal and racist ordering of life that both privileges and ultimately damages its main proliferators white settler men This is a detailed work that at once unravels rural white settler masculinity and the US state at their roots whilst demonstrating why any analysis of the cultural production and social practice of masculinity in the United States must take into account the country's historical trajectories of imperialism land dispossession nation state building enslavement extractive accumulation and valorisation of masculinist assertions of dominance

Policing the Rural Crisis Russell Hogg, Kerry Carrington, 2006 There is a growing sense of crisis in rural ways of life which manifests itself in economic decline depopulation depleted environments and a crisis of rural identities Crime is one potent marker of crisis the more so as it spoils the image of healthy cohesive community The social reaction it elicits the policing of this other rural is also a guide to the dimensions of crisis The social sciences have witnessed a renewed international interest in the study of other rurals the neglected invisible or excluded aspects of country life This book brings a fresh approach to the study of crime that challenges the urban centric assumptions of much western criminology and sociology It explores rural crime and social reactions to it in relation to processes and patterns of community formation and change in rural Australia including the social economic cultural and political forces shaping the history structure and everyday life of rural communities Policing the Rural Crisis is based on five years of extensive original empirical research in rural and regional Australia It draws on ideas and debates in contemporary social theory across several disciplines making the analysis relevant to the study of crime and social change elsewhere

The Sociology of Food and Agriculture Michael Carolan, 2016-02-12 In this second edition of The Sociology of Food and Agriculture students are provided with a substantially revised and updated introductory text to this emergent field The book begins with the recent development of agriculture under capitalism and neo liberal regimes and the transformation of farming and peasant agriculture from a small scale family run way of life to a globalized system Topics such as the global hunger and obesity challenges GM foods and international trade and subsidies are assessed as part of the world food economy The final section concentrates on themes of sustainability food security and food sovereignty The book concludes on a positive note examining alternative agri food movements aimed at changing foodscapes at levels from the local to the global With increased coverage of the financialization of food food and culture gender ethnicity and justice food security and food sovereignty the book is perfect for students with little or no background in sociology and is also suitable for more advanced courses as a comprehensive primer All chapters include learning objectives suggested discussion questions and recommendations for further reading to aid student learning

Rural Regeneration in the UK Simon Pemberton, 2019-04-26 Rural Regeneration in the UK provides an accessible yet critical overview of rural regeneration policy and governance in the UK It charts the key patterns and processes of rural change since 1945 and the emergence and evolution of rural regeneration policy and governance in shaping rural spaces A key objective of the book is to highlight how and to what extent rural regeneration policy and governance are responsive to an increasingly differentiated and uneven rural economy and society Part One considers the context for rural regeneration including theoretical frameworks of relevance and the ways in which rural regeneration policy and governance have been framed In particular it includes a consideration of how the rural has been made thinkable and the extent to which this has moved beyond traditional concerns with agricultural development Part Two highlights the key dimensions and spaces of rural regeneration This includes responses to rural change from within the rural including community led approaches the use of culture and the extent to which approaches may be converging or diverging within a devolved UK Rural Regeneration in the UK provides a comprehensive and integrated analysis of responses to rural change that will appeal to a broad audience of students scholars and practitioners both in the UK and abroad

Tourism and Migration C.M. Hall, A.M. Williams, 2013-06-29 The origins of this book lie in a project of the International Geographical Union Study Group on the Geography of Sustainable Tourism The theme Tourism and migration reflects the growing interests of tourism geographers in common with other geographers and social scientists to reach across traditional cleavages in the way research is undertaken and knowledge is formed In this instance the aim was to connect the largely discrete research domains of tourism studies and migration This was informed not only by awareness of the limitations of disciplinary barriers but also by the growing need to respond to the emergence of new forms of mobility and circulation which fitted uncomfortably into many of the analytical categories of tourism and migration studies The extension of property rights across boundaries e g second homes vacation homes and time shares space time convergence changing approaches to work and leisure and structural changes in economies and the demographic profiles of societies are only some of the factors which have generated these new forms of mobility These serve to bind places and individuals in new and challenging ways with implication for both movers and stayers The various chapters of this volume bring together a range of dimensions and locations within which to study the relationships between tourism and migration Social Geographies Ruth

Panelli,2004-01-31 How do we describe ourselves Where have we do we will we live our lives Why are the differences between people a source of tension How can social change occur Social geography can assist in addressing these questions It provides ways of understanding and living in our contemporary world Providing students with the resources to understand both the theoretical and empirical approaches social geographers take when investigating social difference this text outlines key theoretical approaches and traces the core geographies of difference class gender race ethnicity and sexuality It concludes by showing how geographers work across these ideas of difference to understand questions of identity power and action Using illustrative examples from around the world Social Geographies includes Individual chapters on the main theoretical approaches to difference Individual chapters on the key concepts of identity power and action Reviews of the core literature with suggestions for further reading Biographies of key contemporary social geographers Glossary of key terms For students beginning human geography courses or in social geography modules this book is the essential primer

Leadership and Local Power in European Rural Development Imre Kovách,2017-05-15 Contemporary processes of economic social political and cultural restructuring are having profound impacts on the form and function of rural areas within the countries of the European Union and beyond Furthermore rural development policies and programmes at EU and national levels have been critical in shaping the responses of different rural areas across Europe to these wider processes of restructuring Contrasting empirical studies of ten European countries this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of the restructuring processes and the various national regional and local rural development programmes Adopting a different national perspective in each chapter it focuses particularly on issues of power and leadership in the evolution and administration of these programmes Five broad issues are examined in each case socio economic changes in rural areas the administrative context in which rural development and political activities take place the sociological context the political control of rural development and the use of different discourses of rurality in shaping the development process Social

Town Planning Clara Greed,2002-01-04 Many issues such as access for the disabled childcare facilities environmental matters and ethnic minority issues are excluded from town planning considerations by planning authorities This book introduces the concept of social town planning to integrate planning policy and practices with the cultural and social issues of the people they are planning for Part 1 provides background on the development of a social dimension to the predominantly physical land use based British town planning system Part 2 investigates a representative selection of minority planning topics in respect of gender race age and disability cross linked to the implications for mainstream policy areas such as housing rural planning and transport Part 3 discusses the likely influence of a range of global and European policy initiatives and organisations in changing the agenda of British town planning Planning for healthy cities sustainability social cohesion and equity are discussed Part 4 looks at the problem from a cultural perspective arguing that a great weakness in the British system resulting in ugly and impractical urban design has been the lack of concern among planners with social activities and cultural diversity Alternative more culturally inclusive approaches to planning are presented which might transcend the social spatial dichotomy such as urban time planning Concluding that the process of planning must change the authors agree that the culture and composition of the planning profession must particularly change to be more representative and reflective of the people they are planning for in terms of gender race and minority composition Englishness

Revisited Floriane Reviron-Piégay, 2020-10-27 What is Englishness Is there such a thing as a national temperament is there a character or an identity which can be claimed to be specifically English This collection of articles seeks to answer these questions by offering a kaleidoscopic vision of Englishness since the eighteenth century a vision that acknowledges stereotypes while at the same time challenging them Englishness is defined in contrast to Britishness the Celtic fringe Scotland in particular Europe and the Continent at large The effects of the Empire and of its loss are examined together with other socio economic factors such as the two World Wars de industrialization and the different waves of immigration Through a careful analysis of the arts literature philosophy historiography cultural and political studies produced in England and on the Continent over the last three centuries a composite image of Englishness emerges somewhere between centre and periphery tradition and innovation transience and timelessness rurality and urbanity commitment and isolation Englishness is thus revealed as a protean concept one which whether it is a historical or political construct a genuine emanation of a national desire or a simulacrum retains its fascination and this volume offers keys to understanding its diverse expressions

Rethorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century Charles A. Gallagher, France Winddance Twine, 2014-01-02 Rethorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century examines the role whiteness and white identities play in framing and reworking racial categories hierarchies and boundaries within the context of nation class gender and immigration It takes as its theoretical starting point the understanding that whiteness is not and nor has it ever been a static uniform category of social identification The scholarship in this book uses new empirical studies to show whiteness as a multiplicity of identities that are historically grounded class specific politically manipulated and gendered social relations that inhabit local custom and national sentiment Contributors to this book examine a wide range of issues yet all chapters are linked by one common denominator they examine how power and oppression are articulated redefined and asserted through various political discourses and cultural practices that privilege whiteness even when the prerogatives of the dominant group are contested

Rethorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century is an important new contribution to the study of whiteness for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic Studies Sociology Political Science and Ethnography This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Diverse Spaces of Childhood and Youth Ruth Evans, Louise Holt, 2016-04-08 Diverse Spaces of Childhood and Youth focuses on the diverse spaces and discourses of children and youth globally The chapters explore the influence of gender age and other socio cultural differences such as race ethnicity and migration trajectories on the everyday lives of children and youth in a range of international contexts These include the diverse urban environments of Istanbul Copenhagen Helsinki Toronto London and Bratislava and the contrasting rural settings of Ghana and England The analyses of children s young people s parents and professionals experiences and discourses provide critical insights into how gender and other socio cultural differences intersect The importance of everyday practices and performances in the formation of children s and young people s identities is revealed through for example friendships and everyday sociality mobilities and movements across space in both rural and urban environments The volume shows how discourses of childhood particularly those associated with risk intersect with difference The recognition of young people s agency and participation is central to many of the chapters whilst also raising methodological questions about how discourses of childhood and youth are researched Overall the book provides an original contribution to geographies of children youth and families and research on diversity and difference in global contexts This book was published as a special issue of Children s Geographies

Social Geographies Gill Valentine, 2014-06-06 Most social geography undergraduate textbooks are structured around different social categories splintering the discussion of gender class race and increasingly now sexuality and disability into separate chapters This has the effect firstly of making social relations rather than space the raison d'être of human geography the focus of undergraduate books secondly of ignoring the way that social relations are negotiated and contested in different space Rather than reproducing this conventional social geography format the aim of this proposed text is to make space the focus of analysis In doing so the intention is to make complex theoretical debates about space more accessible to students and encourage them to look at their own environments in new ways
