Humphrey Muller

Continental Drift Writers Club Press:

Continental Drift Humphrey Muller, 2000-04 Harry Denton is a middle aged professor who leaves his secure post at a London university on account of the sense of failure and embarrassment caused by his wife Anne's mounting debts. An inheritance left to him by his father enables him to start a new life by buying a small hotel in the Scottish Borders. But in this new context his marriage to Anne proves to be just as hopeless and loveless. He escapes through flights of fancy frequently contemplating suicide and becomes obsessed with one of his guests Eleanor who introduces him to the ideas of James Redfield in The Celestine Prophecy. Although ironically she comes across as a pretty simpleton married to an uncouth double glazing salesman she expresses the thinking that in time will transform Denton's life. It is not before he drifts into the violent world of Apartheid South Africa that he finds his dream.

The Cage and the Cross Humphrey Muller, 2000-06-27 Like James Joyce's character Stephen Daedalus Denton searches deeply into his soul seeking to communicate and understand the consciousness of his race. Questioning his reason for living Denton preaches the Gospel to prisoners in Pretoria Central Prison. The author's blending of narrative and stream of consciousness interspersed with poetic epiphany captures the complex climate of Denton's spiritual journey. The author writes on a high dramatic level never in danger of losing the tension of a conflict that leads his character away from a fundamentalist belief in Christian doctrine to a wider acceptance of Christ and salvation through grace.

Late Cretaceous and Cenozoic History of North American Vegetation Alan Graham, 1999-03-25 This book is a unique and integrated account of the history of North American vegetation and paleoenvironments over the past 70 million years. It includes discussions of the modern plant communities, causal factors for environmental change, biotic response and methodologies. The history reveals a North American vegetation that is vast, immensely complex and dynamic.

Queerly Canadian, Second Edition Scott Rayter, Laine Halpern Zisman, 2022-09-14 In the second edition of this remarkable and comprehensive anthology many of Canada's leading sexuality studies scholars examine the fundamental role that sexuality has played and continues to play in the building of our nation and in our national narratives, myths and anxieties about Canadian identity. Thoroughly updated, this new edition features twenty-six new chapters on topics including Indigenous kinship, Blackness, masculinity, disability, queer resistance and sex education Covering both historical and contemporary perspectives on nation and community law and criminal justice organizing and activism health and medicine education marriage and family sport and popular culture and representation the essays also take a strong intersectional approach integrating analyses of race class and gender This interdisciplinary collection is essential for the Canadian sexuality studies classroom and for anyone interested in the mythologies and realities of queer life in Canada FEATURES Sixty percent new and expanded content with twenty six new chapters Thoroughly updated to reflect a strong emphasis on the diversity of queer experiences and identities in Canada Each chapter includes a brief introduction written for this collection by the author that provides helpful context about their work for both students and teachers Continent ,1923 The Story of Life ,2003-01-16 How did life begin What really was snowball earth Why did the dinosaurs go extinct Are we all descended from African Eve Will humans be responsible for the next major extinction All these are addressed in this fascinating book The story unfolds with the formation of the earth around four thousand million years ago though it took until after massive bombardment by asteroids a hundred million years later for life to emerge and another fifteen million years until more complex life began to appear Periods of relatively calm like a kaleidoscope held still were punctuated by five vigorous shakes of the kaleidoscope representing major extinctions with innumerable minor jolts along the way Five million years ago an able ape evolved that gradually came to dominate and control the other animals and plants Evolution in all its complexity has been put aside and the future lies in the hands of single species Southwood s love for his subject and for the life he describes shines through this carefully and straightforwardly crafted story It is generously illustrated with line drawings showing the creatures and plants that inhabited the changing world and reconstructions of entire habitats with maps of the globe that show the progress of the land itself

Embracing the Tune of Term: An Psychological Symphony within Continental Drift Writers Club Press

In some sort of used by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous communication, the melodic elegance and mental symphony created by the written term frequently diminish in to the back ground, eclipsed by the relentless sound and disruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, located within the pages of Continental Drift Writers Club Press an enchanting literary value overflowing with natural thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts visitors on a mental trip, skillfully unraveling the concealed songs and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the moving analysis, we can discover the book is central harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
