today's digital world Communicating with Our Families Jill K. Burk, Maryl R. McGinley, Joel S. Ward, 2022-07-12
 Communicating with Our Families Continuity Interruption and Transformation examines how communication technologies are shaping childhood parenthood and families by exploring topics such as parental loneliness family storytelling family technology rules mindful technology usage multigenerational communication and community The scholars in this volume work from a human communication perspective and use various research modes of inquiry including quantitative qualitative and interpretive methods Perhaps the most significant question implied by our contributors in this volume is whether the introduction of new communication technologies will fundamentally alter familial forms and if those new groupings that emerge will resemble what has been generally assumed for several millennia Communication in a Civil Society Shelley D. Lane, Ruth Anne Abigail, John Gooch, 2016-04-28 Uncivil acts and messages too often color our experience with others Communication in a Civil Society offers an alternative way to teach and learn about communication Every chapter focuses on communication based on respect restraint and ethical choices The Handbook of Communication Science and Biology Kory Floyd, René Weber, 2020-05-07 The Handbook of Communication Science and Biology charts the state of the art in the field describing relevant areas of communication studies where a biological approach has been successfully applied The book synthesizes theoretical and empirical development in this area thus far and proposes a roadmap for future research As the biological approach to understanding communication has grown one challenge has been the separate evolution of research focused on media use and effects and research focused on interpersonal and organizational communication often with little intellectual conversation between the two areas The Handbook of Communication Science and Biology is the only book to bridge the gap between media studies and human communication spurring new work in both areas of focus With contributions from the field's foremost scholars around the globe this unique book serves as a seminal resource for the training of the current and next generation of communication scientists and will be of particular interest to media and psychology scholars as well Nonverbal Communication in Close Relationships Laura K. Guerrero, Kory Floyd, 2006-08-15 This volume focuses on nonverbal messages and their role in close relationships friends family and romantic partners For scholars and students in personal relationship study as well as social psychology interpersonal nonverbal communication family Looseleaf Communication Matters and Connect Access Card Kory Floyd, 2014-07-02 Communication Matters Because great communicators are made not born Through Communication Matters highly interactive program students learn that our instincts aren't as good as we think they are and develop the skills needed to become effective communicators The program prompts students to question their assumptions helps them to move beyond their personal daily communication experiences and challenges them to think critically about why and how they communicate in the ways they do Connect for Communication Matters Second Edition reflects our increasingly diverse interactive and digital world by using hands-on features Through an interactive eBook a suite of student videos for public speaking and dynamic online activities students are urged to consider which choices are likely to be effective and which less so

LearnSmart McGraw Hill's adaptive learning system assesses students' knowledge of course content and maps out personalized study plans for success. The result: Students are able to internalize core communication principles, adapt their communication behavior more effectively, and actively apply those strategies to all aspects of their lives. Connect is the only integrated learning system that empowers students by continuously adapting to deliver precisely what they need when they need it and how they need it so that your class time is more engaging and effective.

Race and the Senses Christopher Brown, Sachi Sekimoto, 2020-06-08 In Race and the Senses Sachi Sekimoto and Christopher Brown explore the sensorial and phenomenological materiality of race as it is felt and sensed by the racialized subjects. Situating the lived body as an active affective and sensing participant in racialized realities, they argue that race is not simply marked on our bodies but rather felt and registered through our senses. They illuminate the sensorial landscape of the racialized world by combining the scholarship in sensory studies, phenomenology, and intercultural communication. Each chapter elaborates on the felt bodily sensations of race, racism, and racialization that illuminate how somatic labor plays a significant role in the construction of racialized relations of sensing. Their thought-provoking theorizing about the relationship between race and the senses includes race as a sensory assemblage, the phenomenology of the racialized face and tongue, kinesthetic feelings of blackness, as well as the possibility of cross-racial empathy. Race is not merely socially constructed but multisensorially assembled, engaged, and experienced. Grounded in the authors' experiences, one as a Japanese woman living in the USA and the other as an African American man from Chicago, Race and the Senses is a book about how we feel the racialized world into being.

Films as Rhetorical Texts Janice D. Hamlet, 2019-11-13 Films as Rhetorical Texts: Cultivating Discussion about Race, Racism, and Race Relations presents critical essays focusing on select commercial films and what they can teach us about race, racism, and race relations in America. The films in this volume are critically assessed as rhetorical texts using various aspects and components of critical race theory, recognizing that race and racism are intricately ingrained in American society. Contributors argue that by viewing and evaluating culture-centered films often centered around race and critically analyzing them, faculty and students can promote the opportunity for genuine open discussions about race, racism, and race relations in the United States, specifically in the higher education classroom. Scholars of film studies, media studies, race studies, and education will find this book particularly useful.

Engaging Theories in Family Communication Dawn O. Braithwaite, Elizabeth A. Suter, Kory Floyd, 2017-09-13 Engaging Theories in Family Communication Second Edition delves deeply into the key theories in family communication, focusing on theories originating both within the communication discipline and in allied disciplines. Contributors write in their specific areas of expertise, resulting in an exceptional resource for scholars and students alike who seek to understand theories spanning myriad topics, perspectives, and approaches. Designed for advanced undergraduate and graduate students studying family communication, this text is also relevant for scholars and students of personal relationships.

interpersonal communication and family studies This second edition includes 16 new theories and an updated study of the state of family communication Each chapter follows a common pattern for easy comparison between theories

Affectionate Communication in Close Relationships Kory Floyd, 2019 Reviews and critiques empirical research on affectionate communication in close relationships and offers questions for future study Widening the Family Circle Kory Floyd, Mark T. Morman, 2013-08-20 Widening the Family Circle New Research on Family Communication Second Edition continues to address historically under studied family relationships such as those involving grandparents in laws cousins stepfamilies and adoptive parents In this engaging text editors Kory Floyd and Mark T Morman bring together a diverse collection of empirical studies theoretic essays and critical reviews of literature on communication to constitute a stronger more complete understanding of communication within the family Crossing the Racial Divide Kathleen Korgen, 2002-12-30 In interviews in cities and towns across the United States from New York to Los Angeles and from Madison to Dallas members of 40 black and white pairs of friends reflect on how they became friends how racial issues are addressed and how their friendships have influenced their views and in some cases their actions Utilizing a sociological framework to examine the friendships Korgen offers readers a rare glimpse into an even rarer phenomenon and sheds light on important aspects of race relations in America How do close friendships between blacks and whites develop Why are cross racial friendships so rare How do these friendships navigate the issue of race Crossing the Racial Divide answers these questions through a lively discussion of the problems and issues and through the voices of members of cross racial friendships In interviews in cities and towns across the United States from New York to Los Angeles and from Madison to Dallas members of 40 black and white pairs of friends reflect on how they became friends how racial issues are addressed and how their friendships have influenced their views and in some cases their actions Utilizing a sociological framework to examine the friendships Korgen offers readers a rare glimpse into an even rarer phenomenon and sheds light on important aspects of race relations in America Challenging both the traditional notion that blacks and whites are opposites and the increasingly popular notion of colorblindness the author reveals that while close black white friendships follow the concept of homophily we cannot just wish away the tensions and disparities that exist between most white and black Americans Cross racial friendships provide a unique perspective that makes racism and racial separation both more visible and more vulnerable Put into sociological context the stories revealed in this book make evident the institutional barriers existing between most black and white Americans and offer insight into the means to dismantle them ICA Newsletter International Communication Association, 1999 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Communication Matters Comm 103 for San Diego State Kory Floyd, 2013
