Communities Women Assam Thinking Together:

Communities of Women in Assam Nandana Dutta, 2015-12-22 This book uses communities of women as a framework for reading women's experience rights and aspirations in Assam and Northeast India. It explores the varying roles played by such communities in the formation of society, the emergence of a women's public sphere and the representation of these communities in culture. The essays in the volume study a host of women's communities including the Mahila Samiti, Jain women's organisations, Lekhika Sanstha, lesbian communities, religious gatherings, scientific and environmental groups, women's collaborations through cookbooks as well as nebulous communities of victims of persecution. They examine how women's communities are both empowering and transformational but may paradoxically also be regressive and static. Lucid, analytical and rich with case studies, this volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of gender studies, sociology, political science, history and cultural studies, particularly those interested in Northeast India.

Re-writing Women as Victims María José Gámez Fuentes, Sonia Núñez Puente, Emma Gómez Nicolau, 2019-10-17 This volume critically analyses political strategies, civil society initiatives and modes of representation that challenge the conventional narratives of women in contexts of violence. It deepens into the concepts of victimhood and agency that inform the current debate on women as victims. The volume opens the scope to explore initiatives that transcend the pair abuser-victim and explore the complex relations between gender and violence and individual and collective accountability through politics, activism and cultural productions in order to seek social transformation for gender justice. In innovative and interdisciplinary case studies, it brings attention to initiatives and narratives that make new spaces possible in which to name, self-identify and resignify the female political subject as a social agent in situations of violence. The volume is global in scope, bringing together contributions ranging from India, Cambodia or Kenya to Quebec, Bosnia or Spain. Different aspects of gender-based violence are analysed from intimate relationships, sexual violence, military contexts, society and institutions. Re-writing Women as Victims: From Theory to Practice will be a key text for students, researchers and professionals in gender studies, political sciences, sociology and media and cultural studies. Activists and policy makers will also find its practical approach and engagement with social transformation to be essential reading.

Gendering Peace in Violent Peripheries Uddipana Goswami, 2022-08-12 This book forwards Assam and Northeast India as a specific location for studying operations of gendered power in multi-ethnic conflict, habituated geopolitical peripheries globally. In the shifting and relational margins of such peripheral societies, power and agency are constantly negotiated and in flux. Notions of masculinity are redefined in an interlaced environment of militarization, hyper-masculinization and gendered violence. These interconnections inform victimhood and agency among the most vulnerable, marginalized constituencies, namely women and migrants. By centering the marginalized in its inquiry, the book analyzes obstacles to achieving positive, organic peace based on cooperation and mutual healing. The tools used to perpetuate an endless cycle of violence that makes conflict a habit, a way of life, are identified in order to enable resistance.

against them from within the margins Such resistance must be based on reflexivity and strategic cautious radicalism This involves critically interrogating the inherent connections between engendered pasts and feminist futures local changes and global contexts as well as between small incremental changes and big shifts impacting entire societies nations and global orders This book will be of much interest to students of ethnic conflict conflict resolution feminist peace and Asian South Asian politics

Materiality and Visuality in North East India Tiplut Nongbri, Rashi Bhargava, 2021-07-16 This edited book set in the context of North East India explores issues concerning symbols meanings representations and social implications of materiality and visuality as well as the dynamics of power social reproduction ideological dominance and knowledge production from an interdisciplinary perspective It seeks to answer the question of why some things matter more than others or what happens when certain things are made more visible than others The book provides valuable insights into the process of identity construction through the use of cultural sources both material and visual Following on the debates discussions on material and visual culture in the 1970s and 1980s the book argues that instead of viewing objects as mere representation s one should see them as active agents in creating perceptions bodily practices discourses and perceptions of our social world Each chapter in the book unravels and engages with these pertinent issues in order to arrive at a more comprehensive understanding of the status quo The book is of interest to scholars of ethnicity identity construction politics and state cultural studies media studies visual social and cultural anthropology and sociology as well as lay readers who want to learn more about the region

The Path of Desire Hugh B. Urban, 2024-03-27 A provocative study of contemporary Tantra as a dynamic living tradition Tantra one of the most important religious currents in South Asia is often misrepresented as little more than ritualized sex Through a mixture of ethnography and history Hugh B Urban reveals a dynamic living tradition behind the sensationalist stories Urban shows that Tantric desire goes beyond the erotic encompassing such quotidian experiences as childbearing and healing He traces these holistic desires through a series of unique practices institutional Tantra centered on gurus and esoteric rituals public Tantra marked by performance and festival folk Tantra focused on magic and personal well being and popular Tantra imagined in fiction film and digital media The result is a provocative new description of Hindu Tantra that challenges us to approach religion as something always entwined with politics and culture thoroughly entangled with ordinary needs and desires

Gendered Publics Hemjyoti Medhi, 2023-10-15 This book offers a comprehensive appraisal of the relatively unexplored but highly impactful women s association the Assam Mahila Samiti which led one of the most remarkable women s movements in colonial India Central to the Assam Mahila Samiti story is its founding Secretary the firebrand feminist Chandraprava Saikiani 1901-72 who despite being an unwed mother and belonging to a lower caste was a celebrated writer a polemical columnist and a successful publicist of two vernacular magazines in the 1940s The book traverses these individual and collective journeys from the 1920s to the 1950s exploring their negotiations with the complex terrain of the multi ethnic Brahmaputra valley during the highly politicised period of the anti colonial movement It argues that theoretical understanding of the term public sphere may be enriched through an engagement with rare archival materials of these middle class women s associations hand written minutes of meetings in a local language in early twentieth century colonial India and posits that gender may not function merely as constitutive of the public but how women s collectives may shape transform and orchestrate a veritable gendered public resistant to both native patriarchy and sometimes to colonial authority
