Public expenditure Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Health Committee,2010-12-14 The October 2010 Spending Review has imposed tough settlements on both health and social care and sets a highly challenging context for the delivery their services over the next four years In both cases efficiency gains will need to be made on an unprecedented scale if care levels are to be maintained and the quality of services improved The Committee does not agree with the Government s premise that the Spending Review settlement and the two year pay freeze will provide councils with the necessary resources to sustain current eligibility levels for social care Councils will need to sustain further efficiency savings of up to 3.5% per annum to avoid reducing their levels of care In this context the Government is placing understandable emphasis on the extra funding for social care through the Personal Social Services grant and the 1bn through the NHS However there is concern that the increases in the PSS grant will not be reflected in changes in actual spending on social care It is also vital that the savings required by the health settlement are made by efficiency gains rather than making cuts particularly considering the uncertain landscape of the NHS reorganisation following the White paper Improving the interaction between health and social care will be critical if the necessary cost savings on both sides are to be realised It is not enough for the government to exhort change in this area there must be a formal policy infrastructure that recognises the importance of achieving a better overall interface between the two sectors

Supporting People with Dementia at Home David Challis,Caroline Sutcliffe,Jane Hughes,Richard von Abendorff,Pamela Brown,John Chesterman,2016-04-01 Supporting People with Dementia at Home details a groundbreaking study of an intensive care management scheme designed for older people with dementia that are at risk of entry into residential care The authors use a quasi experimental approach to compare how the individuals on the mental health team in one community were matched to a similar community without the service They analyze the evidence focusing on the eventual placement of the individual suffering the quality of care they receive and also the needs of their carers This book offers valuable evidence about the factors which can maximize the independence and well being of older people with dementia from the perspective of older people and their carers For those who commission services it is highly relevant to service models for the National Dementia Strategy in England

Improving services and support for people with dementia Great Britain: National Audit Office,2007-07-04 Dementia is a term for a range of progressive terminal organic brain diseases including Alzheimer s Some 560 000 people in England are estimated to have dementia with a steeply rising trend over the coming years Some 476 000 people are unpaid carers of people with dementia Direct costs to the NHS and social care are currently at least 3 3 billion a year but the overall annual economic burden is estimated at 14 3 billion This report examines what health and social care services are available for people with dementia and their unpaid carers in England and whether they are providing effective and good quality support Until 2005 the Department of Health attached little priority to dementia and progress was hampered by a lack of good quality data by stigma and by the low level of political and national focus on older people s mental health The NAO conclude that services are not currently delivering value for money to taxpayers or people with dementia and their families Whilst health and social care services are spending significantly on dementia spending is late too few people are being diagnosed or being diagnosed early enough Early interventions that are known to be cost effective and which would improve quality of life are not being made widely available Services in the community care homes and at the end of life are not delivering consistently or cost effectively against the objective of supporting people to live independently as long as possible in the place of their choosing The rapid ageing of the population means costs will rise and services are likely to become increasingly inconsistent and unsustainable without redesign Recommendations cover improving diagnosis and early intervention improving management of services gearing the system to respond to the major challenges of dementia in the future

Duties to Care Rosie Harding,2017-08-24 The world of dementia care can be a difficult one for carers to navigate posing new challenges at every stage from diagnosis to end of life In her ground breaking investigation rooted in original empirical data Rosie Harding explores the regulatory and legal dimensions of caring for a person with dementia By exploring carers experiences of dementia care she critiques the limitations of current approaches to health and social care regulation This socio legal work is a new contribution to the study of feminist care ethics relationality and vulnerability theory Duties to Care argues that by understanding the relational contexts that shape everyday experiences of regulatory structures we will better understand where law is operating to support carers and where it adds to the difficulties they experience Ultimately the challenges that dementia poses will be addressed only if we find solutions that take account of the relationality of life dementia and law

Department of Health departmental report 2007 Great Britain: Department of Health,2007-05-17 Dated May 2007 On cover Departmental report The health and personal social services programmes Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,2012 Children and

Medical Proofs, Social Experiments Catherine Will,Tiago Moreira,2016-04-22 Clinical trials have become key technologies for decision making in the contemporary world Their results shape medical practice and determine priorities across health care systems but the work that goes into producing credible data is often hidden Medical Proofs Social Experiments draws upon detailed case studies to argue that to understand their value we need to pay more attention to the contexts for these modern medical experiments recovering the diverse ways in which they involve doctors patients and the public the local practices that contribute to their completion and the complex negotiation of their results in professional and statutory institutions Presenting research from the UK USA Sweden and The Netherlands the ethnographic perspective adopted by the authors provides a space to explore the investments of different state market professional and other actors in particular forms of evaluation and the ways in which trial methodologies may be re designed or re imagined to satisfy social and political expectations As such this volume will be of interest to those working in the fields of science and technology studies the sociology and anthropology of medicine and researchers of policy and organisation in health care Combining Paid Work and Family Care Teppo Kröger,Sue Yeandle,2014-10-15 As populations age around the world increasing efforts are required from both families and governments to secure care and support for older and disabled people At the same time both women and men are expected to increase and lengthen their participation in paid work which makes combining caring and working a burning issue for social and employment policy and economic sustainability International discussion about the reconciliation of work and care has previously focused mostly on childcare Combining paid work and family care widens the debate bringing into discussion the experiences of those providing support to their partners older relatives and disabled or seriously ill children The book analyses the situations of these working carers in Nordic liberal and East Asian welfare systems Highlighting what can be learned from individual experiences the book analyses the changing welfare and labour market policies which shape the lives of working carers in Finland Sweden Australia England Japan and Taiwan Healthy Aging and the Community Environment Chanam Lee,Xuemei Zhu,Anna Patricia Lane,Erja Portegijs,2021-11-29 London's Population and the 2011 Census Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. London Regional Committee,2010 The London Regional Committee warns that preparations for the 2011 Census risk a repeat of the difficulties of the 2001 Census where the population of several London boroughs was seriously undercounted The acknowledged undercounting of London s population in the 2001 Census continues to have an effect on the funding provided to London s boroughs for the services they are expected to provide for the capital s population The report welcomes improvements which have been made to arrangements for the conduct of the 2011 Census and acknowledges that substantial lessons have been learned from the 2001 exercise However the MPs raise concerns that these preparations will not be enough to boost the number of census forms delivered completed and collected in the capital to acceptable response levels The Committee calls on the Office for National Statistics ONS to address potential problems with recruitment of skilled enumerators with the local knowledge required to ensure the successful delivery and collection of as many Census forms as possible The MPs also recommend that ONS discusses with London boroughs the methods it proposes to use to calculate final Census figures and estimate missing returns in order to share expertise on the particular population profiles in each borough
