per use model these calls for a more inclusive recreation system have suggested the sector's business like practices should be of concern because they are in direct opposition to the historic mandate of equal opportunity A central assumption underlying these calls for the recreation profession to return to its historical roots is that municipal recreation services until the late 1980s and early 1990s were available to all members of society This narrative is however a romanticized account of recreation's history In this book Lisa Tink challenges the often repeated narrative of a more inclusive and equitable era in recreation's past Tracing some of the conditions that have given rise to what she has termed the recreation industrial complex Tink's research demonstrates how recreation has by design served the interests of white heterosexual able bodied middle to upper class Canadians By exposing the ways particular bodies came to be centered in a recreation context the purpose of this important piece of recreation scholarship is to demonstrate how historical inclusions and exclusions whether intentional or not were in fact part of a broader biopolitical project intended to sustain white supremacy with the ultimate goal of encouraging critical dialogues about what is inherently problematic difficult and dangerous in the discourses practices and policies that govern our contemporary recreation systems

Creativity from Suburban Nowheres Ilja Van Damme, Ruth McManus, Michiel Dehaene, 2023-07-26 Looking at suburbs as places of creativity gives rise to novel and thought provoking narratives that typically run counter to the idea that suburbs are sites of ordinary mundane and everyday practices Far from being geographies of nowhere dull materialistic and monotone suburbs are unpacked as being heterogeneous and historically layered places of living work and creation Situating creativity in place and time Creativity from Suburban Nowheres displaces mainstream understandings of creativity and widespread stereotypes commonly associated with the suburbs Contributors explore the particular forms of creativity that suburbs elicit both in the process of their making materialization and community construction and in the myriad ways in which suburbs are inhabited and experienced They highlight accounts of suburbs as places that give people the space and latitude to shape individual and collective identities through creative practices at odds with mainstream culture and often remote from the classic agglomeration assets associated with inner cities Anchored in historical and geographical research this volume highlights how and in what forms creativity should be understood in the suburbs why and when creativity can be found and how the notion of suburban creativity overthrows ingrained and dominant normative viewpoints Rather than seeing creativity arise despite its suburban location Creativity from Suburban Nowheres illuminates the emancipatory potential of suburbs for creativity

Understanding the Under 3s and the Implications for Education Sylvie Rayna, Ferre Laevers, 2016-04-08 This book originated from an awareness of the persistent lack of knowledge supporting a more respectful reception and approach to the youngest in our changing societies It follows initiatives of networks of researchers from several countries sharing insights from current studies carried out in their different cultures Introduced by a state of art review like chapter on birth to 3 literature the book which can be pictured as a composition begins with a journey inside the creativity of these young persons and a picture of a companionable learning It deals with the role of the spatial and physical dimensions of the setting and pictures how the educator can create meaningful participation and launch early exercises in democracy with respect for diversities It provides a deeper understanding of a pedagogical accompaniment based on participatory alliance and of the development of communication and language The text will be a useful addition to researchers practitioners and other stakeholders This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal
