

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a cemetery. The scene is misty and has a warm, autumnal color palette of browns, yellows, and oranges. Bare, leafless trees with intricate branch structures are visible in the background. In the foreground, a path or a row of graves is partially visible, with some dark, possibly wooden, structures that could be headstones or benches. The overall mood is somber and reflective.

Companion To My Tears Working Through The Process Of Bereavement:

Companion to My Tears Margaret Anne Roberts Drucker, 1994-12 Consolation and encouragement for those who are working through the process of bereavement My Seasons of Grief K.R. McMahon, 2015-09-21 NEW THING I am a rarity in this modern world in this Quantum Age now in the sea of life we all have yachts with a spare engine and a jet ski We like to keep moving to duck and weave to crawl if we cant walk or to run in every other instance we move our culture society economy media ecology our whole way of life here in the West at least has been centered around the notion that we always ought to be moving full of motion sickness this feeling the feeling of moving simulated to perfection by our greatest creation the automobile this allows us to know that we are in fact alive and not dead but I believe there is a further benefit that this constant motion allows for us to ignore another of the more serious life defining questions what are we rushing towards Where does this treadmill ultimately lead The answer is the same for all of us sick healthy fat bald ugly short accomplished home wreckers murderers free men ultimately we will all die Kevin Ross McMahon 11 19 1984 6 29 2013 Encourage each other in my death with calls to go farther up and farther in in this life so that you are prepared for the next as best you can Alright thats hardly all I have but still it must suffice I fear Peace joy and delightful things to you all Love always Ross
