Chang, Pei-yin Lin, 2019-04-26 Positioning Taiwan in a Global Context examines modern Taiwanese culture through the prism of global cultural interactions Challenging the view of Taiwan as a product of transience and displacement it highlights Taiwan's subjectivity viewing the island as a site of a global development that epitomizes both resistance and negotiation in the process of cultural flows The fourteen contributions by an international team of scholars investigate the multi layered and

Eva Huang, John Benson, Ying Zhu, 2016-03-17 Education has long been highly valued in China and continues to be highly valued both by the state which appreciates the value of education for maintaining China's economic rise and by parents who affected by the One Child Policy devote a large proportion of their incomes to their one child's education This book explores current systems of teacher management in China and assesses their effectiveness It charts the development of China's education system outlines present day human resource management methods in Chinese schools including practices for recruitment and selection training and development performance appraisal and rewards both pay and non financial rewards and describes recent changes and innovations The book concludes that a high performance work system enhanced by traditional paternalistic humanised management and by pragmatism predominates with important consequences for teachers jobs and performance and for the quality of students school life Sinoglossia Andrea Bachner, Howard Chiang, Yu-lin

Lee, 2023-10-12 Sinoglossia places the terms of embodiment mediality and translation at the center of analytical inquiry into Chinese and Sinophone cultures Converging in the rubric of Sinoglossia the chapters in this volume introduce a theory defined by cultural formations not overdetermined by Sinitic linguistic ties The concept of Sinoglossia combines a heteroglossic and a heterotopian approach to the critical study of mediated discourses of China and Chineseness From the history of physical examinations and queer subalternity to the cinematic inscription of Chineseness as landscape and from Sinopop to the translational writings of Eileen Chang and Syaman Rapongan this book argues for a visible conceptualization of cultural objects conditions and contexts that draws attention to an array of polyphonic multi discursive and multilingual articulations In this new horizon of understanding place or topos necessarily constitutes the possibility of friction and source of innovation Sinoglossia opens new possibilities for critical studies of China Chineseness and Chinese cultures Bringing together pathbreaking scholarship from diverse perspectives and highlighting multiplicity and heterogeneity on a range of topics this volume is a vital addition to a range of fields Karen L Thornber Harvard University Vitality centering and theorizing processes of embodiment mediality and translation this timely and rich volume simultaneously reflective speculative comparative and historically informed convincingly articulates Sinoglossia as a flexible heterogeneous approach to intercultural phenomena tenuously identified as Chinese or Sinophone Brian Bernards University of Southern California Asia-Pacific Film

Footbinding and Women's Labor in Sichuan Hill Gates, 2014-12-05 When Chinese women bound their daughters feet many consequences ensued some beyond the imagination of the binders and the bound The most obvious of these consequences was to impress upon a small child s body and mind that girls differed from boys thus reproducing gender hierarchy What is not obvious is why Chinese society should have evolved such a radical method of gender marking Gendering is not simply preparation for reproduction rather its primary significance lies in preparing children for their places in the division of labor of a particular political economy Drawing on extensive fieldwork and interviews with almost 5 000 women this book examines footbinding as Sichuan women remember it from the final years of the empire and the troubled times before the 1949 revolution It focuses on two key questions what motivated parents to maintain this custom and how significant was girls work in China s final pre industrial century In answering these questions Hill Gates shows how footbinding was a form of labor discipline in the first half of the twentieth century in China when it was a key institution in a now much altered political economy Countering the widely held views surrounding the sexual attractiveness of bound feet to Chinese men footbinding as an ethnic boundary marker its role in female hypergamy and its connection to state imperatives this book instead presents a compelling argument that footbinding was in fact a crucial means of disciplining of little girls to lives of early and unrelenting labor This vivid and fascinating study will be of huge interest to students and scholars working across a wide range of fields including Chinese history oral history anthropology and gender studies

Taiwan Cinema Kuei-fen Chiu, Ming-yeh Rawnsley, Gary Rawnsley, 2017-07-14 The book examines recent developments in Taiwan cinema with particular focus on a leading contemporary Taiwan filmmaker Wei Te sheng who is responsible for such Asian blockbusters as Cape No 7 Warriors of the Rainbow Seediq Bale and Kano The book discusses key issues including why until about 2008 Taiwan cinema underwent a decline and how cinema is portraying current social changes in Taiwan including changing youth culture and how it represents indigenous people in the historical narrative of

Taiwan The book also explores the reasons why current Taiwan cinema is receiving a much less enthusiastic response globally compared to its reception in previous decades Siting Postcoloniality Pheng Cheah, Caroline S. Hau, 2022-11-14

The contributors to Siting Postcoloniality reevaluate the notion of the postcolonial by focusing on the Sinosphere the region of East and Southeast Asia that has been significantly shaped by relations with China throughout history Pointing out that the history of imperialism in China and Southeast Asia is longer and more complex than Euro American imperialism the contributors complicate the traditional postcolonial binaries of center periphery colonizer colonized and developed developing Among other topics they examine socialist China s attempts to break with Soviet cultural hegemony the postcoloniality of Taiwan as it negotiates the legacy of Japanese colonial rule Southeast Asian and South Asian diasporic experiences of colonialism and Hong Kong s complex colonial experiences under the British the Japanese and mainland China The contributors show how postcolonial theory s central concepts cannot adequately explain colonialism in the Sinosphere Challenging fundamental axioms of postcolonial studies this volume forcefully suggests that postcolonial theory needs to be rethought Contributors Pheng Cheah Dai Jinhua Caroline S Hau Elaine Yee Lin Ho Wendy Larson Liao Ping hui Lin Pei yin Lo Kwai Cheung Lui Tai lok Pang Laikwan Lisa Rofel David Der wei Wang Erebus Wong Robert J C Young The Civil Sphere in East Asia Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2019-02-21 Examines a range of contemporary social and cultural conflicts in East Asia and the echoes they have throughout the world Hong Kong Culture and Society in the New Millennium Yiu-Wai Chu, 2017-03-15 This book discusses the notion of Hong Kong as Method as it relates to the rise of China in the context of Asianization It explores new Hong Kong imaginaries with regard to the complex relationship between the local the national and the global The major theoretical thrust of the book is to address the reconfiguration of Hong Kong s culture and society in an age of global modernity from the standpoints of different disciplines exploring the possibilities of approaching Hong Kong as a method Through critical inquiries into different fields related to Hong Kong s culture and society including gender resistance and minorities various perspectives on the country s culture and society can be re assessed New directions and guidelines related to Hong Kong are also presented offering a unique resource for researchers and students in the fields of cultural studies media studies postcolonial studies globalization and Asian studies Forecasting China's Future Roger Irvine, 2015-06-26 China s future development is likely to have a huge impact on twenty first century global outcomes It is therefore surprising that thus far so little attention has been given to comparing and evaluating expert forecasts of China s future in the post Mao era This book presents an illuminating and comprehensive summary record of contrasting and competing expert forecasts and judgements about the major issues confronting China within four principal domains political economic environmental and international After considering the principal forecasting methods available to experts the author comments critically on the degree of success achieved in using those methods and emphasises the confusion created by the polarisation of opinion and by the failure of many experts to accept the high degree of uncertainty that characterises most of the key issues The book recommends a new approach based on the study of a hierarchy of critical uncertainties and on continuing analysis of opposing expert opinions about these uncertainties It emphasises the potential for both positive and negative outcomes for these critical uncertainties and the importance of maximising the potential for positive outcomes through improved analytical and policy frameworks Providing insights for specialists and non specialists into the most critical issues that will determine China s future direction this book will be of particular interest to students and scholars of political economic environmental and international relations issues in China and Asia as well as to readers in business and government

China's Unruly Journalists Jonathan Hassid,2015-12-22 Despite operating in one of the most tightly controlled media environments in the world Chinese journalists sometimes take extraordinary risks braving the perils of job loss or imprisonment to report sensitive stories As a result a group of journalists stands at the forefront of some of China s most dramatic social and political changes This book is the first to systematically explore why some Chinese journalists decide to challenge Communist Party power holders and the censorship system Based on 18 months of fieldwork interviews with over 70 Chinese journalists and academics and analysis of nearly 20 000 Chinese newspaper articles it investigates the motivation behind news workers who often brave the perils of challenging an authoritarian system Rather than being driven by commercial pressures or financial inducements the book suggests that many aggressive journalists push the limits of acceptable coverage because of their sense of public spirit and their professional role orientation It argues that ultimately these advocate journalists matter because they challenge specific policies and are changing China one article at a time By investigating these path breaking journalists the book engages with literature across the social sciences on contentious politics and social movements political communication media theory and the sociology of professions Therefore it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Chinese Studies Politics and Media Studies
