

buy it. A provocative picture can be too effective; it can attract so much attention as to hinder processing and recall of the ad's contents.

If the product is related to sex it works, but if it is just to grab attention than it is ineffective.

Humor Appeals

Humor appeals: funny advertisements

Counterarguing: a consumer thinks of reasons why he or she doesn't agree with the message. A funny ad inhibits counterarguing.

Fear Appeals

Fear Appeals: emphasizing the negative consequences that can occur unless the consumer changes a behavior or an attitude.

These types of messages are fairly uncommon in advertising, although they are one common in social marketing contexts in which organizations encourage people to convert to healthier lifestyles by quitting smoking, using contraception or relying on a designated driver.

The Message as Art Form: Metaphors Be with You

Advertising creatives rely (consciously or not) on well-known literary devices to communicate meanings.

Allegory: a story about an abstract trait or concept that advertisers tell in the context of a person, animal, vegetable or object.

Metaphor: places two dissimilar objects into a close relationship such that "A is B".

Simile: compares two objects, "A is like B". A and B, however dissimilar, share some quality that the metaphor highlights.

Resonance: a form of presentation that combines a play on words with a relevant picture. It employs an element that has a double meaning – such as a pun, in which two words sound similar but have different meanings.

The Source Versus the Message: Do We Sell the Steak or the Sizzle?

Should we worry more about what we say, or how we say it or who says it? The answer is: it depends.

Elaboration Likelihood Model (ELM): assumes that under conditions of high involvement, we take the central route to persuasion. Under conditions of low involvement, we take a peripheral route instead.
