Contesting The Commons Privatizing Pastoral Lands In Kenya:

Contesting the Commons Carolyn K. Lesorogol, 2008 Examines the highly disputed idea of privatizing communal land through one Samburu community Does Commons Grabbing Lead to Resilience Grabbing? The Anti-Politics Machine of Neo-Liberal Development and Local Responses Tobias Haller, Fabian Käser, Mariah Ngutu, 2021-01-06 This Special Issue contributes to the debate on land grabbing as commons grabbing with a special focus on how the development of state institutions formal laws and regulations for agrarian development and compensations and voluntary corporate social responsibility CRS initiatives have enabled the grabbing process It also looks at how these institutions and CSR programs are used as development strategies of states and companies to legitimate their investments This Special Issue includes case studies from Kenya Morocco Tanzania Cambodia Bolivia and Ecuador analysing how these strategies are embedded into neo liberal ideologies of economic development We propose looking at James Ferguson s notion of the Anti Politics Machine 1990 that served to uncover the hidden political basis of state driven development strategies We think it is of interest to test the approach for analysing development discourses and CSR policies in agrarian investments We argue based on a New Institutional Political Ecology NIPE approach that these legitimize the institutional change from common to state and private property of land and land related common pool resources which is the basis of commons grabbing that also grabbed the capacity for resilience of local people Livelihood and Landscape Change in Africa: Future Trajectories for Improved Well-Being under a Changing Climate Sheona Shackleton, Paul Hebinck, Chinwe Ifejika Speranza, Vanessa Masterson, Dian Spear, Maria Tengö, 2019-10-08 This book is based on a Special Issue of the journal LAND that draws together a collection of 11 diverse articles at the nexus of climate change landscapes and livelihoods in rural Africa all explore the links between livelihood and landscape change including shifts in farming practices and natural resource use and management The articles which are all place based case studies across nine African countries cover three not necessarily mutually exclusive thematic areas namely smallholder farming livelihoods under new climate risk five articles long term dynamics of livelihoods and landscape change and future trajectories two articles and natural resource management and governance under a changing climate spanning forests woodlands and rangelands four articles The commonalities key messages and research gaps across the 11 articles are presented in a synthesis article All the case studies pointed to the need for an integrated and in depth understanding of the multiple drivers of landscape and livelihood change and how these interact with local histories knowledge systems cultures complexities and lived realities Moreover where there are interventions such as new governance systems REDD or climate smart agriculture it is critical to interrogate what is required to ensure a fair and equitable distribution of emerging benefits Global Trends in Land Tenure Reform Caroline Archambault, Annelies Zoomers, 2015-02-11 This book explores the gendered dimensions of recent land governance transformations across the globe in the wake of unprecedented pressures on land and natural resources These complex contemporary forces are reconfiguring livelihoods and impacting women's positions, their tenure security and well-being and that of their families. Bringing together fourteen empirical community case studies from around the world, the book examines governance transformations of land and land-based resources resulting from four major processes of tenure change: commercial land-based investments, the formalization of customary tenure, the privatization of communal lands, and post-conflict resettlement and redistribution reforms. Each contribution carefully analyses the gendered dimensions of these transformations, exploring both the gender impact of the land tenure reforms and the social and political economy within which these reforms materialize. The cases provide important insights for decision makers to better promote and design an effective gender lens into land tenure reforms and natural resource management policies. This book will be of great interest to researchers engaging with land and natural resource management issues from a wide variety of disciplines including anthropology, sociology, development studies and political science as well as policy makers, practitioners and activists concerned with environment, development and social equity.

Conservation and Community in Kenya Carolyn K. Lesorogol, 2022-06-06

Community-based wildlife conservation is promoted as a win-win solution for wildlife and people that protects biodiversity while improving the economic status of communities living among wildlife. This book, based on mixed-method anthropological research conducted in Samburu County, Kenya, demonstrates that, counter to simple narratives promising benefits, community-based wildlife conservancies (CBCs) are complex social institutions layered on pre-existing land use practices with differential impacts for members. Through in-depth research in three communities, Carolyn K. Lesorogol explains how diverse social actors understand and operate CBCs, how benefits and costs are distributed, the gendered nature of CBCs and how they impact cooperation and conflict in communities. Lesorogol's analysis shows that economic benefits to members are generally very limited and while many perceive improvements in security emanating from CBCs, there is also evidence that they heighten tensions over land use as well as human-wildlife conflict. Looking toward the future, the book includes recommendations for improving the effectiveness and accountability of CBCs.

Milking the Elephant: Conservation and Community in Kenya offers critical insights into the implications of the CBC model for local pastoralist livelihoods, conservation and social relations.

Poetry & Commons Daniel Eltringham, 2022-05-13 Winner of the ASLE UKI Book Prize 2023

The commons and enclosure are among the most vital ways of thinking about poetry today, posing urgent ecological and political questions about land and resource ownership and use. Poetry Commons is the first study to read postwar and contemporary poetry through this lens by putting it in dialogue with the Romantic experience of agrarian dispossession. Employing an innovative transhistorical structure, the book demonstrates how radical Anglophone poetries since 1960 have returned to the enclosure of the commons in response to political and ecological crises. It identifies a commons turn in contemporary lyric that contests the new enclosures of globalized capital and resource extraction. In lucid close readings of a rich field of experimental poetries associated with the British Poetry Revival as well as from Canada and the United States, it analyses a landscape poetics of enclosure in relationship with Romantic verse Canonical Romantic poetry by Wordsworth and Clare is understood through the fine grain textures of the period s vernacular and radical verse and discourse around enclosure which the book demonstrates contain the seeds of neoliberal political economy Engaging with the work of Anne Lise Fran ois and Anna Tsing Poetry Commons theorizes commoning as marking out subsistence rhythms of resource which articulate plural irregular and tentative relations between human and nonhuman lifeworlds Handbook of Social Justice in the Global South Nikhil Deb,Manjusha Nair,Glenn W. Muschert,2025-03-12 This timely Handbook explores social justice in the Global South in an era of planetary crisis and shifting global dynamics Presenting the Global South as a space of belonging and resistance to the hegemony of global capitalism it identifies how to reimagine transformative futures for a just world Researching Institutions in Natural Resource Governance Fiona Nunan,2024-12-06 This book presents an overview of different data collection methods and approaches that have been used to identify and analyse institutions associated with natural resource governance Institutions as rules of the game are fundamental to the management governance and use of renewable natural resources such as fisheries forests and water Yet researching institutions particularly informal institutions can be challenging as they can be difficult to identify investigate and understand This volume tackles this challenge head on The innovative collection brings together contributions from different disciplines and traditions reporting and reflecting on a range of qualitative and quantitative research methods and experiences The book begins by reviewing definitions and typologies of institutions and introduces different approaches to researching institutions in natural resource governance namely the Bloomington School associated with Elinor Ostrom and Critical Institutionalism Following this each chapter provides an overview and example of application of research approaches and methods including mixed methods institutional grammar fuzzy cognitive mapping network analysis assemblage and ethnography The concluding chapter identifies key insights into institutions and lessons on researching institutions From these the chapter provides a set of observations on researching institutions in natural resource governance with the aim of providing guidance for new and experienced researchers The volume provides an essential introduction for students and researchers into the range of methods and approaches and their practical application that can be used to research institutions associated with natural resource governance Production, Consumption, Business and the Economy Donald C. Wood,2014-09-05 This volume is divided into four main sections these focus on commodities and their social meanings anthropological investigation of business systems and practices the economic importance of productive land in culture and society and a showcase of new research on the economic anthropology of Latin America Land Law in African Countries Oleg Igorevich Krassov,2022 The monograph studies the key aspects of land law of African countries customary land tenure laws customary rights to water forest cattle grazing the influence of colonial epoch on customary land tenure systems and the rights of African women to land Characteristic features of land and water rights under Islamic law are provided The current state of formal land law in the countries of North West

Central and East Africa is analyzed including the following the right of ownership to land and other natural resources types of various rights to land and natural resources and the relationship of formal law and customary land tenure systems For students graduate students and teachers of law schools employees of legislative executive and judicial authorities as well as for all those interested in land civil law and comparative legal studies Global Perspectives on Long Term Community Resource Management Ludomir R. Lozny, Thomas H. McGovern, 2019-06-21 Communal level resource management successes and failures comprise complex interactions that involve local regional and increasingly global scale political economic and environmental changes shown to have recurring patterns and trajectories The human past provides examples of long term millennial and century scale successes followed by undesired transitions collapse and rapid failure of collaborative management cooperation on the decadal scale Management of scarce resources and common properties presents a critical challenge for planners attempting to avoid the tragedy of the commons in this century Here anthropologists human ecologists archaeologists and environmental scientists discuss strategies for social well being in the context of diminishing resources and increasing competition The contributors in this volume revisit tragedy of the commons also referred to as drama or comedy of the commons and examine new data and theories to mitigate pressures and devise models for sustainable communal welfare and development They present twelve archaeological historic and ethnographic cases of user managed resources to demonstrate that very basic community level participatory governance can be a successful strategy to manage short term risk and benefits The book connects past present future by presenting geographically and chronologically spaced out examples of communal level governance strategies and overviews of the current cutting edge research The lesson we learn from studying past responses to various ecological stresses is that we must not wait for a disaster to happen to react but must react to mitigate conditions for emerging disasters African Futures , 2022-02-28 The essays in this collection are written to make readers re consider what is possible in Africa The essays shake the tree of received wisdom and received categories and hone in on the complexities of life under ecological and economic constraints Yet throughout this volume people do not emerge as victims but rather as inventors engineers scientists planners writers artists and activists or as children mothers fathers friends or lovers all as future makers It is precisely through agents such as these that Africa is futuring rethinking living confronting imagining and relating in the light of its many emerging tomorrows Driving the Samburu Bride Diane C. Perlov, 2020-11-11 Driving the Samburu Bride is a vivid account of a young anthropologist working in northern Kenya revealing insights into the Samburu culture and the culture of doing anthropology With engaging irony and a storyteller's gift the author takes the reader through the frustrating productive and occasionally euphoric stages of fieldwork Along the way Perlov connects theory and practice and recounts the evolution of her Samburu friendships forged over decades including the discovery of her unwitting impact on Samburu girls Mortgaging the Ancestors Parker Shipton, 2009-01-06 This title looks briefly at European and North American theories on private property and the mortgage then shows how these theories have played out as attempted economic reforms in Africa

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Fairness, Equity, and Justice Meng Li, David P. Tracer, 2017-09-18 This volume brings together cutting edge research from emerging and senior scholars alike representing a variety of disciplines that bears on human preferences for fairness equity and justice Despite predictions derived from evolutionary and economic theories that individuals will behave in the service of maximizing their own utility and survival humans not only behave cooperatively but in many instances truly altruistically giving to unrelated others at a cost to themselves Humans also seem preoccupied like no other species with issues of fairness equity and justice But what exactly is fair and how are norms of fairness maintained How should we decide and how do we decide between equity and efficiency How does the idea of fairness translate across cultures What is the relationship between human evolution and the development of morality The collected chapters shed light on these questions and more to advance our understanding of these uniquely human concerns Structured on an increasing scale this volume begins by exploring issues of fairness equity and justice in a micro scale such as the neural basis of fairness and then progresses by considering these issues in individual family and finally cultural and societal arenas Importantly contributors are drawn from fields as diverse as anthropology neuroscience behavioral economics bioethics and psychology Thus the chapters provide added value and insights when read collectively with the ultimate goal of enhancing the distinct disciplines as they investigate similar research questions about prosociality In addition particular attention is given to experimental research approaches and policy implications for some of society's most pressing issues such as allocation of scarce medical resources and moral development of children Thought provoking and informative Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Fairness Equity and Justice is a valuable read for public policy makers anthropologists ethicists psychologists neuroscientists and all those interested in these questions about the essence of human nature

Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective Adrienne E. Strong, Richard Powis, 2024-08-19 This fully updated new edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective carefully introduces and responds to changes in anthropological approaches to and perspectives on gender With two new editors and new authors from the Global South and underrepresented communities it combines theoretically and ethnographically based chapters to examine gender roles and ideology around the world The book is divided thematically into five parts with the editors opening each section with a succinct introduction to the principal issues The book retains some of the classic chapters while offering new contributions and extended discussions throughout on methodology It also has entirely new contributions that reflect more recent developments in the discipline including more emphasis on LGBTQ communities COVID and migration This new edition also features additional support for teaching and learning including a film list and discussion questions that are now offered as supplemental online materials The eighth edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective continues to be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate students encountering the anthropology of gender for the first time

Kenya Daniel Branch, 2011-11-15 On December 12 1963 people across Kenya joyfully celebrated independence from

British colonial rule anticipating a bright future of prosperity and social justice As the nation approaches the fiftieth anniversary of its independence however the people s dream remains elusive During its first five decades Kenya has experienced assassinations riots coup attempts ethnic violence and political corruption The ranks of the disaffected the unemployed and the poor have multiplied In this authoritative and insightful account of Kenya s history from 1963 to the present day Daniel Branch sheds new light on the nation s struggles and the complicated causes behind them Branch describes how Kenya constructed itself as a state and how ethnicity has proved a powerful force in national politics from the start as have disorder and violence He explores such divisive political issues as the needs of the landless poor international relations with Britain and with the Cold War superpowers and the direction of economic development Tracing an escalation of government corruption over time the author brings his discussion to the present paying particular attention to the rigged election of 2007 the subsequent compromise government and Kenya s prospects as a still evolving independent state

Pastoralism and Development in Africa Andy Catley,Jeremy Lind,Ian Scoones,2013-05-07 Once again the Horn of Africa has been in the headlines And once again the news has been bad drought famine conflict hunger suffering and death The finger of blame has been pointed in numerous directions to the changing climate to environmental degradation to overpopulation to geopolitics and conflict to aid agency failures and more But it is not all disaster and catastrophe Many successful development efforts at the margins often remain hidden informal sometimes illegal and rarely in line with standard development prescriptions If we shift our gaze from the capital cities to the regional centres and their hinterlands then a very different perspective emerges These are the places where pastoralists live They have for centuries struggled with drought conflict and famine They are resourceful entrepreneurial and innovative peoples Yet they have been ignored and marginalised by the states that control their territory and the development agencies who are supposed to help them This book argues that while we should not ignore the profound difficulties of creating secure livelihoods in the Greater Horn of Africa there is much to be learned from development successes large and small This book will be of great interest to students and scholars with an interest in development studies and human geography with a particular emphasis on Africa It will also appeal to development policy makers and practitioners

Power / Knowledge / Land Laura German,2022-10-10 The 2008 outcry over the global land grab made headlines around the world leading to a sustained interest in the dynamics and fate of customary land among both academics and development practitioners In Power Knowledge Land author Laura German profiles the consolidation of a global knowledge regime surrounding land and its governance within international development circles in the decade following this outcry and the growing enrollment of previously antagonistic actors within it Drawing theoretical insights on the inseparability of power and knowledge German reveals the dynamics of knowledge practices that have enabled the longstanding project of commodifying customary land and the more contemporary interests in acquiring and financializing it to be advanced and legitimated by capturing the energies of socially progressive forces By bringing theories of change from the emergent land governance orthodoxy into dialogue with the ethnographic evidence from across the African continent and beyond concepts masquerading as universal and self evident truths are provincialized and their role in commodifying customary land and entrenching colonial futurities put on display In doing so the volume brings wider academic debates surrounding productive forms of power into the heart of the land grab debate while enhancing their accessibility to a wider audience Power Knowledge Land takes current scholarly debates surrounding land grabs beyond their theoretical moorings in critical agrarian studies political economy and globalization into contemporary debates surrounding the politics of knowledge from theories of coloniality to ontological anthropology thereby enabling new dynamics of the phenomenon to be revealed The book deploys a pioneering epistemology integrating deconstructionist approaches to reveal the tactics truth claims and ontological assumptions of global knowledge brokers with systematic qualitative reviews and comparative study to contrast these dominant constructs with the evidence and reveal alternative ways of knowing land and practicing security from the ethnographic literature This helps to reveal the Western and modernist biases in the narratives that have been advanced about women custom and security revealing how the coloniality of knowledge works to grease the wheels of land takings by advancing highly provincialized constructs aligned with western interests as universal truths

Uncommoning, Difference and Politics Antonio Augusto Rossotto Ioris, 2024-12-30 The book presents a reinterpretation of the meaning and practices of uncommoning It provides a critical reflection on the frontiers of the modern world where uncommoning is often the key driving force underpinning a deceitful democracy and an exclusionary socio economy Uncommoning is a socio spatial process of othering grabbing and reordering that particularly impacts indigenous peoples This book revisits classical contemporary and decolonial literature as well as documents reports and archival data to analyse the Paraguayan case of uncommoning It examines how these processes have deep roots in the shortcomings of Western thinking including religious juridical and moral doctrines The book also demonstrates that Europe has major responsibilities and cannot be removed from the search for responses and alternatives After a detailed theoretical elaboration informed primarily by Hegel's socio spatial sensibilities the book empirically analyses the worldless production of Paraguay as a country with a fragile sovereignty and whose development is more than anything else highly subtractive The text will be of interest to scholars and researchers in development indigenous studies decolonisation human geography agribusiness South American studies as well as policy makers in international development agencies and NGOs
