tests the claim that as combinations of Civil and Common Law influences the mixed systems of contract law in Scotland and South Africa have anticipated the content of the Principles of European Contract Law PECL concluded and published in 2003 by the unofficial Commission on European Contract Law Going further it rigorously explores what the implications of a Europe wide contract law would be The current official moves towards a European contract law within the European Union make the critiques of PECL in this volume especially urgent and significant With a European contract law nearer to reality than ever before mere policy critiques are no longer enough This book provides the essential technical and substantive assessments of PECL from the perspective of Scots and South African contract lawyers and is offered to the European debate without prejudice as to the deeper policy questions At the same time this volume will inform Scots and South African lawyers about the substance of international developments in the field and suggest ways to develop their still vigorous and vital national laws to remain in step with the needs of the present day

Uniform Rules for European Contract Law? Francisco de Elizalde, 2018-06-28 Over the last 30 years the evolution of acquis communautaire in consumer law and harmonising soft law proposals have utterly transformed the landscape of European contract law The initial enthusiasm and approval for the EU programme has waned and post Brexit it currently faces increasing criticism over its effectiveness In this collection leading academics assess the project and ask if such judgements are fair and suggest how harmonisation in the field might be better achieved This book looks at the uniform rules in the context of the internal market national legislators and courts bridging the gap between common and civil law and finally their influence on non member states Critical and rigorous it provides a timely and unflinching critique of one of the most important fields of harmonisation in the European Union
