Contrastive Studies In Construction Grammar Constructional Approaches To Language:

Contrastive Studies in Construction Grammar Hans C. Boas, 2010-11-11 The papers in this volume provide a contrastive application of Construction Grammar By referencing a well described constructional phenomenon in English each paper provides a solid foundation for describing and analyzing its constructional counterpart in another language This approach shows that the semantic description including discourse pragmatic and functional factors of an English construction can be regarded as a first step towards a tertium comparationis that can be employed for comparing and contrasting the formal properties of constructional counterparts in other languages Thus the meaning pole of constructions should be regarded as the primary basis for comparisons of constructions across languages the form pole is only secondary This volume shows that constructions are viable descriptive and analytical tools for cross linguistic comparisons that make it possible to capture both language specific idiosyncratic properties as well as cross linguistic generalizations Construction Grammar Thomas Hoffmann, 2022-07-28 What do speakers of a language have to know and what can they figure out on the basis of that knowledge in order for them to use their language successfully This is the question at the heart of Construction Grammar an approach to the study of language that views all dimensions of language as equal contributors to shaping linguistic expressions The trademark characteristic of Construction Grammar is the insight that language is a repertoire of more or less complex patterns constructions that integrate form and meaning This textbook shows how a Construction Grammar approach can be used to analyse the English language offering explanations for language acquisition variation and change It covers all levels of syntactic description from word formation and inflectional morphology to phrasal and clausal phenomena and information structure constructions Each chapter includes exercises and further readings making it an accessible introduction for undergraduate students of linguistics and English language

Constructional Approaches to Syntactic Structures in German Hans C. Boas, Alexander Ziem, 2018-07-09 This book provides a state of the art collection of constructional research on syntactic structures in German The volume is unique in that it offers an easily accessible yet comprehensive and sophisticated variety of papers Moreover various of the papers make explicit connections between grammatical constructions and the concept of valency which has figured quite prominently in Germanic Linguistics over the past half century

Romance Perspectives on Construction Grammar Hans C. Boas, Francisco

González-García, 2014-08-15 The chapters in this book show how the different flavors of Construction Grammar provide illuminating insights into the syntax semantics pragmatics and discourse functional properties of specific phenomena in Romance languages such as Castilian Spanish French Romanian and Latin from a synchronic as well as a diachronic viewpoint The phenomena surveyed include the role of constructional meanings in novel verb noun compounds in Spanish the relevance of lexicalization for a constructionist analysis of complex prepositions in French the complementariness of fragments patterns and constructions as theoretical and explanatory constructs in verb complementation in French Latin and

Spanish non constituent coordination phenomena e.g. Right Node Raising, Argument Cluster Coordination and Gapping in Romanian and variable type framing in Spanish constructions of directed motion in the light of Leonard Talmy's 2000 typological differences of lexicalization between satellite framed and verb framed languages      Exploring

Functional-Cognitive Space Christopher S. Butler, Francisco González-García, 2014-08-28 This book intended primarily for researchers and advanced students expands greatly on previous work by the authors exploring the topography of the multidimensional functional cognitive space within which functional cognitive and/or constructionist approaches to language can be located. The analysis covers a broad range of 16 such approaches with some additional references to Chomskyan minimalism and is based on 58 questionnaire items each rated by 29 experts on particular models for their importance in the model concerned. These ratings are analysed statistically to reveal overall patterns of dissimilarity across models. The questionnaire ratings and experts' comments are then used together with the authors' close reading of the literature in detailed discussion leading to a final dichotomous rating for each feature in each model, the results again being analysed statistically. The final chapter presents the overall conclusions and suggests how existing collaborations between approaches could be strengthened and new ones created in future research. Exploring Functional Cognitive Space has been awarded the 2016 prize of the Spanish Association for Applied Linguistics (Asociación Española de Lingüística Aplicada AESLA) for work by experienced researchers.

Changing Structures Mark Kaunisto, Mikko Höglund, Paul Rickman, 2018-05-15 This book is a collection of eleven research articles which altogether serve as a contribution to the study of verb complementation and other constructions, an area of investigation which bridges observations on the spectrum of lexico-grammar, syntax and semantics. In terms of methodological approaches and the types of linguistic patterns examined, the chapters cast light on the subject from a variety of perspectives and the volume is structured in a way that groups the various perspectives under three main themes according to their main focus and/or methodological approaches: namely, the semantic and functional descriptions of constructions, the investigation into the distribution of complementation patterns and the study of innovative patterns in ESL contexts and languages other than English. All chapters in this volume employ data from large electronic corpora where possible: the BNC, COCA, COHA, GloWbE, NOW and newly compiled corpora representing regional varieties of English.

Language-Specific Factors in First Language Acquisition Anne-Katharina Harr, 2012-12-06 A growing number of studies have begun to examine the influence of language-specific factors on language acquisition. During language acquisition, German children from six years on use structures that are similar to those of adults in their language group and also encode all semantic components from an early age. In striking contrast, French children up to ten years have difficulties producing some of the complex structures that are necessary for the simultaneous expression of several semantic components. Nonetheless, in addition to these striking cross-linguistic differences, the results of this study also clearly show similar developmental progressions in other respects, suggesting the impact of general developmental determinants.      The Oxford

Handbook of Construction Grammar Thomas Hoffmann, Graeme Trousdale, 2013-04-18 This Handbook is the first authoritative reference work solely dedicated to the theory method and applications of Construction Grammar and will be a resource that students and scholars alike can turn to for a representative overview of its many sub theories and applications

Corpus Approaches to Language, Thought and Communication Wei-lun Lu, Naděžda Kudrnáčová, Laura A.

Janda, 2021-08-16 The studies in the present volume illustrate the current state of the art in the corpus based approach in cognitive linguistics which seeks to motivate linguistic phenomena through the combination of quantitative and qualitative analysis By focusing on language use in different contexts from a variety of perspectives each of the contributions in this volume presents its own unique take on the intertwined relationship between language thought and communication Thus each article shows how a combination of quantitative and qualitative analytical techniques helps shed new light on old issues reflecting the usage based nature of cognitive linguistics and illustrating the explanatory adequacy of corpus based methods Originally published as special issue of Review of Cognitive Linguistics 17 1 2019

Language Contact, Continuity and Change in the Genesis of Modern Hebrew Edit Doron, Malka Rappaport Hovav, Yael Reshef, Moshe Taube, 2019-09-18 The emergence of Modern Hebrew as a spoken language constitutes a unique event in modern history a language which for generations only existed in the written mode underwent a process popularly called revival acquiring native speakers and becoming a language spoken for everyday use Despite the attention it has drawn this particular case of language shift which differs from the better documented cases of creoles and mixed languages has not been discussed within the framework of the literature on contact induced change The linguistic properties of the process have not been systematically studied and the status of the emergent language as a discontinuous stage of its historical sources has not been evaluated in the context of other known cases of language shift The present collection presents detailed case studies of the syntactic evolution of Modern Hebrew alongside general theoretical discussion with the aim of bringing the case of Hebrew to the attention of language contact scholars while bringing the insights of the literature on language contact to help shed light on the case of Hebrew

Frame-Constructional Verb Classes Ryan Dux, 2020-11-15 While verb classes are a mainstay of linguistic research the field lacks consensus on precisely what constitutes a verb class This book presents a novel approach to verb classes employing a bottom up corpus based methodology and combining key insights from Frame Semantics Construction Grammar and Valency Grammar On this approach verb classes are formulated at varying granularity levels to adequately capture both the shared semantic and syntactic properties unifying verbs of a class and the idiosyncratic properties unique to individual verbs In depth analyses based on this approach shed light on the interrelations between verbs frame semantics and constructions and on the semantic richness and network organization of grammatical constructions This approach is extended to a comparison of Change and Theft verbs revealing unexpected lexical and syntactic differences across semantically distinct classes Finally a range of contrastive German English analyses demonstrate how verb classes can inform the cross linguistic comparison of verbs and constructions

English Comparative Correlatives Thomas Hoffmann, 2019-05-02 Explores how comparative correlative constructions behave in English and how these change over time and space

Conceptual Transfer as an Areal Factor Stefanie Siebenhütter, 2019-11-18 By analyzing conceptual transfer this volume offers new insight in areal linguistics Mainland Southeast Asia unifies great linguistic richness consisting of numerous languages and countless varieties of genetically diverse language families Nevertheless the area is known as a prime example for linguistic convergence Exemplified by spatial reference in Thai Khmer Lao and Vietnamese this study reveals conceptual borrowing due to language contact as an areal defining feature The results from the field based data analysis may help answer what extent cultural impact can be used as evidence for the existence of linguistic areas A speaker's cultural background might have a stronger impact on the choice of spatial language encoding than expected Method and structure of argumentation can provide a model for similar questions addressing the existence of linguistic areas as well as to other cognitive dimensions within the Southeast Asian area under consideration Therefore the study can be seen as a significant contribution to analyze possibly existing conceptual areas empirically and exemplarily Additionally the investigation can serve as an important complement to empirical assumptions of conceptual transfer

Space in Diachrony Silvia Luraghi, Tatiana Nikitina, Chiara Zanchi, 2017-08-14 Space is a fundamental dimension of human life and is pervasive in human experience Research on space has highlighted the possible asymmetrical nature of spatial relations Differences in the encoding of goals and sources of motion are a case in point and cross linguistic coding tendencies show that path is less frequently flagged by a dedicated case than goal source origin and static location locative Interestingly such asymmetries may correlate with certain types of landmark as in the case of toponyms or of animate entities Even though these issues have been focused upon both in typological and psycholinguistic research they remain largely open The papers in this collection aim to show that a diachronic approach may shed light on the way in which asymmetries in the space domain come about over time thus contributing to the clarification of synchronically puzzling facts

Language Contact and the Development of Modern Hebrew, 2015-11-16 Language Contact and the Development of Modern Hebrew is a first rigorous attempt by scholars of Hebrew to evaluate the syntactic impact of the various languages with which Modern Hebrew was in contact during its formative years Twenty four different innovative syntactic constructions of Modern Hebrew are analysed and shown to originate in previous stages of Hebrew which since the third century CE solely functioned as a scholarly and liturgical language The syntactic changes in the constructions are traced to the native languages of the first Modern Hebrew learners and later to further reanalysis by the first generation of native speakers The contents of this volume was also published as a special double issue of Journal of Jewish Languages 3 1 2 2015 Contributors are Vera Agranovsky Chanan Ariel Elitzur Bar Asher Siegal Miri Bar Ziv Isaac Bleaman Nora Boneh Edit Doron Keren Dubnov Itamar Francez Roey Gafter Ophira Gamliel Yehudit Henshke Uri Horesh Olga Kagan Samir Khalaily Irit Meir Yishai Neuman Abed al

Rahman Mar i Malka Rappaport Hovav Yael Reshef Aynat Rubinstein Ora Schwarzwald Nimrod Shatil Sigal Shlomo Ivy Sichel Moshe Taube Avigail Tsirkin Sadan Shira Wigderson and Yael Ziv Converging Grammars Debra Ziegeler, 2015-07-01 This volume provides a much needed critical overview of the field of constructions and construction grammar in the context of Singapore English and poses the question of identifying a construction in contact when the lexicon is derived from one language and the syntax from another Case studies are illustrated in which the possibility of a merger construction is offered to resolve such problems The book is intended for students of construction theories variation studies or any researcher of contact grammars Oral Poetics and Cognitive Science Mihailo Antovic, Cristóbal Pagán Cánovas, 2016-08-22 What can oral poetic traditions teach us about language and the human mind Oral Poetics has produced insights relevant not only for the study of traditional poetry but also for our general understanding of language and cognition formulaic style as a product of rehearsed improvisation the thematic structuring of traditional narratives or the poetic use of features from everyday speech among many others The cognitive sciences have developed frameworks that are crucial for research on oral poetics such as construction grammar or conversation analysis The key for connecting the two disciplines is their common focus on usage and performance This collection of papers explores how some of the latest research on language and cognition can contribute to advances in oral studies At the same time it shows how research on verbal art in its natural oral medium can lead to new insights in semantics pragmatics or multimodal communication The ultimate goal is to pave the way towards a Cognitive Oral Poetics a new interdisciplinary field for the study of oral poetry as a window to the mind Constructicography Benjamin Lyngfelt, Lars Borin, Kyoko Ohara, Tiago Timponi Torrent, 2018-07-17 In constructionist theory a constructicon is an inventory of constructions making up the full set of linguistic units in a language In applied practice it is a set of construction descriptions a dictionary of constructions The development of constructicons in the latter sense typically means combining principles of both construction grammar and lexicography and is probably best characterized as a blend between the two traditions We call this blend constructicography The present volume is a comprehensive introduction to the emerging field of constructicography After a general introduction follow six chapters presenting constructicon projects for English German Japanese Brazilian Portuguese Russian and Swedish respectively often in relation to a frame net of the language In addition there is a chapter addressing the interplay between linguistics and language technology in constructicon development and a final chapter exploring the prospects for interlingual constructicography This is the first major publication devoted to constructicon development and it should be particularly relevant for those interested in construction grammar frame semantics lexicography the relation between grammar and lexicon or linguistically informed language technology The Routledge Handbook of Cognitive Linguistics Wen Xu, John R. Taylor, 2021-06-03 The Routledge Handbook of Cognitive Linguistics provides a comprehensive introduction and essential reference work to cognitive linguistics It encompasses a wide range of perspectives and approaches covering all the

key areas of cognitive linguistics and drawing on interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research in pragmatics discourse analysis biolinguistics ecolinguistics evolutionary linguistics neuroscience language pedagogy and translation studies The forty three chapters written by international specialists in the field cover four major areas Basic theories and hypotheses including cognitive semantics cognitive grammar construction grammar frame semantics natural semantic metalanguage and word grammar Central topics including embodiment image schemas categorization metaphor and metonymy construal iconicity motivation constructionalization intersubjectivity grounding multimodality cognitive pragmatics cognitive poetics humor and linguistic synaesthesia among others Interfaces between cognitive linguistics and other areas of linguistic study including cultural linguistics linguistic typology figurative language signed languages gesture language acquisition and pedagogy translation studies and digital lexicography New directions in cognitive linguistics demonstrating the relevance of the approach to social diachronic neuroscientific biological ecological multimodal and quantitative studies The Routledge Handbook of Cognitive Linguistics is an indispensable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students and for all researchers working in this area     Pragmatic Markers in Contrast Karin Aijmer, Anne-Marie

Simon-Vandenberg, 2022-05-16 Building on the first volume in the Studies in Pragmatics series which clearly set out the differences and similarities in approaches to discourse markers Pragmatic Markers in Contrast continues the debate through offering a unique and thorough examination of the methods and theories for studying pragmatic markers cross linguistically As a result of internationalisation and new developments in linguistics there has been an increasing interest in cross linguistic studies Aijmer and Simon Vandenberg have assembled experts in this field to explore the comparison of pragmatic markers across languages in order to offer important insights into the similarities and differences between languages Contrastive studies can also shed more light on the pragmatic and discourse functions that pragmatic markers fulfil in the languages compared Another issue is to what extent pragmatic markers which have evolved from the same lexical source have developed similar functions in different languages An impressively large number of different approaches are represented in this volume as well as a wide range of languages including English Swedish Spanish Dutch German French Norwegian and Solv a dialect of Finland Swedish
