Classics Of Criminology 4th Edition:

Classics of Criminology Joseph E. Jacoby, Theresa A. Severance, Alan S. Bruce, 2012 Joined by co editors Theresa Severance and Alan Bruce Joseph Jacoby continues to provide classic scholarly works on criminology in their original form allowing readers to share in the discovery and unfolding of powerful ideas in the authors own words These writings from over the past two centuries represent the most influential approaches to explanations of and social responses to crime The Fourth Edition offers seventy five selections thirteen of which are new to this edition Included in this comprehensive volume are both authors whose work is widely recognized as significant in itself and authors whose work substantially influenced the thinking of subsequent scholars This inclusive collection is organized into three sections each of which opens with a brief editorial introduction to provide context Section I The Classic Descriptions of Crime contains writings whose primary contribution is descriptive although they also offer important theoretical insights These works illuminate with great clarity certain aspects of the phenomenon of crime Section II Theories of Causation of Crime covers over two centuries of theorizing about the causes of crime Most of these writings are specifically about crime although some emphasize larger social issues that have direct implications for criminology Section III The Social Response to Crime includes writings that variously describe theorize about or advocate specific social responses to crime Some of the best works on the criminal justice process as it operates internally and as it functions in its social setting are included here Deviance Duane L. Dobbert

Ph.D., Thomas X. Mackey, 2015-07-14 Contributors to this unique book explain and compare major theories drawn from several academic fields to uncover the root causes of deviance In this unparalleled exploration of antisocial and aberrant behavior criminologists and other experts examine the theoretical perspectives of 15 classical psychological political science and economics scholars to shed light on the impetus for deviant behaviors Murder mayhem robbery sexual assault and sexual activity with minor children are among the degenerate behaviors cited Each chapter focuses on the effectiveness of a specific theory and considers conundrums such as Does the Darwinian approach explain sexual assault as a drive to procreate Can B F Skinner s theoretical perspective explain pedophilia and Can an individual be incompetent at the time of an offense and competent at the time of the trial The book reveals how the major psychological social and environmental doctrines can explain the behaviors and patterns of a nonconforming mindset The work addresses the theories of well known thinkers like Karl Marx Charles Darwin Travis Hirschi and Sigmund Freud among others Building a Black Criminology, Volume 24

James D. Unnever, Shaun L. Gabbidon, Cecilia Chouhy, 2018-10-26 In light of the Black Lives Matter movement and protests in many cities race plays an ever more salient role in crime and justice Within theoretical criminology however race has oddly remained on the periphery It is often introduced as a control variable in tests of theories and is rarely incorporated as a central construct in mainstream paradigms e g control social learning and strain theories When race is discussed the standard approach is to embrace the racial invariance thesis which argues that any racial differences in crime are due to

African Americans being exposed to the same criminogenic risk factors as are Whites just more of them An alternative perspective has emerged that seeks to identify the unique racially specific conditions that only Blacks experience Within the United States these conditions are rooted in the historical racial oppression experienced by African Americans whose contemporary legacy includes concentrated disadvantage in segregated communities racial socialization by parents experiences with and perceptions of racial discrimination and disproportionate involvement in and unjust treatment by the criminal justice system Importantly racial invariance and race specificity are not mutually exclusive perspectives Evidence exists that Blacks and Whites commit crimes for both the same reasons invariance and for different reasons race specific A full understanding of race and crime thus must involve demarcating both the general and specific causes of crime the latter embedded in what it means to be Black in the United States This volume seeks to explore these theoretical issues in a depth and breadth that is not common under one cover Again given the salience of race and crime this volume should be of interest to a wide range of criminologists and have the potential to be used in graduate seminars and upper level undergraduate courses
