Valencia, 2015-03-05 Students of Color and the Achievement Gap is a comprehensive landmark analysis of an incontrovertible racialized reality in U S K 12 public education the relentless achievement gap between low socioeconomic students of color and their economically advantaged White counterparts Award winning author and scholar Richard Valencia provides an authoritative and systemic treatment of the achievement gap focusing on Black and Latino Latina students He examines the societal and educational factors that help to create and maintain the achievement gap by drawing from critical race theory an asset based perspective and a systemic inequality approach By showing how racialized opportunity structures in society and schools ultimately result in racialized patterns of academic achievement in schools Valencia shows how the various indicators of the achievement gap are actually symptoms of the societal and school quality gaps Following each of these concerns Valencia provides a number of reform suggestions that can lead to systemic transformations of K 12 education Students of Color and the Achievement Gap makes a persuasive and well documented case that school success for students of color and the empowerment of their parents can only be fully understood and realized when contextualized within broader political economic and cultural frameworks

The Color of School Reform Jeffrey R. Henig, Richard C. Hula, Marion Orr, Desiree S. Pedescleaux, 2001-01-22 Why is it so difficult to design and implement fundamental educational reform in large city schools in spite of broad popular support for change How does the politics of race complicate the challenge of building and sustaining coalitions for improving urban schools These questions have provoked a great deal of theorizing but this is the first book to explore the issues on the basis of extensive solid evidence Here a group of political scientists examines education reform in Atlanta Baltimore Detroit and Washington D C where local governmental authority has passed from white to black leaders The authors show that black administrative control of big city school systems has not translated into broad improvements in the quality of public education within black led cities Race can be crucial however in fostering the broad civic involvement perhaps most needed for school reform In each city examined reform efforts often arise but collapse partly because leaders are unable to craft effective political coalitions that would commit community resources to a concrete policy agenda What undermines the leadership according to the authors is the complex role of race in each city First public authority does not guarantee access to private resources usually still controlled by white economic elites Second local authorities must interact with external actors at the state and national levels who remain predominantly white Finally issues of race divide the African American community itself and often place limits on what leaders can and cannot do Filled with insightful explanations together with recommendations for policy change this book is an important component of the debate now being waged among researchers education activists and the community as a whole
