Describe the association between surgical site infections and environmental cleaning. 2. Explain the correct environmental cleaning process during turnover (between-patient cleaning). 3. Differentiate between turnover and terminal cleaning.
Why Clean? Break the Chain of Infection Responsibility	Why clean the perioperative environment? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cleaning and disinfecting the OR and procedures rooms is key to preventing the spread of potentially pathogenic microorganisms that may cause surgical site infections. • The chain of infection begins with an infectious organism that resides in a reservoir (eg. human, animal, environmental) and includes a susceptible host and a mode of transmission. • Cleaning and disinfecting the surgical environment disrupts the chain of infection to help prevent infections. • Hand hygiene is the single most effective action to prevent infection. • Implement standardized cleaning procedures to effectively clean the perioperative environment.
Product Selection and Use	What is used to clean the perioperative environment? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cleaning agents for the perioperative environment are selected based on the Environmental Protection Agency registration and hospital grading, contact time of the cleaning agent, and targeted organisms. • Do not use spray bottles to apply cleaning agents in the perioperative environment. • Clearly label an environmental cleaning agent that is removed from its original container and placed into a secondary container.
Cleaning Procedures	How do you clean in the perioperative environment? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clean from top to bottom. • Clean from the less-soiled areas to the dirtiest areas. • Move the OR bed and mop under that area.
