Claes Oldenburg, Mouse Museum/Ray Gun Wing Coosje van Bruggen, Claes Oldenburg, 1979 The Mouse Museum, the Ray Gun Wing Claes Oldenburg, 1977 Claes Oldenburg - the Mouse Museum, the Ray Gun Wing Claes Oldenburg, Museum of Contemporary Art (Chicago, Ill.), 1977 The Mouse Museum - the Ray Gun Wing Claes Oldenburg, 1977 Claes Oldenburg Claes Oldenburg, Museum of Contemporary Art, 1977 Mouse Museum Claes Oldenburg, Ray Gun Wing, Coosje van Bruggen, 1979 The Accidental Possibilities of the City Katherine Smith, 2021-03-02 Claes Oldenburg's commitment to familiar objects has shaped accounts of his career but his associations with Pop art and postwar consumerism have overshadowed another crucial aspect of his work In this revealing reassessment Katherine Smith traces Oldenburg's profound responses to shifting urban conditions framing his enduring relationship with the city as a critical perspective and conceiving his art as urban theory Smith argues that Oldenburg adapted lessons of context gleaned from New York's changing cityscape in the late 1950s to large scale objects and architectural plans By examining disparate projects from New York to Los Angeles she situates Oldenburg's innovations in local geographies and national debates In doing so Smith illuminates patterns of urbanization through the important contributions of one of the leading artists in the United States Claes Oldenburg's Theater of Vision Nadja Rottner, 2023-11-10 In four chronologically organized chapters this study traces the conceptual dependence and deep connectivity among Claes Oldenburg's poetry sculpture films and performance art between 1956 and 1965 This research intensive book argues that Oldenburg's art relies on machine vision and other metaphors to visualize the structure and image content of human thought as an artistic problem Anchored in new oral history interviews and extensive archival material it brings together understudied visual and concrete poetry experimental films fifteen group performances commonly referred to as happenings and a close analysis of his well known installations of The Street 1960 and The Store 1961-62 effectively setting in place a reexamination of Oldenburg's pop art from the street store home and cinema years The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history film studies performance studies literature intermedia studies and media theory The Mouse Museum, The Ray Gun Wing ,1977 The Mouse Museum Claes Oldenburg, 1977 Sculpture and the Vitrine John C. Welchman, 2017-07-05 Vitrines and glass cabinets are familiar apparatuses that have in large part defined modern modes of display and visibility both within and beyond the museum They separate objects from their contexts group them with other objects both similar and dissimilar and often serve to reinforce their intrinsic or aesthetic values The vitrine has much in common with the picture frame the plinth and the gallery but it has not yet received the kind of detailed art historical and theoretical discussion that has been brought to these other modes of formal display The twelve contributions to this volume examine some of the points of origin of the vitrine and the various relations it brokers with sculpture first in the Wunderkammer and cabinet of curiosities and then in dialog with the development of glazed architecture beginning with

Paxton's Crystal Palace 1851 The collection offers close discussions of the role of the vitrine and shop window in the rise of commodity culture and their apposition with Constructivist design in the work of Frederick Kiesler as well as original readings of the use of vitrines in Surrealism and Fluxus and in work by Joseph Beuys Paul Thek Claes Oldenburg and his collaborators Jeff Koons Mike Kelley Dan Graham Vito Acconci Damien Hirst and Josephine Meckseper among others Sculpture and the Vitrine also raises key questions about the nature and implications of vitrinous space including its fronts onto desire and the spectacle transparency and legibility and onto ideas and practices associated with the archive collecting preserving and ordering Claes Oldenburg Coosje van Bruggen, 1979 Claes Oldenburg Nadja Rottner, 2012-02-03 Contemporary criticism interviews scholarly reassessments and texts by the artist focusing on Claes Oldenburg's sculptures installations and multimedia performances between 1960 and 1965 Claes Oldenburg born in 1929 is largely known today as a pop art sculptor Oldenburg himself described his formless canvas and vinyl soft sculptures gigantic hamburgers and ice cream cones cushiony toilets and typewriters as objects that elude definition This collection of writings revisits not only Oldenburg's soft objects from the early to mid 1960s but also his pioneering installations The Street 1960 and The Store 1961 1962 and his often overlooked multimedia performances As the artist translated his ideas and beliefs into various media and formats his work drew on a range of styles and schools including abstract expressionism Happenings pop art minimalism and postminimalism Perhaps because of their refusal to be classified these artworks are as contemporary today as they were when they were created between 1960 and 1965 This collection serves both as a summation of early critical thinking on Oldenburg's art and a starting point for consideration of the artist as a forerunner of current art trends of stylelessness and intermediality It includes both contemporary criticism and more recent scholarly reassessments interviews with the artist and Oldenburg's own unpublished manifesto on the Ray Gun Theater the artist's name for his performance series in the back of The Store Printed Stuff Richard H. Axsom, David Platzker, 1997 This magnificent volume documents the printmaking career of leading pop artist influential creator of public monuments and bravura draftsman Claes Oldenburg Includes an important essay on Oldenburg's career and a catalogue of his entire printed oeuvre from limited editions to ephemera A must for scholars and collectors 55 b w illustrations 52 duotones 381 colorplates including 2 gatefolds Bruce Nauman Bruce Nauman, 2002-05-29 From the beginning I was trying to see if I could make art that did that Art that was just there all at once Like getting hit in the face with a baseball bat Or better yet like getting hit in the back of the neck You never see it coming it just knocks you down I like that idea very much the kind of intensity that doesn't give you any trace of whether you're going to like it or not Bruce Nauman Bruce Nauman's art is about heightened awareness awareness of spaces we usually don't notice the one under the chair out of which he made a sculpture and sounds we don't listen for the one in the coffin awareness of emotions we suppress or dread It's hard to feel indifferent to work like his Michael Kimmelman New York Times One of America's most important artists Bruce Nauman has worked in a dazzling variety of media since the mid 1960s sculpture photography performance installation sound holography film and video What has been a constant throughout his career however is his persistence in exploring both art as an investigation of the self and the power of language to define that self The latest volume in the acclaimed Art Performance series is the first book to combine the key critical writings on Nauman with the artist's own writings and interviews with him as well as images of his work Bruce Nauman offers a multifaceted portrait of an artist whose determination to experiment with style and form has created a body of work as eclectic and perhaps more influential than that of any other living American artist
