Cooke,Luciana Lazzeretti,2008-01-01 Analyses the economic development of cities from the cultural economy and creative industry perspectives   Creating Knowledge Locations in Cities Willem van Winden,Luis de Carvalho,Erwin van Tuijl,Jeroen van Haaren,Leo van den Berg,2013-06-19 Based on a clear and comprehensive literature review this book contains an analysis of five knowledge locations in Europe and one in South Korea The case studies in the book cover several European countries Ireland Finland Germany Spain The Netherlands The cases are well grounded in the different contexts that these national settings provide which allows comparisons between them   Geography of Innovation Nadine Massard,Corinne Autant-Bernard,2018-12-07 Within the European context of innovation for growth public and corporate actors are faced with pressing questions concerning innovation policy and the return on public and private investment in innovation at the regional level To help them answer these questions researchers in the field of Geography of Innovation propose interesting developments and new perspectives for the analysis of localized innovation processes interactions between science technology and industry and their impact on regional growth and competitiveness offering new foundations for designing and evaluating public policies The aim of this book is firstly to highlight major recent methodological advances in the Geography of Innovation particularly concerning the measurement of spatial knowledge externalities and their impact on agglomeration effects Strategic approaches using microeconomic data have also contributed to showing how firms strategies may interact with the local environment and impact upon agglomeration dynamics Interesting new results emerge from the application of these new methodologies to the analysis of innovation dynamics in European regions and this book shows how they can help revisit some of the main tenets of received wisdom concerning the rationale and impact of public policies on the Geography of Innovation This book was previously published as a special issue of Regional Studies People, Places and Policy Martin Jones,Scott Orford,Victoria Macfarlane,2015-08-27 The Open Access version of this book available at www tandfebooks com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3 0 license Set within the context of UK devolution and constitutional change People Places and Policy offers important and interesting insights into place making and locality making in contemporary Wales Combining policy research with policy maker and stakeholder interviews at various spatial scales local regional national it examines the historical processes and working practices that have produced the complex political geography of Wales This book looks at the economic social and political geographies of Wales which in the context of devolution and public service governance are hotly debated It offers a novel new localities theoretical framework for capturing the dynamics of locality making to go beyond the obsession with boundaries and coterminous geographies expressed by policy makers and politicians Three localities Heads of the Valleys north of Cardiff central and west coast regions Ceredigion Pembrokeshire and the former district of Montgomeryshire in Powys and the A55 corridor from Wrexham to Holyhead are discussed in detail to illustrate this and also reveal the geographical tensions of devolution in contemporary Wales This book is an original statement on the making of contemporary Wales from the Wales Institute of Social and Economic Research Data and Methods WISERD researchers It deploys a novel new localities theoretical framework and innovative mapping techniques to represent spatial patterns in data This allows the timely uncovering of both unbounded and fuzzy relational policy geographies and the more bounded administrative concerns which come together to produce and reproduce over time Wales regional geography Theme Cities: Solutions for Urban Problems Wayne K.D. Davies,2015-03-23 This book reviews a series of new urban ideas or themes designed to help make cities more liveable sustainable safe and inclusive Featuring examples drawn from cities all over the world the various chapters provide critical assessments of each of the various approaches and their potential to improve urban life New Urbanism creating new areas based on a more humane scale with neighbourhood cohesion Just Cities creating more fairness in decision making so all residents can participate and benefit Green Cities helping places become greener with environmental rehabilitation and protection Sustainable Cities avoiding the waste of resources and harmful pollution in settlements Transition Towns developing local initiatives for more sustainable actions Winter Cities making cities in cold climates more comfortable and enjoyable Resilient Cities strengthening cities to better enable them to withstand natural hazards Creative Cities supporting cultural industries and attracting talented individuals Knowledge Cities creating renewing and spreading knowledge and innovation Safe Cities ensuring that citizens are better protected against criminal actions Healthy Cities making improvements in the health of people in cities Festive Cities rediscovering the utility of festive events in settlements Slow Cities enhancing locally unique activities such as local cuisines and community interactions This volume offers a host of approaches designed to give a new direction and focus to planning policies helping readers to fully understand the advantages and disadvantages of each potential idea It seeks to solve the many current problems associated with urban developments making it a valuable resource for university and college students in urban geography urban planning urban sociology and urban studies as well as to planners and the general public Globalizing Regional Development in East Asia Henry Wai-chung Yeung,2013-09-13 Significant historical and geographical differences account for the many processes and trajectories of regional development in East Asia These historical and geographical specificities in East Asia have prompted serious re examination of existing theories in regional development and in particular the new regionalism approach associated with such ideas as the learning region institutional thickness relational assets and regional innovation system This book brings together a group of leading researchers specializing in local and regional development in East Asian economies Through in depth empirical studies of specific regions and localities these authors offer fresh and innovative perspectives on how regions evolve and develop over time in the world s most dynamic macro regional economy In particular their work points to the critical importance of local and trans local processes in shaping regional development trajectories The book is timely given that the debate on the nature and dynamics of regional development in both academic and policy circles has now moved on From the earlier focus on endogenous regional assets such as localized networks of association and trust scholars and policymakers are now analyzing the complex relationship between economic globalization and regional change This high calibre collection makes a significant contribution to the literature on local and regional development in Asia and provides an important resource for researchers students and policy makers interested in East Asia This book was published as a special issue of Regional Studies Beyond Territory Harald Bathelt,Maryann Feldman,Dieter F. Kogler,2012-03-29 The main purpose of the book is to discuss new trends in the dynamic geography of innovation and argue that in an era of increasing globalization two trends seem quite dominant rigid territorial models of innovation and localized configurations of innovative activities The book brings together scholars who are working on these topics Rather than focusing on established concepts and theories the book aims to question narrow explanations rigid territorializations and simplistic policy frameworks it provides evidence that innovation while not exclusively dependent on regional contexts can be influenced by place specific attributes The book will bring together new empirical and conceptual work by an interdisciplinary group of leading scholars from areas such as economic geography innovation studies and political science

Based on recent discussions surrounding innovation systems of different types it aims to synthesize state of the art know how and provide new perspectives on the role of innovation and knowledge creation in the global political economy Creative Industries and Innovation in Europe Luciana Lazzeretti,2013 This text analyzes the impact of culture across the European continent shedding new light on those countries with a rich and famous heritage such as Italy and France but extending the study to newer forms of creativity The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann,Frank van Oort,John Goddard,2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region s economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region s linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels Dynamics of Economic Spaces in the Global Knowledge-based Economy Sam Ock Park,2014-09-19 This book addresses how economic spaces dynamically change within the context of the global knowledge based economy Specifically it centers the discussion on integrated views of understanding and conceptualizing dynamic changes of global economy under the global megatrends of globalization knowledge based economy information society service world climate change and population aging Focusing on East Asia especially on Korea it deals with case studies regarding the processes and patterns of these global dynamics looking at economic spaces of various spatial scales and types of economic actors This book develops a theoretical model for understanding and analysing the dynamics of economic spaces that are being reshaped within the larger global economy It also emphasizes the analysis of empirical studies at the level of firm region and state by considering an evolutionary perspective over time In developing its theoretical framework this book examines regional resilience intangible assets service innovation path dependence and other notions related to the evolution of economic spaces and incorporates these elements into real world case studies The integrated theoretical framework examined here contributes a new perspective on spatial disparities in the global economy An integral model of service innovation the integration of path dependence and regional resilience the interaction between firm and region for the accumulation of intangible assets and the roles of governments and global firms these are all essential to understanding the dynamics of economic spaces in East Asia The theoretical model and case studies in this book suggest policy implications for developing countries especially in the Asian and African regions with regard to regional development and innovation policies

Cultural Heritage, Creativity and Economic Development Silvia Cerisola,2019 The book explores the relationship between cultural heritage and local economic development by introducing the original idea that one possible mediator between the two can be identified as creativity The book econometrically verifies this idea and demonstrates that cultural heritage through its inspirational role on different creative talents generates an indirect positive effect on local economic development These results justify important new policy recommendations in the field of cultural heritage Code and the City Rob Kitchin,Sung-Yueh Perng,2016-04-20 Software has become essential to the functioning of cities It is deeply embedded into the systems and infrastructure of the built environment and is entrenched in the management and governance of urban societies Software enabled technologies and services enhance the ways in which we understand and plan cities It even has an effect on how we manage urban services and utilities Code and the City explores the extent and depth of the ways in which software mediates how people work consume communication travel and play The reach of these systems is set to become even more pervasive through efforts to create smart cities cities that employ ICTs to underpin and drive their economy and governance Yet despite the roll out of software enabled systems across all aspects of city life the relationship between code and the city has barely been explored from a critical social science perspective This collection of essays seeks to fill that gap and offers an interdisciplinary examination of the relationship between software and contemporary urbanism This book will be of interest to those researching or studying smart cities and urban infrastructure

Europe's Changing Geography Nicola Bellini,Ulrich Hilpert,2013-08-21 European macro regions Euroregions and other forms of inter regional cross border cooperation have helped to shape new scenarios and new relational spaces which may generate opportunities for economic development while redefining the political and economic meaning of national borders This book is based on a number of key case studies which are crucial to understanding the complex web of political economic and cultural factors that shape the heterogeneous picture of Europe s new geography This book provides a fresh view on this phenomenon with a realistic approach shedding light on its complexity as well as on its ambiguities The new macro regions are interpreted with an approach recognizing the importance of institutionalization but also their flexible configuration and blurred borders The book also raises the issue of credibility and legitimacy arguing that inter regional cooperation has to be removed from the foggy realm of the exchanges between local political and bureaucratic elites in order to be clearly and concretely motivated and functional to key strategic objectives of the regions Finally the authors suggest a complementarity between relations based on proximity and wider possibly global networks where some territories and especially metropolises find opportunities based on virtual proximity Europe s Changing Geography provides a substantial re appraisal of a key phenomenon in the process of European integration today It will be of interest both to scholars of the political economy of European regionalism and to practitioners   Making Cultural Cities in Asia June Wang,Tim Oakes,Yang Yang,2015-12-22 This book examines the vast and largely uncharted world of cultural creative city making in Asia It explores the establishment of policy models and practices against the backdrop of a globalizing world and considers the dynamic relationship between powerful actors and resources that impact Asian cities Making Cultural Cities in Asia approaches this dynamic process through the lens of assemblage how the policy models of cultural creative cities have been extracted from the flow of ideas and how re invented versions have been assembled territorialized and exported This approach reveals a spectrum between globally circulating ideals on the one hand and the place based contexts and contingencies on the other At one end of the spectrum this book features chapters on policy mobility in particular the political construction of the web of communication and the restructuring or rescaling of the state At the other end chapters examine the increasingly fragmented social forces their changing roles in the process and their negotiations alignments and resistances This book will be of interest to researchers and policy makers concerned with cultural and urban studies creative industries and Asian studies Managing Networks of Creativity Fiorenza Belussi,UDO HERMANN STABER,2012-02-27 The aim of the Managing Networks of Creativity is to improve our understanding of creativity and the management of creativity as discussed in the fields of management including strategic management organization science organizational behaviour and entrepreneurship economics sociology regional studies and political science While research on creativity has made several important contributions to the theoretical literature little attention has been paid to the development and testing of formal theoretical models especially in those cases where creativity is the result not so much of individual behaviour than the outcome of collective efforts connecting individuals in organizations social networks projects geographic clusters and so forth The proposed volume includes studies both conceptual and empirical which as a whole deconstruct the concept of creativity and the management of creativity by identifying specific situations contexts firms clusters and districts in which creative processes evolve The reader is provided with in depth discussions of theoretical issues and a range of descriptive cases and survey data that the authors use to explore or test concepts and models Overall the volume aims to integrate current debates concerning the role of creativity and innovation in economic and social development   Regional Development Agencies: The Next Generation? Nicola Bellini,Mike Danson,Henrik Halkier,2012-09-10 Across Europe regional development agencies RDAs have become a central feature of regional policy both as innovative policy makers and as the implementers of programmes and initiatives originating from the national or European level By drawing on a combination of conceptual reflection surveys comparative research and systematic use of critical case studies this book provides a new point of reference by identifying key features of the current and indeed next generation of regionally based economic development organisations __Territorial Development, Cohesion and Spatial Planning__ Neil Adams,Giancarlo Cotella,Richard Nunes,2012-08-06 This book examines some of the evolving challenges faced by EU regional policy in light of enlargement and to assess some of the approaches and trends in terms of territorial development policy and practice that are emerging out of this process Focusing on the experiences on Central and Eastern Europe these chapters reflect on the diversity of approaches to spatial planning and the the politics of policy formation and multi level governance operations from local to trans national agendas Promoting increased awareness and understanding of these issues is the main purpose of the book as well as harnessing the extensive capacity and knowledge within these countries that can greatly enrich the discourse within an enlarged epistemic community of European spatial planning academics practitioners and policy makers The recently acquired CEE dimension provides a unique opportunity to examine the evolution of existing epistemic communities as well as to explore the potential emergence of new ones Leadership and Change in Sustainable Regional Development Markku Sotarauta,Ina Horlings,Joyce Liddle,2012 This book shows first of all that leadership plays a crucial role in reinventing regions and branching out from an old path to something new in order to create more balanced and sustainable regional development Second it maintains that leadership is not a solo but a multi agent and level activity and that it needs to be discussed and studied as such Third as the book argues leadership is shaped differently in various institutional and cultural contexts and on different scales This book explores the ways leadership plays our in regional development context contributing to economically socially and ecologically balanced sustainable future
