The Teaching of Criminal Law Kris Gledhill,Ben Livings,2016-08-19 The Teaching of Criminal Law provides the first considered discussion of the pedagogy that should inform the teaching of criminal law It originates from a survey of criminal law courses in different parts of the English speaking world which showed significant similarity across countries and over time It also showed that many aspects of substantive law are neglected This prompted the question of whether any real consideration had been given to criminal law course design This book seeks to provide a critical mass of thought on how to secure an understanding of substantive criminal law by examining the course content that best illustrates the thought process of a criminal lawyer by presenting innovative approaches for securing active learning by students and by demonstrating how criminal law can secure other worthwhile graduate attributes by introducing wider contexts This edited collection brings together contributions from academic teachers of criminal law from Australia New Zealand the United Kingdom and Ireland who have considered issues of course design and often implemented them Together they examine several innovative approaches to the teaching of criminal law that have been adopted in a number of law schools around the world both in teaching methodology and substantive content The authors offer numerous suggestions for the design of a criminal law course that will ensure students gain useful insights into criminal law and its role in society This book helps fill the gap in research into criminal law pedagogy and demonstrates that there are alternative ways of delivering this core part of the law degree As such this book will be of key interest to researchers academics and lecturers in the fields of criminal law pedagogy and teaching methods Criminology and Victimology in Practice - International Perspectives Anni

Hesselink,2025-07-02 Criminology and Victimology International Perspectives elucidates the practical contributions engagements focal areas and applications of expertise knowledge and skills by criminologists and victimologists in practice thereby extending towards an invaluable enhancement of intellectually enriching multidisciplinary fields within the realms of human and social sciences the criminal justice system and both the formal and informal sectors of society This book highlights the role and contributions of criminologists in formulating pre sentence reports for the judiciary and informing sentencing decisions It also highlights the acumen and capabilities of rural criminologists along with their analytical endeavors and initiatives concerning rural environments as well as the risks and victimization of livestock Profound insights can be derived from criminological and victimological assessments of sexual and gender minority men SGMM including individuals from the lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer LGBTQ community who face victimization and stigma within correctional contexts Sociological inquiries from Montenegro unveil critical risk factors associated with juvenile offenders correlating these risks with unstable family dynamics and exposure thereby illuminating the offender victim nexus and applying practical skills concerning these individuals In Iran criminology and victimology remain heavily reliant on criminal law which stifles the professionalization and career prospects within the judicial sphere thereby accentuating the necessity for advancing criminology and victimology as autonomous disciplines with tangible career trajectories They are frequently subject to misapprehension This book Criminology and Victimology International Practices endeavors to elucidate the academic and theoretical frameworks that have evolved into a compelling and pragmatic application of knowledge and expertise It entails that while firmly anchored in scientific theories principles and research the fields of criminology and victimology have matured to furnish invaluable and pragmatic insights and contributions to multidisciplinary teams
