

Barbed Wires Don't Make Prison...

It was a balmy spring day. The little birds were greeting each other across the trees. The distant factories had started emitting smoke vigorously and beautifully. The lively clutter and the clanging in the dining room woke up the late sleepers. I walked with a spring in my footstep...I reminded myself, I had to be there to greet a group of new refugees. Salma, a mother of five whose husband was cruelly executed in the regime wanted to talk to me about her older daughter who had gone into suicidal depression, which is not uncommon in the confinements of detention centres. I also had to meet the visiting doctor and the social worker regarding the lifesaving treatment for one of the ailing inmates with severe kidney problems. My spirits uplifted as I thought of how I could make even the smallest difference to the lives of these miserable detainees. As I walked through the slowly filling lounge room I heard an old man remark to his wife. "Thank god Alex has been gifted with optimism, selflessness and concern for fellow human beings. Bless his cheerful nature." I heard this with a smile because only I knew the truth of what I was before my cousin Gary came into the centre one spring morning. I was an angry embittered person. These men and women who adore me would not believe if I had to shout at the top of my voice, the person I was. My memories flittered back into the past...

The time was yet to come. Waiting in darkness alongside the gate in anxiety and tension as I didn't know what lay ahead of me. The sun had yet to appear from the murky sky as a body of seagulls engulfed the small area where I alongside hundreds of other refugees have been living for the past nine months. It has felt like a lifetime in this centre...

The piercing sound of machinery could be heard in the distance as the industrial factories vomited toxic fumes from their repetitive day-to day operations. It seemed as if they worked continuously, as clouds of smog surrounded the area both day and night. But, I felt more suffocated by this corrosive confinement of the centre rather than the toxic belch from the factories. The air was filled with the smell of rotting mould and the humid weather added to the tension as sleepless nights passed. This
