Rick A. Myer, Julia L. Whisenhunt, Richard K. James, 2021-11-08 The fast paced, unpredictable, and high risk nature of crisis intervention creates critical ethical dilemmas that can result in personal harm and professional liability if not handled appropriately. Applying a traditional model of ethical decision making is often impractical when time is limited and decisions must be made quickly. This counseling tool kit offers a new operational approach for integrating ethical decision making in crisis intervention. Following detailed discussions of crisis intervention within the framework of relational cultural theory, a triage assessment system, and an original ethical decision making protocol, nine diverse case studies in hospital, telebehavioral health, school, clinical, and public settings are presented. Students and practitioners will build a repertoire of ethical decision making skills to de-escalate crisis incidents and provide an appropriate level of support to individuals experiencing crisis.
