Martorell, 2025-07-24 Children's Boards in Museums outlines the innovative concept of a Children's Board in which children actively participate in a museum by sharing perspectives that expand the typical circle of voices and decision makers. Drawing on research conducted with children between the ages of 7 and 12 from diverse socio-economic contexts and cultures over the last decade, the author presents some of the most inspiring examples of children-centred museums around the world. This book describes the many ways in which children can improve the museum, explaining how they can help to transform it into a friendlier place that is closer to the needs of the community, more respectful of nature and capable of listening to and valuing every visitor. This book offers an innovative way of thinking about children in museums and explains how children's participation in areas of the museum that have otherwise been considered exclusive to its staff, such as strategy, human resources, funding, management and evaluation, can enhance those areas, making the museum a significantly better place. Children's Boards in Museums is essential reading for academics and students who are engaged in the study of museums, heritage, culture and children. It will also be of interest to professionals who are looking to facilitate a new kind of relationship between their institution and the children who visit it. The Myths We Live By Raphael Samuel, Paul

Thompson, 2021-11-30 First published in 1990 The Myths We Live By explores how memory and tradition are continually reshaped and recycled to make sense of the past from the standpoint of the present. The book makes use of the rich material of recorded life stories with examples stretching from the transient myths of contemporary Italian school children on strike back to the family legends of classical Greece and the traditional storytelling of Canadian Indians. The range of examples is international and together they advocate a transformed history which actively relates subjective and objective past and present, politics and poetry, and highlights history as a living force in the present. The Myths We Live By will appeal to anyone interested in oral history, memory and myth. Glimpses of Black Life Along Bayou Lafourche Curtis J. Johnson, 2012-11-30
