

AED Defibrillation & CPR

1. AED Defibrillation

The use of an AED (automated external defibrillator) in conjunction with CPR can significantly increase the chance of survival from a cardiac arrest.

The delivery of a shock should occur as soon as possible (within two minutes of cardiac arrest) to maximize the effectiveness of defibrillation. This study shows that survival without CPR and defibrillation (the chance of survival) reduces by 10% (Global Impact Foundation).

AEDs provide safety: this guidance for their use will only deliver a shock to the casualty if required. The machine is also designed to have a fail-safe procedure if required, a confirmed shock should not be delivered automatically to save the resuscitation of the casualty.

2. Danger

Access the situation

Make sure that you and any bystanders are safe. You need to look for:

- Flying debris
- Electricity
- Traffic
- Roadworks
- Hazards
- Spill Fuels

Get it to be a priority, activate the scene immediately

If any hazards are present, consider shouting or pointing them. Only return to the casualty if you have reassessed the hazards.

3. Response

Check whether the casualty is responsive

1. Ask "Open your eyes if you can hear me" and call their name if you know it.
2. Ask to touch the casualty's arm to see if they react.
3. Shake casualty's shoulders.
4. Do not leave the casualty unless the environment or situation is dangerous.

4. Airway & Breathing

For an unresponsive casualty

Open the airway

1. Look in the mouth to ensure there are no obvious obstructions.
2. Open the airway by tilting the chin and lifting the head back. This will raise the tongue back the back of the throat.
3. If no obvious injury is suspected, put one hand on the forehead to keep it in place and tilt. This indicates normal breathing.

Is the casualty breathing?

Assess for breathing

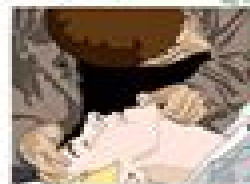

1. Look for the rise and fall of the chest.
2. Listen for sounds of breathing, close to the face, (Fig. 1)
3. Feel the breath on your cheek.
4. Count this out for up to 10 seconds.

Breathing normally

- If normal breathing is present, place the casualty in the recovery position.

Not breathing normally

- If never get AED or if for the Emergency Services and help with AED unit. If you have a helper with AED unit or if you are a first aider, use the AED unit.

5. Getting Help

Call for help

If alone, use a mobile phone to call the Emergency Services (999 in the UK or 112 in the EU).

If a bystander is present and there is a public AED, use the casualty nearby and breathing (see above).

Calling the Emergency Medical Services

1. Use the 112 for the Emergency Services.
2. The operator will ask you which service you require.
3. Once you have called 'Ambulance' you will be connected to ambulance control. The operator will ask you a set of questions.

Do not hang up at any stage of the conversation. The operator can reassure the call after completion.

6. CPR

When you are waiting for the AED to arrive, start CPR

1. Ensure the casualty is on a flat surface.
2. Place the heel of one hand on the centre of the chest in the centre of the casualty's chest.
3. Compress the chest (as in a maximum depth of approximately 5cm only, 5cm for adult compressions at the rate of 100 per minute (Fig. 1)).
4. After 30 chest compressions, open the airway (head-tilt-chin-lift) (Fig. 2).
5. Seal the mouth with your tongue and thumb.
6. Blow (as in the mouth-to-mouth) into the chest (as in the mouth-to-mouth) and repeat the cycle of 30 chest compressions (3 rescue breaths) until the AED unit becomes available (Fig. 3).

7. Using the AED

Put the AED on the casualty, ask them to continue with chest compressions until you have prepared the AED.

How the AED works

1. Ensure the leads for the Battle Pads are securely connected to the AED unit.
2. If a resuscitator is available, use the mask to deliver oxygen from the casualty's mouth.
3. If the chest is wet, use a towel to dry it before the pads.
4. Remove the Battle Pads from their storage material. As contact is made, press them on the casualty's chest.
5. Ensure the unit is touching the casualty as the AED analyses the casualty's heart rate. The AED will advise the action to be taken.
6. If a shock is required, the AED will advise you to press the shock button on the AED (the shock button will be the AED will advise you to press the shock button on the AED).
7. Resuscitate CPR as instructed by the AED.
8. The AED will advise you to shock for a heart beat. Continue the cycle of CPR (compressions) until the AED shock unit. Ask your helper to continue resuscitating the AED unit.

Only stop CPR if

- The casualty shows signs of recovery.
- You are instructed to do so by the Emergency Services.
- The battery is exhausted and unable to continue.
- The situation changes and you are in immediate danger.
