Crafting Writers, K-6 Elizabeth Hale, 2008. How do we teach elementary students to independently use the different elements of craft that are discussed and taught in lessons? We begin by honoring the reality that terms like voice sentence fluency and writing with detail are descriptions of where we want our students to be, not next steps on how to reach those goals. In Crafting Writers K-6 Elizabeth Hale shows us how to identify specific elements of craft when assessing student work and planning instruction and use them to teach students the specific craft techniques that will move them forward as writers. Liz offers practical information that teachers can use immediately in their classrooms. She also presents a concrete process for noticing craft in writing so teachers can develop and plan craft lessons based on their students' writing. Learning the techniques that make up good writing also allows teachers to see craft in many different levels of writing, a skill that is particularly powerful when conferring with below grade level writers. Additional chapters look closely at assessment and classroom management practices like group conferring. Most of us know good writing when we read it but writing teachers need to know what makes it work. Filled with easy to use charts and practical lessons Crafting Writers K-6 provides clear insight into identifying and teaching the small elements that make good writing successful.

Nonfiction Craft Lessons Teaching Information Villop Hung, 2016-09-21. Writing nonfiction represents a big step for most students. Most young writers are not intimidated by personal narrative fiction or even poetry but when they try to put together a teaching book report or persuasive essay they often feel anxious and frustrated. Villop Hung Fletcher believes that young nonfiction writers supply plenty of passion keen interest and wonder. Teachers can provide concrete strategies to help students scaffold their ideas as they write in his challenging genre. Like the authors best selling Craft Lessons Teaching Writing K-8 this book is divided into sections for K-2, 3-4 and middle school grades 5-8 students. These divisions reflect various differences between emerging competent and fluent writers. In each section you will find a generous collection of craft lessons directed at the genre that's most appropriate for that particular age. In the K-2 section, for example, a number of craft lessons focus on the all-about or concept book. In the 3-4 section, there are several lessons on biography. In the 5-8 section, a series of lessons addresses expository writing. Throughout the book, each of the 80 lessons is presented on a single page in an easy-to-read format. Every lesson features three teaching guidelines: Discussion (A brief look at the reasons for teaching the particular element of craft specifically in a nonfiction context), How to Teach It (Concrete language showing exactly how a teacher might bring this craft element to students in writing conferences or a small group setting), and Resource Material (Specific book or text referred to in the craft lesson, including trade books or a piece of student writing in the Appendixes). This book will help students breathe voice into lifeless dump-truck writing and improve their nonfiction writing by making it clearer, more authoritative, and more organized. Nonfiction Craft Lessons gives teachers a wealth of practical strategies to help students grow into strong writers as they explore and explain the world around them. Be sure to look at the When Students Write videotapes too.

Craft and Process Studies Matt Glover, 2019-10-28 If you believe that all students should have opportunities to write in genres of their choice but aren't sure how, Matt Glover is here to help. In Craft and Process Studies, Matt makes a compelling case for raising student engagement and writing quality by allowing students to choose the genre they want to write in. Then he shows you how, with 17 possible units divided into craft and process studies that teach important writing skills while also providing opportunities for choice of genre. Matt uses a predictable structure for each unit that includes suggestions for applicable grade ranges, time of year to try, key unit goals, and questions; mentor texts; minilesson topics; conferring goals. With key teaching points, ideas for how to fit the units into your existing curriculum, and strategies to overcome common roadblocks, Matt gives you all the specific how-tos for implementing the studies even in school settings where writing units are already set. And with 40 classroom videos, you'll see the power of this work in action.

Traits of Good Writing, Grades 3-4 Tracie Heskett, 2006-02-28 Emphasize the process of writing with practical hands-on activities for each of the following writing traits: Ideas and Content, Word Choice, Fluency, Voice, Organization, Conventions, and Presentation. Each trait section includes student samples and reproducible student pages.
