Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries The Works in Architecture of Robert and James Adam Robert Adam, James Adam, 2013-02-20 One of the most celebrated books in architectural history this volume consists of 106 illustrated plates that influenced generations of British and American architectural and furniture designs Greene and Greene Bruce Smith, 1998-08 Surveys twenty five masterpieces produced by the firm Building the National Parks Linda Flint McClelland, 1998 The Office of Strategic Services the forerunner of the Central Intelligence Agency was founded in 1942 by William Wild Bill Donovan under the direction of President Roosevelt who realized the need to improve intelligence during wartime A rigorous recruitment process enlisted agents from both the armed services and civilians to produce operational groups specializing in different foreign areas including Italy Norway Yugoslavia and China At its peak in 1944 the number of men and women working in the service totaled nearly 13 500 This intriguing story of the origins and development of the American espionage forces covers all of the different departments involved with a particular emphasis on the courageous teams operating in the field The volume is illustrated with many photographs including images from the film director John Ford who led the OSS Photographic Unit and parachuted into Burma in 1943 Architecture in Indianapolis James A. Glass, 2025-06-10 As the twentieth century began Indianapolis found itself at the center of a booming commercial and industrial network with new office buildings department stores theaters hotels factories places of worship and the largest electric interurban train network in the nation The population was growing as well with many new residential additions to the city planned from ornate mansions on the north side of the city to working class bungalows and apartments In Architecture in Indianapolis 1900 1920 preservationist and architectural historian Dr James A Glass describes the varied architectural currents that shaped buildings in Indianapolis during the first two decades of the twentieth century a period when the Commercial Club of Indianapolis called the state capital the largest inland city With over 300 photographs and drawings as well as 31 maps Glass continues the exploration begun in Volume 1 of the variety of architectural styles that the city's builders drew on including Italian Renaissance Gothic Arts and Crafts Modern Tudor palace and Tudor vernacular Prairie Style and many more And like Volume 1 Volume 2 documents the loss of distinctive architecture that has occurred throughout Indianapolis and explains why certain structures were razed Both volumes together provide the first history of architecture in the city during its first century and will serve as an indispensable reference for decades to come Along with its companion 1820 1900 Architecture in Indianapolis 1900 1920 describes the varied architecture that architects and builders in the city designed and constructed during the first two decades of the twentieth century and profusely illustrates buildings of that period providing an indispensable reference for decades to come Historic Residential Suburbs David L. Ames, Linda Flint McClelland, 2002 Beyond the Bungalow Paul Duchscherer, 2005-10-12 Beyond the Bungalow the newest book from renowned designer and Arts Crafts expert Paul Duchscherer celebrates the larger members of the Arts Crafts family and pays tribute to their remarkable artistic beauty craftsmanship and diversity of style Widely acclaimed as America's favorite Arts Crafts Home the term bungalow may bring a specific image to mind but it really is one part of a much larger family This extended family also includes an entire genre of larger scale Craftsman period homes much like those created by architect brothers Charles and Henry Greene Craftsman Bungalows - 59 Homes from the Craftsman Gustav Stickley, 1989-11-01 Presenting Nature Linda Flint McClelland, 1993 American Bungalow Style Robert Winter, 1996-05 In the tradition of The Wright Style this lush volume captures the charm of that Arts and Crafts era building type called the bungalow and provides a wealth of ideas for restoring and decorating these historic American homes 300 full color photos 14 black white photos Line drawings Bungalow Nation Diane Maddex, 2003-12 With photographs by Vertikoff this book tells the story of seventy five bungalows in five metro areas Los Angeles Seattle Minneapolis St Paul Chicago and Washington DC while giving a history of the house style and period furnishings Late Victorian Architectural Plans and Details William T. Comstock, 2013-01-30 This authentic reproduction of plans drawn up by a noted nineteenth century architectural firm features both residential and public buildings Hundreds of illustrations include floor plans perspective views and elevations as well as designs for staircases fireplaces and other interior details Other drawings depict windows doors balconies and gables Photographs offer crisp views of exteriors Victorian architecture buffs will prize this excellent source of authentic period designs Its 126 plates comprise 87 images of residences the remaining 39 structures include a field club building stables a library a school a railroad station a dry goods store and a music hall Captions describe locations dimensions costs and other particulars Inside the Bungalow Paul Duchscherer, 1997 This companion book to The Bungalow includes chapters devoted to all aspects of bungalow interior design including the front door with its sense of arrival the fireplace the living room the den study or library the kitchen and dining room and bedrooms that range from nursery to sleeping porch 250 color photos Sites Unseen William A. Gleason, 2011 Sites Unseen examines the complex intertwining of race and architecture in nineteenth and early twentieth century American culture the period not only in which

American architecture came of age professionally in the U S but also in which ideas about architecture became a prominent part of broader conversations about American culture history politics andOCalthough we have not yet understood this clearlyOCorace relations This rich and copiously illustrated interdisciplinary study explores the ways that American writing between roughly 1850 and 1930 concerned itself often intensely with the racial implications of architectural space primarily but not exclusively through domestic architecture In addition to identifying an archive of provocative primary materials Sites Unseen draws significantly on important recent scholarship in multiple fields ranging from literature history and material culture to architecture cultural geography and urban planning Together the chapters interrogate a variety of expressive American vernacular forms including the dialect tale the novel of empire letters and pulp stories along with the plantation cabin the West Indian cottage the Latin American plaza and the OC OrientalOCO parlor These are some of the overlooked plots and structures that can and should inform a more comprehensive consideration of the literary and cultural meanings of American architecture Making sense of the relations between architecture race and American writing of the long nineteenth centuryOCoin their regional national and hemispheric contextsOCO Sites Unseen provides a clearer view not only of this catalytic era but also more broadly of what architectural historian Dell Upton has aptly termed the social experience of the built environment

City and Campus John W. Stamper,2024-04-01 City and Campus tells the rich history of a Midwest industrial town and its two academic institutions through the buildings that helped bring these places to life John W Stamper paints a narrative portrait of South Bend and the campuses of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary s College from their founding and earliest settlement in the 1830s through the boom of the Roaring Twenties Industrialist giants such as the Studebaker Brothers Manufacturing Company and Oliver Chilled Plow Works invested their wealth into creating some of the city s most important and historically significant buildings Famous architects including Frank Lloyd Wright brought the latest trends in architecture to the heart of South Bend Stamper also illuminates how Notre Dame s founder and long time president Father Edward Sorin C S C recruited other successful architects to craft in stone the foundations of the university and the college at the same time as he built the scholarship City and Campus provides an engaging and definitive history of how this urban and academic environment emerged on the shores of the St Joseph River

Southern Homes and Plan Books Sarah J. Boykin,Susan M. Hunter,2018-08-01 Southern Homes and Plan Books showcases the architectural legacy and design philosophy of Leila Ross Wilburn 1885 1967 a legacy that includes hundreds of houses in a variety of popular house styles from bungalows to ranch houses built using Wilburn s plan books during the first six decades of the twentieth century Wilburn opened her own firm in Atlanta in 1908 and practiced until her death in 1967 She published nine plan books that offered mail order house designs to contractors builders and prospective homeowners and allowed them the ease of choosing a preconceived design and construction plan Sarah J Boykin and Susan M Hunter provide a survey of the southern homes built from Wilburn s plan books examining Wilburn s architectural legacy and her achievements as a plan book architect The book provides beautiful photographs of houses built from her plans along with illustrations from the plan books themselves and other related documents from the time Readers can thus see how her designs were realized as individual houses and also how they influenced the development of some of the Atlanta area s beloved historical neighborhoods most notably Druid Hills Morningside Virginia Highland and Candler Park as well as the McDonough Adams Kings Highway MAK Historic District in Decatur Today Wilburn s houses are enjoyed as appealing historic homes and represent some of the richest examples of southern vernacular architecture to emerge from the plan book tradition Towards a New Architecture Le Corbusier, 2013-04-09 Pioneering manifesto by founder of International School Technical and aesthetic theories views of industry economics relation of form to function mass production split and much more Profusely illustrated Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedic of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century s vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries
