Ghostly Matters Avery Gordon, 1997 Avery Gordon's stunningly original and provocatively imaginative book explores the connections linking horror history and haunting She shows how fiction writing can sometimes function as a social force as a repository of memories that are too brutal to debilitating and too horrifying to register through direct historical or social science narratives George Lipsitz University of California San Diego

The Politics of Haunting and Memory in International Relations Jessica Auchter, 2014-03-21 International Relations has traditionally focused on conflict and war but the effects of violence including dead bodies and memorialization practices have largely been considered beyond the purview of the field Drawing on Jacques Derrida's notion of hauntology to consider the politics of life and death Auchter traces the story of how life and death and a clear division between the two is summoned in the project of statecraft She argues that by letting ourselves be haunted or looking for ghosts it is possible to trace how statecraft relies on the construction of such a dichotomy Three empirical cases offer fertile ground for complicating the picture often painted of memorialization Rwandan genocide memorials the underexplored case of undocumented immigrants who die crossing the US Mexico border and the body ruins nexus in 9 11 memorialization Focusing on the role of dead bodies and the construction of particular spaces as the appropriate sites for memory to be situated it offers an alternative take on the new materialisms movement in international relations by asking after the questions that arise from an ethnographic approach to the subject viewing things from the perspective of dead bodies who occupy the shadowy world of post conflict international politics This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of critical international relations security studies statecraft and memory studies fields of biblical theological and religious studies to explore the deep theological resonances of questions about the social and cultural construction of time memory and futurity Apocalyptic eschatological and apophatic languages frameworks and orientations pervade both queer theorizing and theologizing about time affect history and desire The volume fosters a more explicit engagement between theories of queer temporality and affectivity and religious texts and discourses Grace of the Ghosts Jeannine Hill Fletcher,2025-05-06 A profound new volume that reckons with the history of an American Catholic Church embedded in and drawing benefits from White supremacy For the Church to become a truly anti racist institution we must first understand how today s racial challenges are embedded in the theo logic of American Christianity and the cultural production of our Christian educational institutions As colleges and universities reckon with their involvement in slavery Grace of the Ghosts asks Christian affiliated institutions of congregation school and media to expand this reckoning with attention to the many ways they have been embedded in and drew benefits from American systems of White supremacy Too often White Christian histories render White Christians as the good guys in order to make a brutal history plausible and thus erase countless injustices committed against Indigenous Black Latinx and Asian peoples Author Jeannine Hill Fletcher writes instead a US Catholic history that sheds light on the crimes committed against these ancestors by members of their own faith community Grace of the Ghosts focuses on specific case studies of Catholic educational and ecclesial institutions journeying through numerous microhistories to provide an accessible program to work toward the flourishing of a multiracial and multicultural Church Hill Fletcher digs deeply into the details of Jesuit slaveholding at Georgetown the expansion of Church networks on the frontiers to the West and South and emergent cities to the North and the extension of the work of religious women from the East Coast to the Midwest The volume considers the implications of Catholic involvement in Indian Boarding Schools and envisions alternative possibilities in the Catholic activism of the United Farmworkers Each microhistory elevates the theological insights that emerge from those who withstood the assaults of White Christian supremacy Hill Fletcher then orients the reader forward by envisioning possibilities of repair Recognizing that this will require extensive and ongoing work the book closes with the consideration of spiritual capital including a reclamation of Ignatius s Spiritual Exercises that might sustain us as we write the next chapter in the nation s long struggle against White supremacy Much work must be done for reparation reconciliation and repair to unfold fully Grace of the Ghosts provides a bridge to institutional accountability for past failings and a path toward becoming transformative institutions for the future Culture in Camouflage Patrick Deer,2009-03-26 Examines how literary writers including Ford Madox Ford Siegfried Sassoon Wilfred Owen James Hanley Evelyn Waugh Graham Greene and others countered the war culture promoted by mass media war planners and military historians Unsilencing Slavery Celia E. Naylor,2022-07-01 Popular references to the Rose Hall Great House in Jamaica often focus on the legend of the White Witch of Rose Hall Over one hundred thousand people visit this plantation every year many hoping to catch a glimpse of Annie Palmer s ghost After experiencing this tour with her daughter in 2013 and leaving

Jamaica haunted by the silences of the tour Celia E Naylor resolved to write a history of Rose Hall about those people who actually had a right to haunt this place of terror and trauma the enslaved Naylor deftly guides us through a strikingly different Rose Hall She introduces readers to the silences of the archives and unearths the names and experiences of the enslaved at Rose Hall in the decades immediately before the abolition of slavery in Jamaica She then offers a careful reading of Herbert G de Lisser s 1929 novel The White Witch of Rosehall which gave rise to the myth of the White Witch and a critical analysis of the current tours at Rose Hall Great House Naylor s interdisciplinary examination engages different modes of history making history telling and truth telling to excavate the lives of enslaved people highlighting enslaved women as they navigated the violences of the Jamaican slavocracy and plantationscape Moving beyond the legend she examines iterations of the afterlives of slavery in the ongoing construction of slavery museums memorializations and movements for Black lives and the enduring case for Black humanity Alongside her book she has created a website as another way for readers to explore the truths of Rose Hall rosehallproject.columbia.edu

Public Health, Humanities and Magical Realism Marisa de Andrade, 2022-07-29 This book calls for a re conceptualisation of the public health evidence base to include crucial forms of creative and relational data about people s lived experiences that cannot be accessed through the biomedical approach to generating and using evidence Drawing from the author s ethical ontological and epistemological dilemmas when studying controversial topics and methodological evaluation framework to measure impacts of creative community engagement the book argues that traditional methodologies and conceptualisations of evidence have the potential to exacerbate health inequalities by excluding and misrepresenting minorities Fantastical realities based on truthful research findings are intertwined with traditional public health approaches through artistic engagement with so called hard to reach groups Working with their sur real life stories the author reflects on how the population s breadth is inadequately reflected which threatens validity and generalisability in public health research and decision making Through different ways of knowing epistemology and different ways of being ontology this book shows how to design studies make recommendations and adapt services that are aligned with views and experiences of those living on the margins and beyond As such it is an essential read for public health researchers and students

Higher Education Hauntologies Vivienne Bozalek, Michalinos Zembylas, Siddique Motala, Dorothee Holscher, 2021-04-12 Higher Education Hauntologies considers how higher education might benefit from thinking about Derrida s notion of hauntology and its implications for a justice to come It contributes to the imperative to rethink the university across and with in global geopolitical spaces and thus has appeal for both Southern and international contexts The book includes ideas which push boundaries that previously served higher education teachers and scholars and proposes new imaginaries of higher education Additionally the collection makes a contribution to ongoing debates about the epistemological ethical ontological and political implications of hauntology in higher education policies and practices particularly in line with contemporary concerns for more socially just possibilities and visions in higher education

Islanders white Europeans and Americans asserted an identification with the racial origins of Polynesians declaring them to be racially almost white and speculating that they were of Mediterranean or Aryan descent In Possessing Polynesians Maile Arvin analyzes this racializing history within the context of settler colonialism across Polynesia especially in Hawai i Arvin argues that a logic of possession through whiteness animates settler colonialism by which both Polynesia the place and Polynesians the people become exotic feminized belongings of whiteness Seeing whiteness as indigenous to Polynesia provided white settlers with the justification needed to claim Polynesian lands and resources Understood as possessions Polynesians were and continue to be denied the privileges of whiteness Yet Polynesians have long contested these classifications claims and cultural representations and Arvin shows how their resistance to and refusal of white settler logic have regenerated Indigenous forms of recognition Feelin Bettina Judd,2022-12-15 How creativity makes its way through feeling and what we can know and feel through the artistic work of Black women Feeling is not feelin As the poet artist and scholar Bettina Judd argues feelin in African American Vernacular English is how Black women artists approach and produce knowledge as sensation internal and complex entangled with pleasure pain anger and joy and manifesting artistic production itself as the meaning of the work Through interviews close readings and archival research Judd draws on the fields of affect studies and Black studies to analyze the creative processes and contributions of Black women from poet Lucille Clifton and musician Avery Sunshine to visual artists Betye Saar Joyce J Scott and Deana Lawson Feelin Creative Practice Pleasure and

Black Feminist Thought makes a bold and vital intervention in critical theory's trend toward disembodiment of feeling as knowledge. Instead, Judd revitalizes current debates in Black studies about the concept of the human and about Black life by considering how discourses on emotion as they are explored by Black women artists offer alternatives to the concept of the human. Judd expands the notions of Black women's pleasure politics in Black feminist studies that include the erotic, the sexual, the painful, the joyful, the shameful, and the sensations and emotions that yet have no name. In its richly multidisciplinary approach, Feelin' calls for the development of research methods that acknowledge creative and emotionally rigorous work as productive by incorporating visual art, narrative, and poetry. — Healing Haunted Histories Elaine Enns, Ched Myers, 2021-02-01

Healing Haunted Histories tackles the oldest and deepest injustices on the North American continent: violations which inhabit every intersection of settler and Indigenous worlds past and present. Wounds inextricably woven into the fabric of our personal and political lives. And it argues we can heal those wounds through the inward and outward journey of decolonization. The authors write as and for settlers on this journey, exploring the places, peoples, and spirits that have formed and deformed us. They look at issues of Indigenous justice and settler responsibility through the lens of Elaine's Mennonite family narrative, tracing Landlines, Bloodlines, and Songlines like a braided river. From Ukrainian steppes to Canadian prairies to California chaparral, they examine her forebearers' immigrant travails and trauma, settler unknowing and complicity, and traditions of resilience and conscience. And they invite readers to do the same. Part memoir, part social historical and theological analysis, and part practical workbook, this process invites settler Christians and other people of faith into a discipleship of decolonization. How are our histories, landscapes, and communities haunted by continuing Indigenous dispossession? How do we transform our colonizing self-perceptions, lifeways, and structures? And how might we practice restorative solidarity with Indigenous communities today? — Surviving the Future Shuli Branson, Raven Hudson, 2023-05-23

Surviving the Future is a collection of the most current ideas in radical queer movement work and revolutionary queer theory. Beset by a new pandemic fanning the flames of global uprising, these queers cast off progressive narratives of liberal hope while building mutual networks of rebellion and care. These essays propose a militant strategy of queer survival in an ever precarious future. Starting from a position of abolition of prisons, police, the State, identity, and racist, cis-heteronormative society, this collection refuses the bribes of inclusion in a system built on our expendability. Though the mainstream media saturates us with the boring norms of queer representation with a recent focus on trans visibility, the writers in this book ditch false hope to imagine collective visions of liberation that tell different stories, build alternate worlds, and refuse the legacies of racial capitalism, anti-Blackness, and settler colonialism. The work curated in this book spans Black queer life in the time of COVID-19 and uprising, assimilation, and pinkwashing, settler colonial projects, subversive and deviant forms of representation, building anarchist trans queer infrastructures, and more. Contributors include Che Gossett, Yasmin Nair, Mattilda Bernstein Sycamore, Adrian Shanker, Kitty Stryker, Toshio Meronek, and more. — Liner Notes for the Revolution
