been written or filmed by whites and weighted heavily toward Dr King's telegraphic leadership. Eyes on the Prize told the story from the point of view of ordinary people inside the civil rights movement. Hampton shifted the focus from victimization to strength from white saviors to black courage. He recovered and permanently fixed the images we now all remember but had been lost at the time: Selma and Montgomery pickets and fire hoses, ballot boxes and mass meetings. Jon Else was Hampton's series producer and his moving book focuses on the tumultuous eighteen months in 1985 and 1986 when Eyes on the Prize was finally created. It's a point where many wires cross: the new telling of African American history, the complex mechanics of documentary making, the rise of social justice film and the politics of television. And because Else like Hampton and many of the key staffers was himself a veteran of the movement, his book braids together battle tales from their own experiences as civil rights workers in the south in the 1960s. Hampton was not afraid to show the movement's raw realities: conflicts between secular and religious leaders, the shift toward black power and armed black resistance in the face of savage white violence. It is all on the screen and the fight to get it all into the films was at times as ferocious as the history being depicted. Henry Hampton utterly changed the way social history is told, taught and remembered today. My Life is a Rock and Roll Song ... ready to be sung! Ray Mack, 2023-07-09. Born to a Slovenian Mom and an Irish Dad, I grew up in a small Ohio town in the 40s and 50s with many memories of my family struggling during and after World War II. Studies came easy for me, graduating with honors in College Preparatory Classes in 1959. I spent the last years in high school having overcome a Meatball weight problem and hanging out with buddies that were cool. Although I was accepted and had a college scholarship waiting for me, there was this stronger urge to accompany my buddies and join the Marines, promising my parents college would come later. While serving 4 years in the Marine Corps, Univac Computers, I followed one of my cool buddies to a local Albany, GA radio station in search of a part-time job and fell in love with the thought of being a DJ with hundreds of girls admiring me and my now Mr. Bronze America muscular body. I did make it with an on-air gig but only got there because of my Sales/Marketing skills. With a few delays, my parents were elated when I graduated from Kent State University with a Bachelor's Degree in Telecommunications and a Master's Degree in Broadcast Management. The road to success has taken me on a lot of twists and turns, some right turns while making my share of boo-boos along the way. There has been more than 50 years invested in writing this book, some parts based on life, others based on my vivid imagination. During and following a career in radio and helping to build up and sell radio stations, there was success as a motivational speaker across the country while promoting other famous speakers including Zig Ziglar, Og Mandino and Norman Vincent Peale. Several money-making projects were always active while living life to the fullest, including looking for the next lady to share it with and the next opportunity to do something exciting. Enjoy.
