Fortress Europe Matthew Carr,2016-01-12 Singled out by Foreign Affairs for its reporting on the brutal frontiers of new Europe Fortress Europe is the story of how the world's most affluent region and history's greatest experiment with globalization has become an immigration war zone where tens of thousands have died in a humanitarian crisis that has galvanized the world's attention Journalist Matthew Carr brings to life remarkable human dramas based on extensive interviews and firsthand reporting from the hot zones of Europe's immigration battles in a narrative that moves from the desperate immigrant camps at the mouth of the Channel Tunnel in Calais France to the chaotic Mediterranean sea where African migrants have drowned by the thousands Speaking with key European policy makers police soldiers on the front lines immigrant rights activists and an astonishing range of migrants themselves Carr offers a lucid account both of the broad issues at stake in the crisis and its exorbitant human costs The paperback edition includes a new afterword by the author which offers an up to the minute assessment of the 2015 crisis and a searing critique of Europe's response to the new waves of refugees

Embracing the Infidel Ibrahim Sirkeci,2010 This is probably the most critical point in migration history because since then neither immigration stopped nor the wish to stop it Hence efforts to tighten the admission have been matched with widening variety of clandestine migrations One major reason should be increasing poverty and turbulences in sending parts of the world Nevertheless success in illegal ways of entry met by increasing xenophobia and demands to control it Yaghmaian at such a critical time put together an excellent collection of stories he gathered through his journey among Muslim illegal migrants travelling to the West He followed up stories from 2002 till March 2005 just months before the publication of the book

Contemporary Art, World Cinema, and Visual Culture Hamid Keshmirshikan,2019-03-29 Contemporary Art World Cinema and Visual Culture Essays by Hamid Dabashi is a collection of writings by the acclaimed cultural critic and scholar A thorough Introduction rigorously frames chapters and identifies in Dabashi's writings a comprehensive approach which forms the criteria for selecting the essays for the volume The Introduction also teases out of these essays the overarching theme that holds them together the manner they inform a particularly critical angle in them and the way they cohere The Introduction dwells on the work of one scholar public intellectual and theorist of modern and contemporary arts to extrapolate more universal issues of concern to art criticism in general These scattered materials and their underlying theoretical and critical logic are a unique contribution to the field of modern and contemporary arts

The Western Mediterranean and the World Teofilo F. Ruiz,2017-10-02 From the Straits of Gibraltar to Sicily the European northern Mediterranean nations to the shores of North Africa the western Mediterranean is a unique cultural and sociopolitical entity which has had a singular role in shaping today's global society The Western Mediterranean and the World is the fascinating story of the rise of that peculiar world and of its evolution from the end of the Western Roman Empire to the present Uniquely rather than present the history of the region as a strict chronological progression the author

takes a thematic approach telling his story through a series of vignettes case studies and original accounts so as to provide a more immediate sense of what life in and around the Mediterranean was like from the end of the Roman Empire in the West to the present immigration crisis now unfolding in Mediterranean waters Emphasizing the development of religion and language and the enduring synergies and struggles between Christian Jews and Muslims on both shores of the western sea Dr Ruiz connects the region to the larger world and locates the development of Mediterranean societies within a global context Describes the move from religious and linguistic unity under Roman rule to the fragmented cultural landscape of today Explores the relationship of language culture and geography focusing on the role of language formation and linguistic identity in the emergence of national communities Traces the movements of peoples across regions and their encounters with new geographical cultural and political realities Addresses the emergence of various political identities and how they developed into set patterns of political organization Emphasizes the theme of encounters as seen from Christian Muslim and Jewish perspectives While it is sure to become a definitive text for university courses on Mediterranean history The Western Mediterranean and the World will also have great appeal among scholars of the Mediterranean as well as general readers of history Part of The Blackwell History of the World Series The goal of this ambitious series is to provide an accessible source of knowledge about the entire human past for every curious person in every part of the world It will comprise some two dozen volumes of which some provide synoptic views of the history of particular regions while others consider the world as a whole during a particular period of time The volumes are narrative in form giving balanced attention to social and cultural history in the broadest sense as well as to institutional development and political change Each provides a systematic account of a very large subject but they are also both imaginative and interpretative The Series is intended to be accessible to the widest possible readership and the accessibility of its volumes is matched by the style of presentation and production

Almost a Foreign Country Manfred Wolf, 2008 Is it time to negotiate with bin Laden Is lying about sex ever or perhaps often a good idea To what extent do religion and culture shape the ways in which we communicate What is the mysterious syndrome called CHOIS with which many long time pessimists suddenly find themselves diagnosed Delve into this intriguing collection to find out the answers to these questions and many more In Almost a Foreign Country a collection of columns articles and aphorisms Manfred Wolf brings his unique perspective to bear on a broad range of aspects characterizing our current reality and the way we live now From love and the relationships between men and women to time and aging from current political and social issues to the ever changing face of language Wolf tackles them all often combining humor with a sharp somber perception of the issues that concern us all His point of view is always unflinching original and unapologetic Manfred Wolf is a university professor a widely published writer and a world traveler who has spent time in several very different cultures Almost a Foreign Country provides its readers the unique opportunity to spend some time in his company and enjoy the many pleasures of his experience wit and always fascinating opinions Stuck in a Revolving Door Bill

Frelick, Human Rights Watch (Organization), 2008 This report is about obstacles placed at the Greek entrance to the EU that prevent Iraqis and other asylum seekers and migrants from entering the European Union or that summarily expel them when they do It includes testimonies from Iraqis and other asylum seekers and migrants on both sides of the Greek Turkish border about pushbacks and summary expulsions from Greece inhuman and degrading conditions of detention in Greece Greek police and coast guard brutality and harassment and the blocking of access to asylum in Greece as well as the denial of asylum and other forms of protection to those needing it This report is also about abusive treatment of migrants by Turkish border authorities in the border region with Greece including inhuman and degrading conditions of detention in direct violation of Turkey's obligations under the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms ECHR

Muslims in Europe Manfred Wolf, 2017-08-25 This book probes questions and gives provocative answers for one of the crucial issues of our time Are two cultures ever incompatible in one society In a series of essays spanning more than a decade Manfred Wolf examines the topic of Muslims in Europe exploring various aspects of the subject including cultural affinities or their absence several approaches to handling immigration the roots of radicalization and terrorism and the assimilation of Muslims in Europe versus the United States From Elusive Affinities Assimilation is always hardest when the culture of origin differs radically from the culture of the new society Arab cultures of the Middle East and North Africa revolve around a kind of Islam induced authoritarianism an absolutist impulse which the new country sets itself against Certain standards deference to parents obedience to government respect for force are in those parts of the world accepted almost without question while European cultures encourage their citizens to question them The newcomer especially if he's young mistakes this seeming laxness for total permissiveness an absence of all standards and is almost surprised when the host culture clamps down and jails him for a criminal offense European culture seems amorphous without clear values and beliefs Freedom looks like the absence of morality Since so few absolute standards obtain why shouldn't you grope and fondle women at a public celebration especially when they're so provocatively dressed This disaffinity between the two cultures makes assimilation extraordinarily difficult especially since assimilation entails accepting the morals the norms the mores of the new culture Genuine multiculturalism is an abstraction one culture has to dominate

Church and Civil Society Michael Walker, 2017-07-31 Germany and South Africa experienced drastic social transitions with the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1986 and the end of Apartheid in 1994 This book consists of a collection of essays from German and South African theologians who analyse the role that religious communities had and are still playing within the respective civil societies The concept and texture of civil society are analysed case studies are presented theological perspectives are given on the relation between church state and civil society and guidelines are provided for the healing role that Christian religious communities can play in Germany and South Africa This book is mainly directed at theologians and scholars in religious studies however sociologists and political philosophers may also find the essays informative Besides the wide variety of theological approaches sociological and empirical data and practical theological perspective the book also yields interesting comparative analysis on two societies in transition Deadly Voyages Veronica Fynn Bruen, Steven W. Bender, 2019-12-16 This interdisciplinary volume explores the burdens and impact of migration perils while considering which laws policies practices and venues might establish empathy and protection for migrants The volume envisions transformative policy with the goal of drastically reducing the peril migrants across the globe face Iranian Refugees in Transit Maral Jefroudi, 2024-07-25 Maral Jefroudi presents a comprehensive picture of one of the largest migration waves in contemporary history by analyzing refugees interactions with the Turkish State the UNHCR and within the community of Iranians in transit after the 1979 revolution Iranian Refugees in Transit unveils the rich history of political engagement among Iranian refugees before their arrival in Turkey contextualised within Turkey's own landscape of political and ethnic conflicts Jefroudi expertly examines the intersectional distribution of precarity among refugees By bringing together interviews with refugees from the period analyzing cultural products by and on them and tracing their footsteps in newspapers and scholarly literature this book fills a significant gap in Turkey's migration history Through a critical historical analysis of the international asylum system Iranian Refugees in Transit offers valuable insights into the dynamics of the current refugee crisis The Arab Spring Hamid Dabashi, 2012-05-10 This pioneering explanation of the Arab Spring will define a new era of thinking about the Middle East In this landmark book Hamid Dabashi argues that the revolutionary uprisings that have engulfed multiple countries and political climes from Morocco to Iran and from Syria to Yemen were driven by a Delayed Defiance a point of rebellion against domestic tyranny and globalized disempowerment alike that signifies no less than the end of Postcolonialism Sketching a new geography of liberation Dabashi shows how the Arab Spring has altered the geopolitics of the region so radically that we must begin re imagining the the Middle East Ultimately the permanent revolutionary mood Dabashi brilliantly explains has the potential to liberate not only those societies already ignited but many others through a universal geopolitics of hope

Compassion for one another in the Global Village Ulrike Elsdörfer, Takaaki David Ito, 2016 The International Council on Pastoral Care and Counselling ICPCC met in October 2015 in San Francisco for its 10th International Congress Recent results from worldwide projects underlined the importance of an exchange within the globalized network Interreligious encounters in spiritual care and counseling led to new insights while aspects of social justice brought along new challenges Sections on technology and internet communication opened a space for new reflections in the realm of spiritual experience This volume presents documents from a joint meeting of ICPCC with American organizations for Pastoral Care and Counselling It shows the enduring process of formation of a worldwide community of spiritual counsellors Series Pastoral Care and Spiritual Healing Spirituality interkulturell Vol 4 Subject Sociology Pastoral Care Breeding Bin Ladens Zachary Shore, 2006-10-15 A look into the state of Islam in Europe and the threat posed by excluding moderate Muslims in Western society While American leaders wage war with extremists in the Middle East they are ignoring a greater threat closer to home In Breeding Bin Ladens Zachary Shore asserts that the growing ambivalence of Europe's Muslims poses risks to national identities international security and the transatlantic alliance Europe's failure to integrate its Muslim millions and America's battered image in the Muslim world have left too many Western Muslims easy prey for violent dogmas Until America and Europe adopt new strategies Shore argues Europe will increasingly become the incubation ground for breeding new Bin Ladens The United States continues to spend billions and lose thousands of soldiers to combat Islamic extremists a group estimated to be as small as fifty thousand Meanwhile Western leaders have not sought to understand the millions of moderate Muslims who live peacefully in the United States and Europe Many in this extraordinarily diverse group are deeply ambivalent toward perceived Western values Although they may admire America's economic or technological might many are appalled by its crass consumerism sexualization of women lack of social justice and foreign policies Through in depth interviews with Muslims living across the European Union Shore gives voice to people of deep faith who speak of the conflict between their desire to integrate into their adopted societies and the repulsion they feel toward some of what the West represents Shore offers a consideration of Islam's future in the West Cautioning Western leaders against an anti terrorist tunnel vision that could ultimately backfire Shore proposes bold creative and controversial solutions for attracting the hearts and minds of moderate Muslims living in the West Technologies of Suspicion and the Ethics of Obligation in Political Asylum Bridget M. Haas, Amy Shuman, 2019-03-11 Across the globe migration has been met with intensifying modes of criminalization and securitization and claims for political asylum are increasingly met with suspicion Asylum seekers have become the focus of global debates surrounding humanitarian obligations on the one hand and concerns surrounding national security and border control on the other In Technologies of Suspicion and the Ethics of Obligation in Political Asylum contributors provide fine tuned analyses of political asylum systems and the adjudication of asylum claims across a range of sociocultural and geopolitical contexts The contributors to this timely volume drawing on a variety of theoretical perspectives offer critical insights into the processes by which tensions between humanitarianism and security are negotiated at the local level often with negative consequences for asylum seekers By investigating how a politics of suspicion within asylum systems is enacted in everyday practices and interactions the authors illustrate how asylum seekers are often produced as suspicious subjects by the very systems to which they appeal for protection Contributors Ilil Benjamin Carol Bohmer Nadia El Shaarawi Bridget M Haas John Beard Haviland Marco Jacquemet Benjamin N Lawrance Rachel Lewis Sara McKinnon Amy Shuman Charles Watters

Security, Insecurity and Migration in Europe Gabriella Lazaridis, 2016-04-01 Having often been framed in terms of security concerns migration issues have simultaneously given rise to issues of insecurity on the one hand security of borders political societal and economic security insecurity in the host country on the other social legal and economic concerns about human security with regard to both EU citizens and migrants entering Europe In terms of state security migration is a core target of increasingly globally networked surveillance capabilities whilst with respect to human security it exposes the gap between the protections that migrants formally enjoy under international law and the realities they experience as they travel and work across different countries Drawing on the latest research from across the EU Security Insecurity and Migration explores the concerns of states with regard to migration and the need to protect the fundamental rights of migrants An interdisciplinary examination of the issues of security and insecurity raised by migration for states their citizens and migrants themselves this book will be of interest to scholars of politics sociology and geography researching migration race and ethnicity human and state security and EU politics and policy

Binaries in Battle Noora Kotilainen, Marja Vuorinen, 2014-10-16 Defining things through binary opposition male female familiar foreign life death forms the base of human thinking Adding moral assessment to logic we often represent binaries even as divisions into good and evil Exclusions based on the division of Us vs Them make their presence felt during any conflict and become crucial in times of war However binary thinking is inherent also in peaceful everyday conversation when politics social issues ethnicities and religious identities are described and debated Binaries in Battle Representations of Division and Conflict is a wide ranging multidisciplinary anthology that presents the fundamental rationale of binary thinking from many different angles The evidence is drawn from cases ranging from historical to contemporary and near future covering both wartime and peacetime conflicts The writers apply a wide variety of methods including linguistics visual semiotics ethnography and leadership and organisational analysis Seemingly unconnected topics such as humanitarianism and warfare or death and tourism appear strangely connected and the relevance of speed to cyber warfare is revealed to contain a paradox Mass immigration is observed from several mutually exclusive angles to provide a 360 degree view Despite its multifaceted baselines the book provides a solid understanding of the manifestations of binary thinking By deconstructing ideological discourses it dispels black and white imageries replacing them with softer shades of grey

Cultures of Migration Jeffrey H. Cohen, Ibrahim Sirkeci, 2011-09-01 Around the globe people leave their homes to better themselves to satisfy needs and to care for their families They also migrate to escape undesirable conditions ranging from a lack of economic opportunities to violent conflicts at home or in the community Most studies of migration have analyzed the topic at either the macro level of national and global economic and political forces or the micro level of the psychology of individual migrants Few studies have examined the culture of migration that is the cultural beliefs and social patterns that influence people to move Cultures of Migration combines anthropological and geographical sensibilities as well as sociological and economic models to explore the household level decision making process that prompts migration The authors draw their examples not only from their previous studies of Mexican Oaxacans and Turkish Kurds but also from migrants from Europe sub Saharan Africa the Pacific and many parts of Asia They examine social economic and political factors that can induce a household to decide to send members abroad along with the cultural beliefs and traditions that can limit migration The authors look at both transnational and internal migrations and at shorter and longer term stays in the receiving location They also consider the effect that migration has on those who remain behind The authors culture of migration model adds an important new dimension to our understanding of the cultural beliefs and social patterns associated with migration and will help specialists better respond to increasing human mobility Borders and Mobility in Turkey Shoshana Fine, 2017-11-27 In the last two decades Turkey has witnessed a variety of bordering interventions rooted in its problematisation as variously transit destination European Muslim and safe This book brings into focus seemingly disparate actors involved in such interventions from the EU and international organisations to missionaries security professionals and migrants themselves It exposes how these actors depend upon the intersecting rationalities of managerialism securitisation humanitarianism and orientalism to control contain process save and soul lift mobile populations

These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
