Fundamentals of Experimental Design

What is measured during a controlled experiment?

Why?

Working in the science lab can be a lot of fun. Mixing random chemicals and burning stuff just to see what happens can be entertaining (and possibly dangerous), but it doesn't lead to anything helpful to the scientific community. In order to be helpful to the community, a researcher's work in the lab must be systematic. A researcher usually asks a question and then designs an experiment to investigate that question. In this activity you will identify different types of variables that will help you design controlled experiments.
