The Architect's Studio Companion Edward Allen,Joseph Iano,2006-11-28 The architect s favorite handbook more informative and easier to use than ever The Architect s Studio Companion is the laborsaving design resource that architects and builders have relied on for years Now in its fourth edition this industry standard continues its reputation as a reliable tool for the preliminary selecting configuring and sizing of the structural mechanical and egress systems of a building Bestselling authors Edward Allen and Joseph Iano reduce complex engineering and building code information to simple approximations that enable the designer to lay out the fundamental systems of a building in a matter of minutes and get on with the design Now in a flex binding that makes it even easier to use The Architect s Studio Companion Fourth Edition provides quick access to reliable rules of thumb that offer vital help for selecting configuring and sizing Structural systems Heating cooling and electrical systems Egress provisions including exit stairways parking garages and parking lots Daylight provisions The book concludes with precalculated tables of building code height and area limitations

The Ecologies of the Building Envelope Alejandro Zaera-Polo, Jeffrey Anderson, 2021-05-11 The Ecologies of the Envelope theorizes the building envelope as a literal embodiment of the social political technological and economic contingencies which have become embedded within it over the last century analyzing the historical lineages heroes and villains that helped define the complex material ecologies we see within the envelope today While the facade is one of the most thoroughly theorized elements of architecture it is also one of the most questioned since the end of the 19th century Within the discipline of architecture the traditional understanding of the facade focuses primarily on semiotic and compositional operations such as proportional laws and linguistic codes which are deployed on the building's surface In contrast to this our material and environmental theory of the envelope proposes that the exponential development of building technologies since the mid 19th century coupled with new techniques of management and regulation have diminished the compositional and ornamental capacities of the envelope in favor of material quantitative and technical performances Rather than producing a stylistic analysis of the facade we investigate the historical lineages of the performances components assembly types and material entanglements that constitute the contemporary building envelope

Residential Construction Academy Stephen L. Herman, 2002-11-18 Part of the Residential Construction Academy series Electrical Principles bridges the gap between theory books that include topics that electricians do not need to know e.g. resonance and devices and books for electricians that try to cover all the theory in one chapter Instead through the use of a lively writing style and frequent examples Stephen Herman expands on the important topics that residential electricians need so that students have time to fully grasp the concepts they'll need on the job This text focuses on the theory that a residential wireman needs and it includes important safety and OSHA information Create a direct link between your education training program and the residential construction industry Training materials are now available for many of the residential crafts based on skill standards developed by the nation's leading builders and educators The result of a strategic partnership between the National Association of Home Builders Home Builders Institute and Delmar Learning the Residential Construction Academy Series is the perfect way to teach essential workplace skills to people new to the building trades Ideal for use in vocational programs workforce development programs professional associations and trade unions all materials are based on industry standards The Residential Construction Academy also offers credentialing for programs using the skill standards and materials along with a national registry of students who have successfully completed participating programs The goal is a workforce that is skilled knowledgeable and able to meet the needs of the industry today and well into the future
