Landforms of Western Canada Olav Slaymaker,2016-12-01 This is the only book to focus on the geomorphological landscapes of Canada West It outlines the little appreciated diversity of Canada s landscapes and the nature of the geomorphological landscape which deserves wider publicity Three of the most important geomorphological facts related to Canada are that 90% of its total area emerged from ice sheet cover relatively recently from a geological perspective permafrost underlies

50% of its landmass and the country enjoys the benefits of having three oceans as its borders the Arctic Pacific and Atlantic oceans Canada West is a land of extreme contrasts from the rugged Cordillera to the wide open spaces of the Prairies from the humid west coast forests to the semi desert in the interior of British Columbia and from the vast Mackenzie river system of the to small steep cascading streams on Vancouver Island The thickest Canadian permafrost is found in the Yukon and extensive areas of the Cordillera are underlain by sporadic permafrost side by side with the never glaciated plateaus of the Yukon One of the curiosities of Canada West is the presence of volcanic landforms extruded through the ice cover of the late Pleistocene and Holocene epochs which have also left a strong imprint on the landscape The Mackenzie and Fraser deltas provide the contrast of large river deltas debouching respectively into the Arctic and Pacific oceans

Landscapes and Landforms of the Horn of Africa Paolo Billi, 2022-09-30 This book focuses on regions for which until now the geomorphology was very poorly studied and relatively unknown Nevertheless the landforms and landscapes of the Horn of Africa are highly attractive diverse and in a few cases unique since they span very different environments from highland plateaus and mountains to lowlands even below sea level and coastlines with a high degree of diversity and from monsoon to arid climate conditions The main topics addressed in the book include the links between the geological evolution and the current large scale geomorphology of the Horn of Africa the large differences between the highlands and lowlands climate river hydrology and their variation through time within a climate change perspective This part of the world was home of the very first hominids The landscape in which they lived and evolved throughout the Pleistocene is described in comparison with the arid and inhospitable though immensely scenic environment of today Perennial and ephemeral rivers with very different morphology processes and hydrology drain the area and in combination with the past and recent uplift substantially contributed to provide the region with peculiar landscapes and landforms Long lasting weathering and erosion processes result in a typical inselberg landscape such as the Bur region or the currently exposed flatland of old peneplain surfaces Their changes through time induced by both natural and anthropogenic factors are addressed by a couple of case studies Though the region has few inhabitants they had to struggle to find their livelihood in a land that offers poor resources This resulted in landscape change and land degradation Examples of human impact on the landscape are presented at different scales This book provides readers interested in geography and geomorphology with essential scientific and educational information on the Landscapes and Landforms of Eritrea Djibouti and Somalia through simple though scientifically rigorous texts illustrated with several color maps and photos One main prerogative of this book is therefore to give an insight into a region of the world where for geographical and historical constraints geomorphological investigation was very limited thus enriching its intrinsic informative value
