Antarctic Journal of the United States, 1974 Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States. Patent Office, 1961 Critical Mineral Resources of the United States K. J. Schulz, John H. DeYoung, Robert R. Seal, Dwight C. Bradley, 2017 As the importance and dependence of specific mineral commodities increase so does concern about their supply The United States is currently 100 percent reliant on foreign sources for 20 mineral commodities and imports the majority of its supply of more than 50 mineral commodities Mineral commodities that have important uses and face potential supply disruption are critical to American economic and national security However a mineral commodity's importance and the nature of its supply chain can change with time a mineral commodity that may not have been considered critical 25 years ago may be critical today and one considered critical today may not be so in the future The U S Geological Survey has produced this volume to describe a select group of mineral commodities currently critical to our economy and security For each mineral commodity covered the authors provide a comprehensive look at 1 the commodity's use 2 the geology and global distribution of the mineral deposit types that account for the present and possible future supply of the commodity 3 the current status of production reserves and resources in the United States and globally and 4 environmental considerations related to the commodity's production from different types of mineral deposits The volume describes U S critical mineral resources in a global context for no country can be self sufficient for all its mineral commodity needs and the United States will always rely on global mineral commodity supply chains This volume provides the scientific understanding of critical mineral resources required for informed decisionmaking by those responsible for ensuring that the United States has a secure and sustainable supply of mineral commodities Archaeology of the Ionian Sea Christina

Souyoudzoglou-Haywood, Christina Papoulia, 2021-12-22 Presents a thematic collection of papers dealing with the Stone Age and Bronze Age archaeology of the Ionian Sea situated off the south western Balkan peninsula It is based on an international conference held in Athens Greece in January 2020 The eastern Ionian occupies a geographically complex area which since the Pleistocene has undergone significant alterations due to tectonic activity and sea level fluctuations This dynamic environment where islands mainland and sea intertwined to present different landscapes and seascapes to the human communities exploring the region at different times in the past provides an ideal setting for their study from a diachronic perspective This book deals thematically with the processes of circulation of people materials artefacts and ideas by examining patterns of settlement burial and multi layered interconnections between the different communities via land and sea It investigates aspects of regional and interregional communication isolation collective memory and the creation of distinct identities within and between different cultural and social groups It focuses on the islands of the Central Ionian Sea offering new data from excavations and surveys on Zakynthos Kefalonia Ithaki and the smaller islands of the Inner Ionian Archipelago between Lefkada and Akarnania The cultural interchange between the islands and the continental coasts is reflected in the volume with the addition of chapters dealing with contemporary sites in west Greece and southeast Italy The Ionian often regarded as at the fringes of the Aegean the Balkan and the central Mediterranean archaeological discourse has lately offered new and exciting data that not only enrich but also alter our perceptions of mobility settlement and interaction The collection of papers in this book enhances theoretical discussions by offering a geographically and culturally comparative approach ranging from the earliest Palaeolithic evidence of human presence in the region to the end of the Bronze Age
